Making A Difference Men And Women In The Workplace:

Making a Living, Making a Difference Maria Ågren, 2017 Using innovative digital humanities research yoked to a specially built database of sources Making a Living Making a Difference revises many received opinions about the history of gender and work in Europe through analysis of the micro patterns of early modern life Back cover Women's earnings work patterns partially explain difference between men's and women's earnings. , 2003 Strengthening the Middle Class United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor, 2007 Equal Pay for Equal Work? United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 2009 Making All the Difference Martha Minow, 2016-10-01 Should a court order medical treatment for a severely disabled newborn in the face of the parents refusal to authorize it How does the law apply to a neighborhood that objects to a group home for developmentally disabled people Does equality mean treating everyone the same even if such treatment affects some people adversely Does a state requirement of employee maternity leave serve or violate the commitment to gender equality Martha Minow takes a hard look at the way our legal system functions in dealing with people on the basis of race gender age ethnicity religion and disability Minow confronts a variety of dilemmas of difference resulting from contradictory legal strategies strategies that attempt to correct inequalities by sometimes recognizing and sometimes ignoring differences Exploring the historical sources of ideas about difference she offers challenging alternative ways of conceiving of traits that legal and social institutions have come to regard as different She argues in effect for a constructed jurisprudence based on the ability to recognize and work with perceptible forms of difference Minow is passionately interested in the people different people whose lives are regularly mis shaped and mis directed by the legal system s ways of handling them Drawing on literary and feminist theories and the insights of anthropology and social history she identifies the unstated assumptions that tend to regenerate discrimination through the very reforms that are supposed to eliminate it Education for handicapped children conflicts between job and family responsibilities bilingual education Native American land claims these are among the concrete problems she discusses from a fresh angle of vision Minow firmly rejects the prevailing conception of the self that she believes underlies legal doctrine a self seen as either separate and autonomous or else disabled and incompetent in some way In contrast she regards the self as being realized through connection capable of shaping an identity only in relationship to other people She shifts the focus for problem solving from the different person to the relationships that construct that difference and she proposes an analysis that can turn difference from a basis of stigma and a rationale for unequal treatment into a point of human connection The meanings of many differences can change when people locate and revise their relationships to difference she asserts The student in a wheelchair becomes less different when the building designed without him in mind is altered to permit his access Her book evaluates contemporary legal theories and reformulates legal rights for women children persons with disabilities and others historically identified as different Here is a powerful voice for change speaking to issues that permeate our daily lives and form a central part of the work of law By illuminating the many ways in which people differ from one another this book shows how lawyers political theorist teachers parents students every one of us can make all the difference

Sociology of Organizations Mary Godwyn,Jody Hoffer Gittel,2012 A collection of both classic and contemporary studies of organizations that is designed around competing theoretical frameworks this book examines organizations with attention to structure and objectives interactions among members and among organizations the relationship between the organization and its environment and the social significance or social meaning of the organization

Biology at Work Kingsley Browne,2002 Biology at Work brings an evolutionary perspective to bear on issues of women in the workplace the glass ceiling the gender gap in pay sexual harassment and occupational segregation While acknowledging the role of discrimination and sexist socialization Browne suggests that until we factor real biological differences between men and women into the equation the explanation remains incomplete Browne looks at behavioral differences between men and women as products of different evolutionary pressures facing them throughout human history

Psychology of Women, Work and Well-being Manju Mishra,2023-01-01 Psychology of Women Work and Well being is an edited volume with contributions from eminent academicians and professionals The book aims to present a comprehensive review of the complexities associated with the well being of women in the workplace Recent research has shown that despite having significant success in the workplace women s well being has rapidly decreased Working women face a variety of biases and barriers Problems like workplace discrimination gender stereotypes workplace sexual harassment the gender pay gap and the glass ceiling effect are some of the main gendered issues that deteriorate their well being and this volume deals with them and their nuances The well being of working women across different professions i e women in cinema women in leadership and women in the construction industry has been explored in the chapters The volume also covers the techniques to enhance the well being of working women such as mindfulness social relationship and resilience It covers different aspects of working women s well being and provides significant ideas evidence and related data This volume aims to understand and enhance working women s well being in all sections of society The volume is of interest to the researchers and readers of psychology sociology gender studies and other disciplines

