Portland Review Volume 22:

Senate documents ,1895 Mr. Vilas, from the Committee on the Judiciary, Submitted the Following Report:
[To Accompany H. R. 5836.] ,1895 House documents ,1896 The Engineering Index ,1924 Since its creation in 1884 Engineering Index has covered virtually every major engineering innovation from around the world It serves as the historical record of virtually every major engineering innovation of the 20th century Recent content is a vital resource for current awareness new production information technological forecasting and competitive intelligence The world s most comprehensive interdisciplinary engineering database Engineering Index contains over 10 7 million records Each year over 500 000 new abstracts are added from over 5 000 scholarly journals trade magazines and conference proceedings Coverage spans over 175 engineering disciplines from over 80 countries Updated weekly The Myth of the 'Crime Decline' Justin Kotzé,2019-03-20 The Myth of the Crime Decline seeks to critically interrogate the supposed statistical decline of crime rates thought to have occurred in a number of predominantly Western countries over the past two decades Whilst this trend of declining crime rates seems profound serious questions need to be asked Data sources need to be critically interrogated and context needs to be provided This book seeks to do just that This book examines the wider socio economic and politico cultural context within which this decline in crime is said to have occurred highlighting the changing nature and landscape of crime and its ever deepening resistance to precise measurement By drawing upon original qualitative research and cutting edge criminological theory this book offers an alternative view of the reality of crime and harm In doing so it seeks to reframe the crime decline discourse and provide a more accurate account of this puzzling contemporary phenomenon Additionally utilising a new theoretical framework developed by the author this book begins to explain why the crime decline discourse has been so readily accepted Written in an accessible yet theoretical and informed manner this book is a must read for academics and students in the fields of criminology sociology social policy and the philosophy of social sciences

Human Rights Approaches to Climate Change Sumudu Atapattu,2015-10-16 Despite the clear link between climate change and human rights with the potential for virtually all protected rights to be undermined as a result of climate change its catastrophic impact on human beings was not really understood as a human rights issue until recently This book examines the link between climate change and human rights in a comprehensive manner It looks at human rights approaches to climate change including the jurisprudential bases for human rights and the environment the theoretical framework governing human rights and the environment and the different approaches to this including benchmarks In addition to a discussion of human rights implications of international environmental law principles in the climate change regime the book explores how the human rights framework can be used in relation to mitigation adaption and adjudication Other chapters examine how vulnerable groups women indigenous peoples and climate refugees would be disproportionately affected by climate change The book then goes on to discuss a new category of people created by climate change those who will be rendered stateless as a result of states disappearing and displaced by climate change and whether human rights law can adequately address these emerging issues

Evaluation as a mechanism to foster an equitable society in the Global South Steven Masvaire, Takunda Chirau, Tebogo Fish, Samukelisiwe Mkhize, Candice Morkel, 2025-02-24 This scholarly book is Volume 2 of a duology that seeks to stimulate conversations among development evaluators commissioners of evaluations and development programme decision makers about the role of evaluation in addressing inequality and fostering an equitable society in Africa The book chapters explore the following questions 1 Take stock of what we know about inequality what inequality is in the African context and how does it affect the lives of the citizens of African countries 2 What does equitable evaluation mean How can the concept of equitable evaluation be adopted in evaluation practice 3 What lessons can be learnt from evaluations of interventions that address inequality at various levels sectoral programmatic and project levels 4 What epistemological transformation in evaluation practice is needed to achieve an equitable society and 5 How have issues of inequality manifested within evaluation practice through organisations institutions and international development This book's target audience is academics engaged in the field of developmental programmes in sub Saharan Africa

Mechanisms of Chemical Degradation of Cement-based Systems K.L. Scrivener, J.F. Young, 1997-04-17 Deterioration of cement based materials is a continuing problem as it results in the substantial shortening of the lives of conventional concrete structures The main costs result from poor performance and the need for early repair With more advanced applications where very long service lives are essential such as the storage of nuclear waste

Gothic Antiquity Dale Townshend, 2019-09-26 Gothic Antiquity History Romance and the Architectural Imagination 1760 1840 provides the first sustained scholarly account of the relationship between Gothic architecture and Gothic literature fiction poetry drama in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Although the relationship between literature and architecture is a topic that has long preoccupied scholars of the literary Gothic there remains to date no monograph length study of the intriguing and complex interactions between these two aesthetic forms Equally Gothic literature has received only the most cursory of treatments in art historical accounts of the early Gothic Revival in architecture interiors and design In addressing this gap in contemporary scholarship Gothic Antiquity seeks to situate Gothic writing in relation to the Gothic architectural theories aesthetics and practices with which it was contemporary providing closely historicized readings of a wide selection of canonical and lesser known texts and writers Correspondingly it shows how these architectural debates responded to and were to a certain extent shaped by what we have since come to identify as the literary Gothic mode In both its survivalist and revivalist forms the architecture of the Middle Ages in the long eighteenth century was always much more than a matter of style Incarnating for better or for worse the memory of a vanished Gothic age in the modern enlightened present Gothic architecture be it ruined or complete prompted imaginative reconstructions of the nation s past a notable visionary turn as the antiquary John Pinkerton put it in 1788 in which Gothic writers architects and antiquaries enthusiastically participated The volume establishes a series of dialogues between Gothic literature architectural history and the antiquarian interest in the material remains of the Gothic past and argues that these discrete yet intimately related approaches to vernacular antiquity are most fruitfully read in relation to one another
