Selected Design Works By Architectural Students Of Tongji University:

Meticulous pondering and creative thinking Tianwei Mo, 2002 Archiprix International Henk van der Veen, 2005
Accompanying DVD ROM includes 60 minute documentary on the 2005 Archiprix International project presentations from 2001 2003 and 2005 exhibition panels and an off line version of the web site Young Interior Architects in Shanghai Yi Chen (architetto.), 2014 The Social Imperative H. Koon Wee, 2021-07-21 This book contains multiple short critiques reflections and manifestos affording each contributing architect and intellectual the time and space to imagine new social paradigms in China Emerging from a tumultuous history of high culture and complex territorial conditions there is nothing straightforward about the social development of China The complexity of the social practices developed by architects and shapers of the built environment can be explained in part by the last three decades of an intensified adoption of the market economy by the Communist Party of China after an equally short three decades of closed door communist control There is no political meltdown like the democratization of the former Communist Bloc but there is a constant managing of discontent and resistance across China At the apex of the many creative and intellectual forces in China architects harbor and give form to many tactics of resistance Unfortunately architects are also the instruments and minds complicit with profit mongering developers and governments pursuing unchecked urbanization degradation of the environment exploitation of the marginalized and the creation of a very inequitable China This book begins with an introduction that defines the forms and tendencies of China's society as it stands today and it positions the work of a small number of architects and intellectuals who are at the forefront of reforming rethinking and even revolutionizing the Chinese society Beneath the veneer of a very successful China that the world readily acknowledges a quiet revolution is taking place within the realms of architecture and the city The social architectural and urban theories documented in this book are organized around the established canons of social actions from mobilizing laboring resisting and mediating to networking controlling rationalizing and aestheticizing This book aims to put the social agenda squarely back in the rapid development of the built environment in China This publication is the culmination of a three year study of social issues in the architecture and cities of China It involved visits to sites undergoing massive change discussions and debates among architects and critics reflections by practitioners about their own work and activists lobbying for social change Supported by the non profit AA Asia the edition of the contents relied heavily on original input and exchanges between architects and theorists committed to China from Asia and beyond Since the 1990s AA Asia remains one of a few unique think tanks committed to the study of architecture and cities in Asia As an advocacy with strong academic roots it seeks to establish the differences across various postcolonial and Asian contexts and recalibrate the role of architecture in a technocratic era dominated by the global economy With Contributions of Robert Adams Lee Ambrozy Yung Ho Chang Chen Ling Jeremy Chia Cui Kai Dong Gong Dong Yugan Mario Gandelsonas Han Tao Andrei Harwell He Jianxiang Hu Yan Hua Li Huang Weiwen Huang Wenjing Jiang Jun Jeffrey Johnson Michael Kokora Kengo Kuma Andrew Lee

Modern China Peter G. Rowe, Seng Kuan, 2002 A study of traditional and modernist attitudes toward architecture in China from the 1840s to the present Built around snatches of discussion overheard in a Beijing design studio this book explores attitudes toward architecture in China since the opening of the Treaty Ports in the 1840s Central to the discussion are the concepts of ti and yong or essence and form Chinese characters that are used to define the proper arrangement of what should be considered modern and essentially Chinese Ti and yong have gone through various transformations for example from Chinese learning for essential principles and Western learning for practical application to socialist essence and cultural form and an almost complete reversal to modern essence and Chinese form The book opens with a discussion of cultural developments in China in response to the forced opening to the West in the mid nineteenth century efforts to reform the Qing dynasty and the Nationalist and Communist regimes It then considers the return of overseas educated Chinese architects and foreign influences on Chinese architecture four architectural orientations toward tradition and modernity in the 1920s and 1930s and the controversy over the use of big roofs and other sinicizing aspects of Chinese architecture in the 1950s The book then moves to the hard economic conditions of the Great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution when architecture was almost abandoned and the beginning of reform and opening up to the outside world in the late 1970s and 1980s Finally it looks at the present socialist market economy and Chinese architecture during the still incomplete process of modernization It closes with a prognosis for the future Building A Revolution Charlie Q.L. Xue, 2005-09-01 Building a Revolution