Women and Equality in the Workplace Janet Zollinger Giele,Leslie Stebbins,2003-10-22 An expert guide to women s quest for fairness in the workplace marking the great legal and social advances as well as continuing inequalities Women and Equality in the Workplace A Reference Handbook is an expert overview of the issues of gender equity in the workplace as they have evolved from World War II to the present Focusing primarily on the United States while drawing broad contrasts with nations around the world the book describes the practical impact of laws and social policies developed to combat the many forms of sex discrimination as well as the legal remedies of equal pay law affirmative action and comparable worth Women and Equality in the Workplace also reviews current sociological and economic theories as to why despite the notable progress men continue to have better pay and benefits higher status and more opportunities while working women are still all too often harassed stigmatized and overlooked

Gender and Discourse Ruth Wodak, 1997-10-03 The contributors to this collection offer an essential introduction to the ways in which feminist linguistics and critical discourse analysis have contributed to our understanding of gender and sex By examining how these perspectives have been applied to these concepts the contributors provide both a review of the literature as well as an opportunity to follow the most recent debates in this area Gender and Discourse brings together European American and Australian traditions of research Through an analysis of a range of real data the contributors demonstrate the relevance of these theoretical and methodological insights for gender research in particular and social practice in general

Conceptualising Women's Working Lives Wendy Patton, 2013-04-20 Theoretical work on the career development of women has travelled a journey from critique to creation Early work responded to and criticised a literature that focused on theorising male roles in a workplace that was conceptualised as providing vertical career paths primarily for middle class males More recently theorists are creating new constructions and frameworks to enable a more holistic understanding of career applicable to both women and men These constructions include broadening the discussion from women's careers to women's working lives This is the fifth book in the Sense Publishers Career Development Series It features the vibrant work of contributors from around the world writing in the field of women's working lives It emphasises the need to explore theoretical connections and understandings in order to facilitate a more holistic and inclusive understanding of women's working lives The writers in the current volume acknowledge the changing roles of women in both public and private spheres Women's roles in paid work are changing both in their nature and type of engagement In addition with an ageing population women's roles in care work are increasingly being extended from child care to aged care This book provides a history of theorising about women's careers in addition to presenting a focus on current empirical and theoretical work which contributes to understandings of women's working lives It's contributions both map the current discourse and challenge future work to extend the boundaries of that discourse

Routledge Handbook on Labour in Construction and Human Settlements Edmundo Werna, George Ofori, 2023-12-12 Routledge Handbook on Labour in Construction and Human Settlements presents a detailed and comprehensive examination of the relationship between labour and the built environment and synergises these critical focus areas in innovative ways This unrivalled edited collection of chapters analyses problems and presents possible solutions related to the employment and conditions of workers in the construction industry It provides comprehensive coverage of the relationship between the global workforce and the built environment and is divided into four topical areas how labour and the built environment relate to development employment generation in the built environment quality of employment in the built environment and the impact of the built environment on labour in other sectors Underpinning the entire book is the premise that the way the built environment is produced and its main products buildings cities and towns have an impact on large numbers of workers At the same time the quality of the built environment requires construction workers who are well trained and with good working conditions While cities and towns are the engines of economic growth they will not be able to fulfil their economic potential if poverty in the workforce is not addressed Those who are unemployed underemployed or work in unfavourable conditions cannot fully contribute to production and at the same time are limited in their ability to purchase goods and services therefore limiting economic growth and restricting improvements in their living standards In addition investments in infrastructure housing and inner city redevelopment cannot be sustainable if labour issues i e poverty are not addressed This book aims at analysing this complex set of issues comprehensively and will be essential reading to a wide range of researchers across the interdisciplinary intersections of construction business and management economic development urban studies sociology political science and project management Research on Women's Issues in Transportation, Report of a Conference ,2006 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1908 Bulletin National Society for Vocational Education,1920
