Making Of An Afro American Martin Robison Delany:

The Making Of An Afro-american Dorothy Sterling, 1996-08-22 Decades before Marcus Garvey W E B Du Bois and Malcolm X Martin Robison Delany 1812 1885 proclaimed his pride in being black and demanded not only emancipation but independence for African Americans Grandson of an African prince son of a slave Delany lived a life of singular achievement the first African American explorer to venture into the heart of Africa the publisher editor and writer of one of the first black newspapers in the U S one of the first three blacks admitted to Harvard Medical School the first black to hold field grade rank of U S Army major during the Civil War as well as prominent careers as an author doctor ethnologist orator judge Freedmen s Bureau official and spokesman for black nationalism This assiduously researched biography brings into vivid focus the life and times of Delany whose militant uncompromising voice is as vital today as it was more than a century ago

Making of an Afro-American D. Sterling, The Afro-American Woman Sharon Harley, Rosalyn Terborg-Penn, 1997 Civil rights activists educators writers artists and workers these are the women of The Afro American Woman Struggles and Images an excellent anthology of essays that provides a more accurate image of the Black woman and her place in history and in the cultural development of our society Originally published in 1978 The Afro American Woman includes essays that highlight historical experiences common to Black women The anthology also features essays that focus on early activists Anna J Cooper Nannie Burroughs and Charlotta A Bass This book is a long out of print valuable reference source It was the first written by Black academics which analyzed these women s experiences from a historical and Black nationalist perspective African-American Social Leaders and Activists Jack Rummel, 2014-05-14 Whether abolitionists or slave revolt leaders African American Literature in Transition, 1850-1865: Volume 4, 1850-1865 Teresa Zackodnik, 2021-05-13 The period of 1850 1865 consisted of violent struggle and crisis as the United States underwent the prodigious transition from slaveholding to ostensibly free nation This volume reframes mid century African American literature and challenges our current understandings of both African American and American literature It presents a fluid tradition that includes history science politics economics space and movement the visual and the sonic Black writing was highly conscious of transnational and international politics textual circulation and revolutionary imaginaries Chapters explore how Black literature was being produced and circulated how and why it marked its relation to other literary and expressive traditions what geopolitical imaginaries it facilitated through representation and what technologies including print enabled African Americans to pursue such a complex and ongoing aesthetic and political project We'll Fight It Out Here David Chanoff, Louis W. Sullivan, 2022-10-11 How a coalition of Black health professions schools made health equity a national issue Winner of the Phillis Wheatley Award from the Sons Daughters of the United States Middle Passage Racism in the US health care system has been deliberately undermining Black health care professionals and exacerbating health disparities among Black Americans for centuries These health disparities only became a mainstream issue on the agenda of US health leaders and policy makers because a group of health professions schools at Historically Black Colleges and Universities banded together to fight for health equity We'll Fight It Out Here tells the story of how the Association of Minority Health Professions Schools AMHPS was founded by this coalition and the hard won influence it built in American politics and health care David Chanoff and Louis W Sullivan former secretary of health human services detail how the struggle for equity has been fought in the field of health care where bias and disparities continue to be volatile national issues Chanoff and Sullivan outline the history of Black health care from pre Emancipation to today centering on the work of AMHPS which brought to light health care inequities in 1983 and precipitated virtually all minority health care legislation since then Based on extensive research in the literature as well as more than seventy interviews with the people central to this fight for legislative and policy change We'll Fight It Out Here is the important story of a vital coalition movement virtually unknown until now that changed the national understanding of health inequities The work of this coalition of Black health schools continues both in supporting the training of more doctors and health professionals from minority backgrounds and in advancing issues related to health equity By highlighting these endeavors We'll Fight It Out Here brings attention to a pivotal group in the history of the health equity movement and provides a road map of practical mechanisms that can be used to advance it

Romantic Reformers and the Antislavery Struggle in the Civil War Era Ethan J. Kytte, 2014-08-11 On the cusp of the American Civil War a new generation of reformers including Theodore Parker Frederick Douglass Harriet Beecher Stowe Martin Robison Delany and Thomas Wentworth Higginson took the lead in the antislavery struggle Frustrated by political defeats a more aggressive Slave Power and the inability of early abolitionists like William Lloyd Garrison to rid the nation of slavery the New Romantics crafted fresh often more combative approaches to the peculiar institution Contrary to what many scholars have argued however they did not reject Romantic reform in the process Instead the New Romantics roamed widely through Romantic modes of thought embracing not only the immediatism and perfectionism pioneered by Garrisonians but also new motifs and doctrines including sentimentalism self culture martial heroism Romantic racialism and Manifest Destiny This book tells the story of how antebellum America's most important intellectual current Romanticism shaped the coming and course of the nation's bloodiest and most revolutionary conflict

