study of the Founding since the publication of Charles Beard's An Economic Interpretation of the Constitution in 1913 Gibson argues that scholarship on the Founding is no longer steered by a single dominant approach or even by a set of questions that control its direction He also examines the challenges posed to Founding scholarship by this diversity and complexity and the possibilities opened by new avenues of inquiry that have recently emerged scholars of the Founding including Louis Hartz Bernard Bailyn Gordon Wood and Garry Wills that best exemplify different schools of interpretation Gibson focuses on six approaches that have dominated the modern study of the Founding Progressive Lockean liberal Republican Scottish Enlightenment multicultural and multiple traditions approaches For each approach he traces its fundamental assumptions revealing deeper ideological and methodological differences between schools of thought that on the surface seem to differ only about the interpretation of historical facts While previous accounts have treated the study of the Founding as the sequential replacement of one paradigm by another Gibson argues that all of these interpretations survive as alternative and still viable approaches each has simultaneously illuminated and masked core truths about the American Founding he renders a balanced account of the current debate over the origins and foundations of the American republic and offers solid footing on the path to understanding the vast literature devoted to this important subject Beyond the Founders Jeffrey L. Pasley, Andrew W. Robertson, David Waldstreicher, 2009-11-04 In pursuit of a more sophisticated and inclusive American history the contributors to Beyond the Founders propose new directions for the study of the political history of the republic before the Civil War In ways formal and informal symbolic and tactile this political world encompassed blacks women entrepreneurs and Native Americans as well as the Adamses Jeffersons and Jacksons all struggling in their own ways to shape the new nation and express their ideas of American democracy Taking inspiration from the new cultural and social histories these political historians show that the early history of the United States was not just the product of a few founding fathers but was also marked by widespread and passionate popular involvement print media more politically potent than that of later eras and political conflicts and influences that crossed lines of race gender and class Contributors John L Brooke The Ohio State University Andrew R L Cayton Miami University Ohio Saul Cornell The Ohio State University Seth Cotlar Willamette University Reeve Huston Duke University Nancy Isenberg University of Tulsa Richard R John University of Illinois at Chicago Albrecht Koschnik Florida State University Rich Newman Rochester Institute of Technology Jeffrey L Pasley University of Missouri Columbia Andrew W Robertson City University of New York William G Shade Lehigh University David Waldstreicher Temple University Rosemarie Zagari George Mason University Recovering Benjamin Franklin James Campbell, 1999 Makers Janet Koplos, Bruce Metcalf, 2010-07-31 Here is the first comprehensive survey of modern craft in the United States Makers follows the development of studio craft objects in fiber clay glass wood and metal from its roots in nineteenth century reform movements to the rich diversity of expression at the end of the twentieth century More than four hundred illustrations complement this chronological exploration of the American craft tradition Keeping as their main focus
