Zoo Studies Tracy McDonald, Daniel Vandersommers, 2019-06-19 Do both the zoo and the mental hospital induce psychosis as humans are treated as animals and animals are treated as humans How have we looked at animals in the past and how do we look at them today How have zoos presented themselves and their purpose over time In response to the emergence of environmental and animal studies anthropologists sociologists philosophers theorists literature scholars and historians around the world have begun to explore the significance of zoological parks past and present Zoo Studies considers the modern zoo from a range of approaches and disciplines united in a desire to blur the boundaries between human and nonhuman animals The volume begins with an account of the first modern mental hospital La Salpêtrière established in 1656 and the first panoptical zoo the menagerie at Versailles created in 1662 by the same royal architect the final chapter presents a choreographic performance that imagines the Toronto Zoo as a place where the human body can be inspired by animal bodies From beginning to end through interdisciplinary collaboration this volume decentres the human subject and offers alternative ways of thinking about zoos and their inhabitants This collection immerses readers in the lives of animals and their experiences of captivity and asks us to reflect on our own assumptions about both humans and animals An original and groundbreaking work Zoo Studies will change the way readers see nonhuman animals and themselves

Zooland Irus Braverman, 2012-11-28 This book takes a unique stance on a controversial topic zoos Zoos have their ardent supporters and their vocal detractors And while we all have opinions on what zoos do few people consider how they do it Irus Braverman draws on more than seventy interviews conducted with zoo managers and administrators as well as animal activists to offer a glimpse into the otherwise unknown complexities of zooland Zooland begins and ends with the story of Timmy the oldest male gorilla in North America to illustrate the dramatic transformations of zoos since the 1970s Over these decades modern zoos have transformed themselves from places created largely for entertainment to globally connected institutions that emphasize care through conservation and education Zoos naturalize their spaces classify their animals and produce spectacular experiences for their human visitors Zoos name register track and allocate their animals in global databases Zoos both abide by and create laws and industry standards that govern their captive animals Finally zoos intensely govern the reproduction of captive animals carefully calculating the life and death of these animals deciding which of them will be sustained and which will expire Zooland takes readers behind the exhibits into the world of zoo animals and their caretakers And in so doing it turns its gaze back on us to make surprising interconnections between our understandings of the human and the nonhuman

Zoocide Sue Coe, 2018-10-30 The issue of zoos is not about treatment but use not about reform but abolition Zoos often pay lip service to education enrichment and conservation but the cruelty is systemic and follows from the idea of animals as commodities As long as they are property animals will continue to be treated as things with no rights who can be caged bred abused or killed for a zoo's profit and the public's entertainment In Zoocide Sue Coe applies her bold and breathtaking artistic style to confront the institution of zoos exposing them as a form of capitalist cruelty that is enmeshed with the violence of war colonialism and ecological destruction