The Story of Black Military Officers, 1861-1948 Krewasky A. Salter I, 2014-01-10 Black members of the military served in every war conflict and military engagement between 1861 and 1948 Beyond serving only as enlisted soldiers and non commissioned officers many also served as commissioned officers in positions of leadership and authority This book offers the first complete and conclusive work to specifically examine the history of black commissioned officers

Freedom Dreams Robin D. G. Kelley, 2022-08-23 The 20th anniversary edition of Kelley's influential history of 20th century Black radicalism with new reflections on current movements and their impact on the author and a foreword by poet Aja Monet First published in 2002 Freedom Dreams is a staple in the study of the Black radical tradition Unearthing the thrilling history of grassroots movements and renegade intellectuals and artists Kelley recovers the dreams of the future worlds Black radicals struggled to achieve Focusing on the insights of activists from the Revolutionary Action Movement to the insurgent poetics of Aim and Suzanne C saire Kelley chronicles the quest for a homeland the hope that communism offered the politics of surrealism the transformative potential of Black feminism and the long dream of reparations for slavery and Jim Crow In this edition Kelley includes a new introduction reflecting on how movements of the past 20 years have expanded his own vision of freedom to include mutual care disability justice abolition and decolonization and a new epilogue exploring the visionary organizing of today s freedom dreamers This classic history of the power of the Black radical imagination is as timely as when it was first published The Routledge Companion to

We Who Are Dark Tommie Shelby,2009-06-30 We Who Are Dark provides the first extended philosophical defense of black political solidarity Tommie Shelby argues that we can reject a biological idea of race and agree with many criticisms of identity politics yet still view black political solidarity as a needed emancipatory tool In developing his defense of black solidarity he draws on the history of black political thought focusing on the canonical figures of Martin R Delany and W E B Du Bois I Will Wear No Chain! Christopher B. Booker,2000-09-30 This volume traces the social history of African American men from the days of slavery to the present focusing on their achievements their changing image and their role in American society The author places the contemporary issue of Black men s disproportionate involvement with criminal justice within its social and historical context while analyzing the most significant movements aiming to improve the status of Blacks in our society The book s main thesis is that an ever changing yet ever present process of criminalization has entrapped Black men throughout history thus creating a major barrier to their collective development The topics discussed include the role of Blacks in the Civil War Booker T Washington the Civil Rights movement and the Million Man March

Exploring the American Civil War through 50 Historic Treasures Julie L. Holcomb,2021-05-15 Exploring the American Civil War through 50 Historic Treasures brings together historic objects documents artwork and the natural and built environments to tell the full story of this important event in American history The American Civil War still matters It matters because the war its causes and its consequences continue to influence America as a nation At its core the Civil War was about slavery Began as a fight to secure the future of slavery the Civil War resulted instead in the abolition of slavery The complex racial issues at its core however remain with us today Exploring the American Civil War through 50 Historic Treasures begins with the causes of the war examining objects that tell the story of slavery and its expansion in the nineteenth century Cultural treasures representing the war years explore the battlefield and the homefront and the men and women caught up in the war as well the ways in which the scale of the war forced technological innovations Given the centrality of slavery race and emancipation in the story of the Civil War one section presents objects that detail how free and enslaved blacks transformed the war effort and were in turn transformed by the war In the final section the historic treasures trace the ongoing impact of the war including the dramatic increase in the removal of Confederate monuments in the summer of 2020 Each object s story is detailed with color photos that draw readers into the story of the American Civil War Many of these objects appear here in print for the first time The Race for America R. J. Boutelle,2023-09-13 As

