Ann Hawkes Hutton,Emanuel Gottlieb LEUTZE,1959 The National Portrait Gallery of Distinguished Americans James Herring,James Barton Longacre,1854 Flagging Patriotism Ella Shohat,Robert Stam,2013-10-18 The question Why do they hate us is one of the most oft cited puzzles of contemporary American affairs yet it s not clear to whom they or us refers nor even what hate means In this bold new work Ella Shohat and Robert Stam take apart the hate discourse of right wing politics placing it in an international context How for example do other nations love themselves and how is that love connected to their attitudes toward America Is love of country monogamous or can one love many countries When can a country s self love be a symptom of self hatred Drawing upon their extensive experience with South American European and Middle Eastern societies the authors have written a long engagement with a problem that refuses to go away Flagging Patriotism considers these complex features of being patriotic and in so doing insists that the idea of patriotism instead of being rejected or embraced be accorded the complex identity it possesses Patriotism and Poetry in Eighteenth-Century Britain Dustin Griffin,2005-11-17 The poetry of the mid and late eighteenth century has long been regarded as primarily private and apolitical in this wide ranging study Dustin Griffin argues that in fact the poets of the period were addressing the great issues of national life rebellion at home imperial wars abroad an expanding commercial empire an emerging new British national identity Taking up the topic of patriotic verse Griffin shows that poets such as Thomas Gray Christopher Smart Oliver Goldsmith and William Cowper were engaged in the century long debate about the nature of true patriotism

At Home in the World Donald Capps, 2013-01-28 The emotional separation of boys from their mothers in early childhood enables them to connect with their fathers and their fathers world But this separation also produces a melancholic reaction of sadness and sense of loss Certain religious sensibilities develop out of this melancholic reaction including a sense of honor a sense of hope and a sense of humor Realizing that they cannot return to their original maternal environment men whether knowingly or not embark on a lifelong search for a sense of being at home in the world At Home in the World focuses on works of art as a means to explore the formation and continuing expression of men's melancholy selves and their religious sensibilities These explorations include such topics as male viewers mixed feelings toward the maternal figure physical settings that offer alternatives to the maternal environment and the maternal resonances of the world of nature By presenting images of the natural world as the locus of peace and contentment At Home in the World especially reflects of the religious sensibility of hope

Representing the Royal Navy Margarette Lincoln, 2017-05-15 From the mid 18th century up till after memories of the Napoleonic wars and the glories of Nelson's navy had faded the Royal Navy was the bulwark of Britain's defence and the safeguard of trade and imperial expansion While there have been political and military histories of the Navy in this period looking at battles and personalities and studies of its administration and the life

below decks this book is the first study of the Navy in a cultural context exploring contemporary attitudes to war and peace and to ideologies of race and gender As well as literary sources Dr Lincoln draws on the vast collections of the National Maritime Museum in paintings cartoons and ceramics amongst others to focus attention on material that has hitherto been little used even research into the general culture of the late Georgian age has curiously neglected perceptions of the Navy which was one of its major institutions Individual chapters discuss the attitudes of particular groups towards the Navy merchants politicians churchmen women scientists and the seamen themselves and how these attitudes changed over the course of the period