Chinese Architecture Since 1980 presents a picture of Chinese architecture in transition as the entire economy shifted from being planned and state controlled to being market led The book also examines the national form and Chinese identity the impact of international architecture housing reform and the emergence of architects in private practice Both celebrated and young Chinese architects are portrayed and the notable buildings in the prosperous coastal cities are highlighted Through this book on modern Chinese architecture the reader will appreciate the influence of globalization and modernization on the most populous country in the world Space Syntax Laura Vaughan, John Peponis, Ruth Conroy Dalton, 2025-04-30 Professor Bill Hillier spent most of his career at The Bartlett University College London where he founded and developed with a team of colleagues an original research programme that set the study of architecture on a firm scientific basis His transformational way of thinking about buildings and cities influenced generations of scholars researchers and practitioners within the built environment disciplines and way beyond in fields ranging from archaeology and biology to physics and zoology Space Syntax Selected papers by Bill Hillier provides a canon of works that reflects the progression of Hillier s ideas from the early publications of the 1970s to his most recent work published before his death in 2019 This selection of influential works ranges from his papers on architecture as a professional and research discipline through to his later papers that present a theory of the spatial structure of the city and its social functions By bringing together writing from across his career span of half a century with specially commissioned introductions by a wide range of international experts in the field we are able to contextualise and show the range and evolution of Hillier's key ideas

Computational Science and Its Applications - ICCSA 2025 Workshops Osvaldo Gervasi, Beniamino Murgante, Chiara Garau, Yeliz Karaca, Maria Noelia Faginas Lago, Francesco Scorza, Ana Cristina Braga, 2025-07-05 The fourteen volume set LNCS 15886 15899 constitutes the papers of several workshops which were held in conjunction with the 25th International Conference on Computational Science and Its Applications ICCSA 2025 held in Istanbul Turkey during June 30 July 3 2025 The 362 full papers 37 short papers and 2 PHD showcase included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 1043 submissions In addition the conference consisted of 58 workshops focusing on very topical issues of importance to science technology and society from new mathematical approaches for solving complex computational systems to information and knowledge in the Internet of Things new statistical and optimization methods several Artificial Intelligence approaches sustainability issues smart cities and related technologies

The Complex City: Social and Built Approaches and Methods Caroline Donnellan, 2022-10-31 The Complex City Social and Built Approaches and Methods explores different ways of understanding the city The social city approach proceeds from the ground up it focuses on human interactions shaped by economic and environmental processes The built city method looks through a top down lens examining policy and planning for buildings and infrastructure including utilities and energy networks This volume is different from other city anthologies in that it explores them through their differences by presenting each chapter in one of the two categories While there is invariably an overlap between the two areas they are distinct positions In doing so the book identifies how despite their often adversarial approaches they both belong to the same city As essential components of the city they should not necessarily be resolved as it is in this friction where creativity and innovation happens The Complex City Social and Built Approaches and Methods is concerned about the ideas and solutions that they both offer The book's originality stems from this duality and from its recognition that cities are living organic protean places of opportunity crisis conflict and challenge The chapters demonstrate the complexity of cities as a set of ideas concerning what they engender how they function and why they continue to act as a catalyst for different kinds of human activity They explore issues of socio political import and questions of the city as a physically constructed space The themes are diverse and include the inception of the city as a place of competition to centres of regeneration and urban withdrawal They cover a range of city and urban regions from Athens to Wellington from site specific singular perspectives to comparative assessments The questions they raise include how do we inhabit urban areas how do we make plans for them and how do we at times ignore them entirely

Mass-Customised Cities Tom Verebes, 2015-12-07 What happens when computational design and fabrication technologies ramp up to the urban scale Though these innovative production processes are currently now largely limited to small scale design projects what will happen when they are applied to the vast scale of the 21st century world city Could new technologies enable an important shift away from mass production to increasingly bespoke and custom designed systems The introduction of standardisation and mass production processes in the 20th century saw the industrial city take on a repetitious and homogeneous quality through the duplication of component parts Today non standard bespoke systems hold out the promise of realising a distinctive urbanism characterized by the differentiation of serial production and the variation of simple parts that should lead to a more complex and compelling whole Given the current pace and rate of urbanisation in Asia the mass customization of the city is set to have imminent and far reaching practical consequences for the rest of the developing and developed world
