Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies, 2017-05-19 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa's literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a disappointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present

Potomac Turning Adwit Pundit,2016-07-30

Potomac Turning is the story of four young individuals who discover themselves as they mature from the shared childhood of three of them in San Antonio Texas and as the fourth joins during their university days in Washington DC These two men and two women who come from different social and racial backgrounds find their lives to become forever linked until the present day Two other young individuals mould into the story as it progresses to Calcutta in the last phase There are overtures even to Latin America There is sexual discovery and experimentation as well as unrequited love Descriptions of a Catholic school in Texas are poignant and reminiscent of possibilities Georgetown in Washington DC which serves as the backdrop as the students mature to young adults is described with intimacy and familiarity The passages about Calcutta where the story moves rapidly towards finality are extremely well written and convey the flavor of that city and its people and the times This is a highly recommended read for lovers of romance in exotic venues Laurent Oliver reviewer Washington DC
