Port Arthur A Historical Narrative:

Port Arthur Aleksandr Stepanov, 1947 Port Arthur, a Historical Narrative Aleksandr Stepanov, 1947 Tombs and Transnational History in Greater China Gotelind Müller, 2022 This collection of case studies is concerned with tombs that testify to transnational history Special attention is given to tombs of Westerners and Russians still extant in Greater China but also to those of some noted Chinese who were involved in transnational history during the 20th century Tombs have a special potential to cast familiar things in a new light They also provide the possibility to counter check received narratives which might have been tailored along certain vested interests and circulated with specific target groups in mind A Socialist Realist History? Kristina Jõekalda, Krista Kodres, Michaela Marek, 2019-06-17 How did the Eastern European and Soviet states write their respective histories of art and architecture during 1940s 1960s The articles address both the Stalinist period and the Khrushchev Thaw when the Marxist Leninist discourse on art history was invented and refined Although this discourse was inevitably Sovietized in a process dictated from Moscow a variety of distinct interpretations emerged from across the Soviet bloc in the light of local traditions cultural politics and decisions of individual authors Even if the new official discourse often left space open for national concerns it also gave rise to a countermovement in response to the aggressive ideologization of art and the preeminence assigned to Socialist Realist aesthetics Historical Fiction Chronologically and Historically Related James Ross Kaye, 1920 Transmedia Narratives for Cultural Heritage Nicole Basaraba, 2022-04-21 Transmedia Narratives for Cultural Heritage focuses on theoretical approaches to the analysis and creative practice of developing non fiction digital transmedia narratives in the rapidly growing cultural heritage sector This book applies a media focused transdisciplinary approach to understand the conventions of emerging digital narrative genres Considering digital media s impact on narrative creation and reception the approach namely remixed transmedia can aid practitioners in creating strategic non fiction narratives for cultural heritage These creations also need to be evaluated and a digital media focused ludonarrative toolkit allows for the critical analysis of the composition and public participation in interactive digital narratives This toolkit is applied and exemplified in genres including virtual museums serious games and interactive documentaries The book also includes a seven phase theoretical framework that can assist future creators and project managers of non fiction transmedia mothership narratives and a methodology based on big data analysis for how to invent new cultural heritage narratives through bottom up remixing that allows for public inclusion Two transnational case studies on the 11 UNESCO World Heritage Australian Convict Sites and the Irish National Famine Way demonstrate the seven phase framework s applicability As many scholars across disciplines are increasingly creating digital narratives on historical topics for public consumption in various forms the theoretical foundations and practical project management framework will be useful for scholars and project teams in the domains of transmedia studies interactive narratives cultural heritage media studies comparative literature and journalism History and Myth in Pictorial Narratives of the Russian

'Patriotic War', 1812-1914 Andrew M. Nedd, 2024-07-08 This book reveals that the visual narrative of the events of the Russian campaign of 1812 was inextricably linked to Russia's search for national identity and helped to form competing definitions of Russianness. No pre-revolutionary military event was more celebrated in Russian literature and art than the Patriotic War of 1812 during which Napoleon advanced his Grand Armée into Russia only to retreat months later in defeat as his army faced starvation and capture during the brutal winter. The works of art that retold the story of 1812 extolled virtues that were represented as inherently Russian: courage, resourcefulness, and unity. Furthermore, these values were increasingly contrasted with those of the foreign invader from the west. While the emphasis is largely on academic painting, this book also explores popular media and memorialization in order to reveal the role that images played in the process of constructing identities in nineteenth-century Russia.

Beleaguered in Peking: The Boxer's War Against the Foreigner Robert Coltman, 2021-05-19 In Beleaguered in Peking: The Boxer's War Against the Foreigner Robert Coltman presents a vivid and immersive narrative that chronicles the tumultuous events of the Boxer Rebellion in China, 1899-1901. With a keen historical lens, Coltman combines meticulous research with a gripping literary style, weaving together personal accounts and broader socio-political contexts. The book adeptly explores the motivations of the Boxers, the response of foreign powers, and the resulting chaos, painting a multifaceted picture of resistance against imperialism and cultural encroachment. Robert Coltman, a renowned historian with a profound interest in early 20th-century conflicts, draws upon his extensive background in Sino-Western relations to illuminate the struggles faced by the Chinese populace during this period. His scholarly endeavors have long been rooted in uncovering marginalized voices in historical narratives, which shapes his empathetic portrayal of the Boxers' fight for nationalism and sovereignty against foreign dominance. I highly recommend Beleaguered in Peking not only to academics and students of history but also to general readers intrigued by the collision of cultures. Coltman's engaging prose and detailed examination make this work an essential addition to any library, providing insights into a pivotal moment in history that continues to resonate in contemporary discussions on colonialism and resistance.

Cultural Landscapes Richard W. Longstreth, 2008 Preservation has traditionally focused on saving prominent buildings of historical or architectural significance. Preserving cultural landscapes, the combined fabric of the natural and man-made environments, is a relatively new and often misunderstood idea among preservationists, but it is of increasing importance. The essays collected in this volume, case studies that include the Little Tokyo neighborhood in Los Angeles, the Cross Bronx Expressway, and a rural island in Puget Sound, underscore how this approach can be fruitfully applied. Together, they make clear that a cultural landscape perspective can be an essential underpinning for all historic preservation projects.

The Postcolonial Historical Novel H. Dalley, 2014-10-17 The Postcolonial Historical Novel is the first systematic work to examine how the historical novel has been transformed by its appropriation in postcolonial writing It proposes new ways to understand literary realism and explores how the relationship between history and fiction plays out in contemporary African and Australasian writing

Private Lives, Public History Anna Clark, 2016-02-01 The past is consumed on a grand scale popularised by television programs enjoyed by reading groups walking groups historical societies and heritage tours and supported by unprecedented digital access to archival records Yet our history has also become the subject of heated political contest and debate In Private Lives Public History historian Anna Clark explores how our personal pasts intersect with broader historical questions and debates Drawing on interviews with Australians from five communities around the country she uncovers how we think about the past in the context of our local and intimate stories and the role history plays in our lives

Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature Kathryn James, 2009-02-10 Knowledge about carnality and its limits provides the agenda for much of the fiction written for adolescent readers today yet there exists little critical engagement with the ways in which it has been represented in the young adult novel in either discursive ideological or rhetorical forms Death Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature is a pioneering study that addresses these methodological and contextual gaps Focusing on texts produced since the late 1980s and drawing on a range of theoretical perspectives Kathryn James shows how representations of death in young adult literature are invariably associated with issues of sexuality gender and power Under particular scrutiny are the trope of woman death the eroticizing and sexualizing of death and the ways in which the gendered subject is represented in dialogue with the processes of death dying and grief Through close readings of historical literature fantasy fictions realistic novels dead narrator tales and texts from genres including Gothic horror and post disaster James reveals not only how cultural discourses influence and are influenced by literary works but how relevant the study of death is to adolescent fiction the literature of becoming
