Revolutionary Soviet Film Posters:

Revolutionary Soviet Film Posters Mildred Constantine, Alan Fern, 1974      Revolutionary soviet film-posters Mildred Constantine, 1972      Revolutionary Soviet Film Posters Mildred Constantine, Alan Maxwell Fern, 1974      Revolutionary Soviet Film Posters Mildred Constantine, Alan Maxwell Fern, 1974      Historical Dictionary of Russian and Soviet Cinema Peter Rollberg, 2016-07-20 Russian and Soviet cinema occupies a unique place in the history of world cinema. Legendary filmmakers such as Sergei Eisenstein, Vsevolod Pudovkin, Dziga Vertov, Andrei Tarkovsky, and Sergei Paradjanov have created oeuvres that are being screened and studied all over the world. The Soviet film industry was different from others because its main criterion of success was not profit but the ideological and aesthetic effect on the viewer. Another important feature is Soviet cinema's multinational Eurasian character, while Russian cinema was the largest. Other national cinemas such as Georgian, Kazakh, and Ukrainian played a decisive role for Soviet cinema as a whole. The Historical Dictionary of Russian and Soviet Cinema provides a rich tapestry of factual information together with detailed critical assessments of individual artistic accomplishments. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Russian and Soviet Cinema contains a chronology, an introduction, and a bibliography. The dictionary section has over 600 cross-referenced entries on directors, performers, cinematographers, composers, designers, producers, and studios. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Russian and Soviet Cinema.      The Politics of the Soviet Cinema 1917-1929 Richard Taylor, 2008-10-30 The book provides an illuminating background of the political history of the Soviet cinema in the twenties.      The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917-1921 Jonathan Smele, 2006-04-15 The Russian Revolution and Civil War in the years 1917 to 1921 is one of the most widely studied periods in history. It is also somewhat inevitably one that has generated a huge flow of literature in the decades that have passed since the events themselves. However, until now, historians of the revolution have had no dedicated bibliography of the period and little claim to bibliographical control over the literature. The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917-1921 offers for the first time a comprehensive bibliographical guide to this crucial and fascinating period of history. The Bibliography focuses on the key years of 1917 to 1921, starting with the February Revolution of 1917 and concluding with the 10th Party Congress of March 1921, and covers all the key events of the intervening years. As such, it identifies these crucial years as something more than simply the creation of a communist state.      Russia and Eastern Europe, 1789-1985 Raymond Pearson, 1989      The Silent Film Poster Nina Ivanovna Baburina, 2001 Includes a comprehensive introductory essay on the history of the film poster. Presents 161 full-page color posters. Includes biographies of the designers featured. The film poster, the youngest in the poster family, inherited many generic features of the commercial advertisement: the drive and energy and the abundance of information. However, it was necessary for the film poster to distinguish itself from the collage of advertisements as an announcement of a motion picture. Its artistic design had to imply the most characteristic and easily recognizable features of the film what impressed the audience most the very idea of the motion picture This intriguing volume is based on silent film posters from the Russian collections Full page reproductions of 161 Russian silent film posters are presented here in chronological order from the very beginning of the 20th century until the 1930s Meggs' History of Graphic Design Philip B. translations of Pudovkin's writings The Pudovkin Collection Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01 In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910-40 in Cuba 1959-89 and in Nicaragua 1979-90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement's artistic project by whom how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution's attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were In addition the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art ideology and class within a revolutionary process
