Portraits Of Justice:

Portraits of Justice Trina E. Gray, 2003 This volume profiles all the people who have served as Wisconsin Supreme Court justices and includes an introduction by Chief Justice Shirley Abrahamson summarizing the court's history and its vision for the future

Portraits of Everyday Literacy for Social Justice Susan Jones, 2018-05-07 Based on an ethnographic study involving three families who live on a Midlands council housing estate this book presents portraits of everyday lives and the literacy practices that are part of them as a way to explore the complex relationship between literacy and social justice Each portrait focuses on a different aspect of literacy in everyday life drawing on perspectives offered by the long and diverse tradition of literacy studies each is followed by discussion of a different way of looking at literacy and what this means for social justice The lens of literacy allows us to see the challenges faced by many families and communities as a result of social policy and how a narrow view of literacy is often implicated within these challenges It also illustrates the ways in which literacy practices are powerful resources in the creative and collaborative navigation of everyday lives Arguing for the importance of looking carefully at everyday literacy in order to understand the intertwining factors that threaten justice this book positions literary research and education as central to the struggle for wider social change It will be of interest and value to researchers educators and students of literacy for social justice

Portraits of Racial Justice Robert Shetterly, 2021-09-21 A vivid portrait collection of past and present Americans speaking truth to power The first volume of Robert Shetterly's Americans Who Tell the Truth portrait series Portraits of Racial Justice takes a multimedia interdisciplinary approach blending art and history with today's issues concerning social environmental and economic fairness Shetterly's paintings as well as profiles of those portrayed illuminate a community of people not only willing to recognize the shortcomings of America's history but most importantly individuals who offer their visions of a better world moving forward Starting with Michelle Alexander and ending with Dave Zirin the diverse array of fifty full color portraits spans multiple generations and struggles This volume also includes four original opening essays on racial justice in the United States by Ai-jen Poo Dave Zirin Sherri Mitchell and Rev Lennox Yearwood Jr which provide an intersectional response to the long term goal of diversity and inclusion As Shetterly says without activism hope is merely sentimental Portraits of Racial Justice Shetterly's homage to transformative game changers and status quo fighters provides the inspiration necessary to spark social change

Marketing Global Justice Christine Schwöbel-Patel, 2021-05-06 Marketing Global Justice is a critical study of efforts to sell global justice The book offers a new reading of the rise of international criminal law as the dominant institutional expression of global justice linking it to the rise of branding The political economy analysis employed highlights that a global elite benefit from marketised global justice whilst those who tend to be the faces of global injustice particularly victims of conflict are instrumentalised and ultimately commodified The book is an invitation to critically consider the predominance of market values in global justice suggesting an occupying of global justice as an avenue for
