Portraits Along The River:

Ghosts along the Mississippi River Alan Brown, 2011-09-01 Some of the nation's most compelling ghost stories owe their origin to The Father of Waters. Ghosts along the Mississippi River is the first book-length collection of ghost tales from the small towns and bustling cities that have grown up along its banks. The states represented in this book include Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Tennessee, and Wisconsin. Unlike most collections of true ghost stories, Ghosts along the Mississippi River draws from the folk traditions of the northern and the southern United States. These tales are populated with Federal and Confederate soldiers, Native Americans, wealthy entrepreneurs, actors, college students, hotel owners, preachers, slaves, and planters. According to some paranormal investigators, the large number of ghost stories from the Mississippi's river towns and from watery sites all over the world are proof that large bodies of water are conductors of psychic energy. Granted, no concrete proof exists that there is a definite connection between the river and any actual ghosts or spiritual phenomena. What is indisputable though is the fact that the ghost stories included in Ghosts along the Mississippi River are an invaluable record of the values, dreams, fears, and lives of the people who have called the river home. Medway Samuel Ireland, 1793 Hudson River School Visions Sanford Robinson Gifford, 2003 Sanford Gifford, American, 1823-1880, a leading Hudson River School landscape painter and a founder of The Metropolitan Museum of Art, was so esteemed by the New York art world that at his untimely death the Museum mounted a show of his work, the first monographic exhibition accorded any artist, and published a Memorial Catalogue that for nearly a century remained the principal source on his oeuvre. Gifford's art, which was inspired by the work of Thomas Cole, the founder of the Hudson River School, and by that of British artist J. M. W. Turner, and enriched by his travels in Europe from 1855 to 1857 and from 1868 to 1869, came to be called "air painting" for he made the ambient light of each scene color-saturated and atmospherically potent, the key to its expression. His approach to painting and his unique style gave rise to a highly distinctive body of work with an enchanting and mesmerizing effect. This publication examines seventy paintings by the artist and includes comparative illustrations of related works by Gifford, his Hudson River School mentors and colleagues, and those painters, in addition to Cole and Turner, who exerted influence on his art, including Frederic Edwin Church and John F. Kensett. The essays discuss Gifford's place in the Hudson River School, his numerous Catskill Mountain subjects, his experiences and perceptions as a traveler both at home and abroad, and the variety of his patrons.
