Thinking and Learning through Children's Literature Miriam G. Martinez,Junko Yokota,Charles Temple,2017-04-18 Much of teachers attention these days is focused on having students read closely to ferret out the author s intended meaning and the devices used to convey that meaning But we cannot forget to guide students to have moving engagements with literature because they need to make strong personal connections to books of merit if they are to become the next generation of readers literate people with awareness of and concern for the diversity of human beings around them and in different times and places Fortunately guiding both students personal engagement with literature and their close reading to appreciate the author s message and craft are not incompatible goals This book enthusiastically and intelligently addresses both imperatives first surveying what is gained when students are immersed in literature then celebrating and explicating the main features of literature students need to understand to broaden their tastes and deepen their engagement at the same time they meet external standards then presenting a host of active methods for exploring all major genres of children s books and finally presenting suggestions for interdisciplinary teaching units grounded in literature Created by noted leaders in the fields of children s literature and literacy the book is enlivened by recurring features such as suggested reading lists issues for discussion links to technology and annotations of exemplary books

Year One in Action

Anna Ephgrave, 2017-03-16 Children are hard wired to learn and they learn best by being active and autonomous exploring discovering creating and taking risks in other words by playing However formal subject specific lessons and a focus on data targets and unrealistic expectations are causing young children to be bored and stressed and this is stifling their learning Year One in Action reveals the remarkable progress children can make when they are allowed to pursue their own interests ideas and challenges in a superb and enabling environment supported by responsive skilled and empathic staff

Demonstrating how a child led approach supports the development of purposeful calm confident and independent children this book offers a unique month by month insight into the workings of a highly successful Year One class It covers all aspects of practice from timetabling adult roles and transitions to the organisation of the classroom and outside area It tracks the events of each month in the year paying close attention to the physical environment and the learning that is taking place Interactions between staff and children are recognised as and exploited as teaching opportunities Throughout the book Anna Ephgrave gives the reasons behind each decision made She also explains what the outcomes have been for the children emphasising that a child led approach with planning in the moment enables rich learning across the curriculum for all children within a meaningful context Key features include over 150 full colour photographs to illustrate practice photocopiable pages of planning sheets record keeping sheets and sample letters to parents examples of individual learning journeys and planning in the moment guidance on what to look for when assessing children s progress advice on risk benefit assessments suggestions for managing transitions and minimising stress The achievements of these children have been remarkable and they have remained the enthusiastic independent happy and unique individuals that they were when they came into Year One Written by a leading consultant teacher this book will inspire teachers to be brave and do what is right for children let them take the lead trust that they want to learn and above all let them play The Poetical Works of Crabbe,
