Pryor, 1992-05-14 A study of the technological limitations of maritime traffic in the Mediterranean seen in conjunction with the geographical conditions within which it operated Nations Before Nationalism John A. Armstrong, 2017-03-01 In search of an explanation of how a sense of ethnic identity evolves to create the concept of nation Armstrong analyzes Islamic and Christian cultures from antiquity to the nineteenth century He explores the effects of institutions the city imperial polity bureaucratic imperatives of centralization and language divisions on the development of ethnicity Political science furnishes the focus anthropology and sociology provide the conceptual framework and history affords the evidence Originally published 1982 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value A Military History of the Mediterranean Sea, 2018-05-07 The Mediterranean has always attracted the imagination of modern historians as the epicentre of great political entities such as the Egyptians Greeks Romans Arabs Ottomans Venetians and Spanish However it seems that the sea itself was always on the margins of historical inquiry at least until the publication of the famous two volume work by F Braudel in 1949 This collection of essays aims to offer a vertical history of war in the Mediterranean Sea from the early Middle Ages to the early modernity putting the emphasis on the changing face of several different aspects and contexts of war over time Contributors are Stephen Bennett Stathis Birtachas Cornel Bontea Wayne H Bowen Lilia Campana Raffaele D Amato Elina Gugliuzzo Nikolaos Kanellopoulos Savvas Kyriakides Tilemachos Lounghis Alan V Murray Chrysovalantis Papadamou Jacopo Pessina Philip Rance Georgios Theotokis Iason Tzouriadis Ian Wilson and Aysel Yildiz The New Cambridge Medieval History Rosamond McKitterick, 1995 Sample Text Medieval and Middle Eastern Studies in Honor of Aziz Suryal Atiya Sami A. Hanna, 2023-11-13 Vikings in the South Ann Christys, 2015-08-27 In the ninth century Vikings carried out raids on the Christian north and Muslim south of the Iberian peninsula modern Spain and Portugal going on to attack North Africa southern Francia and Italy and perhaps sailing as far as Byzantium A century later Vikings killed a bishop of Santiago de Compostela and harried the coasts of al Andalus Most of the raids after this date were small in scale but several heroes of the Old Norse sagas were said to have raided in the peninsula These Vikings have been only a footnote to the history of the Viking Age Many stories about their activities survive only in elaborate versions written centuries after the event and in Arabic This book reconsiders the Arabic material as part of a dossier that also includes Latin chronicles and charters as well as archaeological and place name evidence Arabic authors and their Latin contemporaries remembered Vikings in Iberia in surprisingly similar ways How they did so sheds light on contemporary responses to Vikings throughout the medieval world Before the Gregorian Reform John Howe, 2016-04-01 Historians typically single out the hundred year period from about 1050 to 1150 as the pivotal moment in the history of the Latin Church for it was then that the Gregorian Reform movement established the ecclesiastical structure that would ensure Rome's dominance throughout the Middle Ages and beyond In Before the Gregorian Reform John Howe challenges this familiar narrative by examining earlier pre Gregorian reform efforts within the Church He finds that they were more extensive and widespread than previously thought and that they actually established a foundation for the subsequent Gregorian Reform movement The low point in the history of Christendom came in the late ninth and early tenth centuries a period when much of Europe was overwhelmed by barbarian raids and widespread civil disorder which left the Church in a state of disarray As Howe shows however the destruction gave rise to creativity Aristocrats and churchmen rebuilt churches and constructed new ones competing against each other so that church building like castle building acquired its own momentum Patrons strove to improve ecclesiastical furnishings liturgy and spirituality Schools were constructed to staff the new churches Moreover Howe shows that these reform efforts paralleled broader economic social and cultural trends in Western Europe including the revival of long distance trade the rise of technology and the emergence of feudal lordship The result was that by the mid eleventh century a wealthy unified better organized better educated more spiritually sensitive Latin Church was assuming a leading place in the broader Christian world Before the Gregorian Reform challenges us to rethink the history of the Church and its place in the broader narrative of European history Compellingly written and generously illustrated it is a book for all medievalists as well as general readers interested in the Middle Ages and Church history A History of Palestine, 634-1099 Moshe Gil, 1997-02-27 Moshe Gil's history of Palestine from the Muslim conquest to the Crusades was the first comprehensive survey of its kind Based on an impressive array of sources the author examines the lives of the Jewish Christian and Muslim communities of Palestine against a background of the political and military events of the period Byzantium in the Ninth Century: Dead or Alive? Leslie Brubaker, 2016-12-05 9th century Byzantium has always been viewed as a mid point between Iconoclasm and the so called Macedonian revival in scholarly terms it is often treated as a dead century The object of these papers is to question such an assumption They present a picture of political and military developments legal and literary innovations artisanal production and religious and liturgical changes from the Anatolian plateau to the Greek speaking areas of Italy that are only now gradually emerging as distinct Investigation of how the 9th century Byzantine world was perceived by outsiders also reveals much about Byzantine success and failure in promoting particular views of itself The chapters here by an international group of scholars embody current research in this field they recover many lost aspects of 9th century Byzantium and shed new light on the Mediterranean world in a transitional century The papers in this volume derive from the 30th Spring Symposium of Byzantine Studies held for the Society for the Promotion of Byzantine Studies at the University of Birmingham in March 1996
