This book offers traditional perspectives on shopping and tourism and updates current thinking in relation to experiences and internal and external forces that affect retail change and shopping behaviour. It also examines how technology and changes in travel create new retail spaces, virtual spaces and retailscapes in tourism contexts. The volume provides a global perspective with empirical examples being utilised from many parts of the world in a series of conceptually driven chapters on current issues, opportunities, challenges and paradigms in the relationship between shopping and tourism. Crisis and Contagion Ian McKay, 2023-10-17. Crisis and Contagion is a selection of fourteen interviews conducted by Ian McKay of the Wilson Institute at McMaster University. Interviews with Nancy Fraser, Mike Davis, Mack Penner, Andreas Malm and Merrill Singer explore capitalism's organic crisis and the ways it has made this and future pandemics inevitable. Nora Loreto, Tithi Bhattacharya, Chandrima Chakraborty, Merlin Chowkwanyun and Sanjay Nepal discuss the experiences of ordinary people in the pandemic. J. Michael Ryan, Laura Spinney, Naomi Klein and Noam Chomsky explore the long term effects and likely historical legacy of a pandemic that has changed millions of lives and maybe the trajectory of human civilization. These scholars propose that to understand the impact of Covid 19 we have to understand the conflictual history of capitalism and to ward off future pandemics we need to start building a post capitalist alternative to the disease generating and highly unequal global neoliberal order. As capitalist forces work to shove what we have learned from the Covid 19 pandemic down the memory hole, Crisis and Contagion offers a must read for those wanting to seize this moment of change and revolution.

Scientific Tourism Susan Slocum, Carol Kline, Andrew Holden, 2015-05-15. As researchers in emerging economies, scientists are often the first foreign visitors to stay in remote rural areas and on occasion form joint venture ecotourism and community tourism projects or poverty alleviation schemes between local agencies or NGOs, the local community and their home institution or agency. They therefore can contribute to avenues for the conservation of natural resources and the development of rural communities as well as influencing the future tourism development through its perceived legitimacy and the destination image it promotes. This book for the first time critically reviews tourism debates surrounding this emerging market of scientific and research oriented tourism. It is divided into three inter related sections. Section 1 sets the stage of the discourse of scientific research in tourism. Section 2 evaluates the key players of scientific tourism, looking particularly at the roles of NGOs, government agencies and university academic staff. Section 3 contains case studies documenting the niche of researchers as travelers in a range of geographical locations including Tanzania, Australia, Chile, Peru and Mexico. The title's multidisciplinary approach provides an informed, interesting and stimulating addition to the existing limited literature and raises many issues and associated questions including the role of science tourism in tourism development and expansion, the impacts of scientific and research based tourism, travel behaviors and motivations of researchers, to name but a few. This significant volume will provide the reader with a better understanding of scientists as travelers, their relationship to the tourism industry and the role they play in community development around tourism sites. It will be valuable reading for students and academics across the fields of Tourism Geography and Development Studies as well as other social science disciplines

Staging Tourism Jane Desmond,1999 From Shamu the dancing whale at Sea World to Hawaiian lu au shows Staging Tourism analyzes issues of performance in a wide range of tourist venues Jane C Desmond argues that the public display of bodies how they look what they do where they do it who watches and under what conditions is profoundly important in structuring identity categories of race gender and cultural affiliation These fantastic spectacles of corporeality form the basis of hugely profitable tourist industries which in turn form crucial arenas of public culture where embodied notions of identity are sold enacted and debated Gathering together written accounts postcards photographs advertisements films and oral histories as well as her own interpretations of these displays Desmond gives us a vibrant account of U S tourism in Waikiki from 1900 to the present She then juxtaposes cultural tourism with animal tourism in the United States which takes place at zoos aquariums and animal theme parks In each case Desmond argues the relationship between the viewer and the viewed is ultimately based on concepts of physical difference harking back to the nineteenth century