Manifest Destiny took hold in the national consciousness what did it mean for African Americans who were excluded from its ambitions for an expanding American empire that would shepherd the Western Hemisphere into a new era of civilization and prosperity R J Boutelle explores how Black intellectuals like Daniel Peterson James McCune Smith Mary Ann Shadd Henry Bibb and Martin Delany engaged this cultural mythology to theorize and practice Black internationalism He uncovers how their strategies for challenging Manifest Destiny s white nationalist ideology and expansionist political agenda constituted a form of disidentification a deconstructing and reassembling of this discourse that marshals Black experiences as racialized subjects to imagine novel geopolitical mythologies and projects to compete with Manifest Destiny Employing Black internationalist hemispheric and diasporic frameworks to examine the emigrationist and solidarity projects that African Americans proposed as alternatives to Manifest Destiny Boutelle attends to sites integral to US aspirations of hemispheric dominion Liberia Nicaragua Canada and Cuba In doing so Boutelle offers a searing history of how internalized fantasies of American exceptionalism burdened the Black geopolitical imagination that encouraged settler colonial and imperialist projects in the Americas and West Africa

Colonization and Its Discontents Beverly C. Tomek, 2012-09-24 Pennsylvania contained the largest concentration of early America's abolitionist leaders and organizations making it a necessary and illustrative stage from which to understand how national conversations about the place of free blacks in early America originated and evolved and importantly the role that colonization supporting the emigration of free and emancipated blacks to Africa played in national and international antislavery movements Beverly C Tomek's meticulous exploration of the archives of the American Colonization Society Pennsylvania's abolitionist societies and colonizationist leaders both black and white enables her to boldly and innovatively demonstrate that in Philadelphia at least the American Colonization Society often worked closely with other antislavery groups to further the goals of the abolitionist movement In Colonization and Its Discontents Tomek brings a much needed examination of the complexity of the colonization movement by describing in depth the difference between those who supported colonization for political and social reasons and those who supported it for religious and humanitarian reasons Finally she puts the black perspective on emigration into the broader picture instead of treating black nationalism as an isolated phenomenon and examines its role in influencing the black abolitionist agenda

The Pen is Ours Jean Fagan Yellin, Cynthia D. Bond, 1991 This bibliography of writing by and about African American women provides a much needed research tool to scholars and researchers in the field The bibliography lists writing by African American women whose earliest publication appeared before 1910 a supplemental bibliography lists writing published as of 1911

Rites of August First Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie, 2007-08 In Rites of August First J R Kerr Ritchie provides the first detailed analysis of the origins nature and consequences of August First Day the most important annual celebration of the emancipation of colonial slavery throughout the British Empire Spanning the Western hemisphere Kerr Ritchie successfully unravels the cultural politics of emancipation celebrations analyzing the social practices informed by public ritual symbol and spectacle designed to elicit feelings of common identity among blacks in the Atlantic world

A History of African-American Leadership John White, Bruce J. Dierenfield, 2014-06-11 The story of black emancipation is one of the most dramatic themes of American history covering racism murder poverty and extreme heroism Figures such as Malcolm X and Martin Luther King are the demigods of the freedom movements both film and household figures This major text explores the African American experience of the twentieth century with particular reference to six outstanding race leaders Their philosophies and strategies for racial advancement are compared and set against the historical framework and constraints within which they functioned The book also examines the grass roots of black protest movements in America paying particular attention to the major civil rights organizations as well as black separatist groups such as the Nation of

Islam William Wells Brown William Wells Brown, 2010-01-25 Born into slavery in Kentucky William Wells Brown 1814-1884 was kept functionally illiterate until after his escape at the age of nineteen Remarkably he became the most widely published and versatile African American writer of the nineteenth century as well as an important leader in the abolitionist and temperance movements Brown wrote extensively as a journalist but was also a pioneer in other literary genres His many groundbreaking works include Clotel the first African American novel The Escape or A Leap for Freedom the first published African American play Three Years in Europe the first African American European travelogue and The Negro in the American Rebellion the first history of African American military service in the Civil War Brown also wrote one of the most important fugitive slave narratives and a striking array of subsequent self narratives so inventively shifting in content form and textual presentation as to place him second only to Frederick Douglass among nineteenth century African American autobiographers Ezra Greenspan has selected the best of Brown's work in a range of fields including fiction drama history politics autobiography and travel The volume opens with an introductory essay that places Brown and his work in a cultural and political context Each chapter begins with a detailed introductory headnote and the contents are closely annotated there is also a selected bibliography This reader offers an introduction to the work of a major African American writer who was engaged in many of the important debates of his time
