Love Marriage:

Arranging Marriage Marian Aguiar, 2018-01-02 The first critical analysis of contemporary arranged marriage among South Asians in a global context Arranged marriage is an institution of global fascination an object of curiosity revulsion outrage and even envy Marian Aguiar provides the first sustained analysis of arranged marriage as a transnational cultural phenomenon revealing how its meaning has been continuously reinvented within the South Asian diaspora of Britain the United States and Canada Aguiar identifies and analyzes representations of arranged marriage in an interdisciplinary set of texts from literary fiction and Bollywood films to digital and print media to contemporary law and policy on forced marriage Aguiar interprets depictions of South Asian arranged marriage to show we are in a moment of conjugal globalization identifying how narratives about arranged marriage bear upon questions of consent agency state power and national belonging Aguiar argues that these discourses illuminate deep divisions in the processes of globalization constructed on a fault line between individualist and collectivist agency and in the process critiques neoliberal celebrations of culture as choice that attempt to bridge that separation Aguiar advocates situating arranged marriage discourses within their social and material contexts so as to see past reductive notions of culture and grasp the global forces mediating increasingly polarized visions of agency

L. Abeyasekera,2021-03-12 Making the Right Choice unravels the entangled relationship between marriage morality and the desire for modernity as it plays out in the context of middle class status concerns and aspirations for upward social mobility within the Sinhala Buddhist community in urban Sri Lanka By focusing on individual life histories spanning three generations the book illuminates how narratives about a gendered self and narratives about modernity are mutually constituted and intrinsically tied to notions of agency The book uncovers how becoming modern in urban Sri Lanka rather than causing inter generational conflict is a collective aspiration realized through the efforts of bringing up educated and independent women capable of making right choices The consequence of this collective investment is a feminist conundrum agency does not denote the right to choose but the duty to make the right choice hence agency is experienced not as a sense of freedom but rather as a burden of responsibility The God Within Speaks Hazel Sinanan,2013-09 The God Within Speaks is intended

Family Upheaval Mikkel Rytter, 2013-06-01 Pakistani migrant families in Denmark find themselves in a specific ethno national post 9 11 environment where Muslim immigrants are subjected to processes of non recognition exclusion and securitization This ethnographic study explores how why and at what costs notions of relatedness identity and belonging are being renegotiated within local families and transnational kinship networks Each entry point concerns the destructive productive constitution of family life where neglected responsibilities obligations and trust lead not only to broken relationships but also and inevitably to the innovative creation of new ones By connecting the micro politics of the migrant family with the macro politics of the nation state and global conjunctures in general the book argues that securitization and suspicion launched in the name of integration escalate internal community dynamics and processes of family upheaval in unpredicted ways Intimacy in Illegality Flaminia Bartolini, 2021-01-12 How do migrant women living in illegality build intimate relationships How do they experience resist or take advantage of the tight link between intimacy and migration status created by the German migration legislation Drawing on rich biographical accounts and ethnographic methods the book offers an insightful and sensitive look at a mostly unknown aspect of life in illegality Adopting a critical feminist perspective Flaminia Bartolini shows how intimacy should be understood in its intrinsic power dimension and looks critically at the German migration regime and on its effects on migrants lives Marriage and Sacrament Michael G. Pant,2010-11-19 Marriage is not a moral sexual debauchment consented by the society instead it describes an ethical limit of morality in sexual relations beyond which the sexual relations are considered to be illicit or adultery Marriage is a great attempt to keep the society free from sexual debauchment by assigning one man for one lady and one lady for one man Marriage is not a compulsion instead it is a confession done with mutual consent to live a peaceful life devotedly with each other From the point of view of sexual relations marriage is a factor which distinguishes human from animals It is sacred tribute to ancestors It is an indication of family succession or genealogy Marriage is a ritual to provide social as well as legal acceptance to the child in the womb Marriage is an indication of the death of the parents in the form of coming generations as it assures the eternal truth that older one has to end to provide the life and opportunities to the incoming generations For men marriage is in fact performing the moral ritualistic and materialistic duties while for women this is mere the accomplishing of sanctifying rites and following the codes of conduct Marriage is not an agreement done on behalf of a legal contract instead it is a complete dedication free from compulsions Wherever forementioned feelings do not exist in the background of the objectives of marriage there marriage means mere accomplishment of sexual satisfaction and false ego and in this situation marriage is just like a contract which if done by a man with one lady or four ladies is mere sexual debauchment in the point of view of the morals and ethics
