Making Chaplaincy Work Laurel A Burton, 2014-07-10 With compassion and commitment practicing chaplains draw on a wide range of professional experiences and discuss principles themes and guidelines that have enhanced their ministries These practical and successful approaches are aimed at helping others face the daily professional challenges of health care chaplaincy The issues and responsibilities of chaplaincy work with a variety of patient populations AIDS sufferers long term care patients stroke victims and the terminally ill are thoroughly explored Contributors provide creative and innovative methods of meeting the needs of hospital patients and their families as well as health care personnel such as implementing a volunteer clergy program and establishing a surgical reporting plan

Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Larry Van De Creek, 2013-04-03 Does the scientific process belong in pastoral counseling Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No examines the widespread ambivalence among pastoral caregivers and educators over the growing inclusion of science in pastoral care and counseling methodologies Twenty three seasoned professionals in the field give candid and sometimes emotional accounts of their interest in and reservations about the role scientific research plays in their profession Some authors look at the issue from a historical perspective others voice additional concerns A few make concrete proposals on how chaplaincy can become more scientific The result is a unique insight into the relationship between the secular and the religious The question of whether science belongs in pastoral care and counseling is moot pastoral care already makes extensive use of psychological testing and psychotherapeutic skills all products of scientific thinking But as technology becomes more dominant and health care delivery reflects a more corporate perspective pastoral caregivers and educators are divided on whether the changes represent the significant opportunity to improve a ministry or the surrender of the ministry's very essence The essays collected in Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No go a step farther breaking down the issue of faith versus science into more specific questions for pastoral caregivers such as Can what you do be measured Do you have an obligation to embrace the challenge of change Is becoming more scientific a necessity for staying in touch with your health care peers How cost effective is the pastoral care you provide if it doesn't include the scientific process Could a reluctance to incorporate science into your counseling cost you your job Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No presents thoughtful and thought provoking debate that is a must read for all pastoral caregivers and educators

Leadership Paradigms in Chaplaincy Joel Graves, 2007 This dissertation argues that business people clergy lay persons and many chaplains do not understand the leadership and management dynamics of chaplaincy and this lack of knowledge has a direct impact on how chaplaincy is done and not done in certain areas In chaplaincy and many churches leadership management and ministry have a synergistic effect when they come together in response to a problem or crisis An understanding of chaplaincy dynamics scope methods possibilities and issues in relation to this effect is vital to this growing field in four areas

Helps prepare people for ministry as chaplains whether clergy or lay benefits those already in chaplaincy ministry helps clergy reexamine their ministry to determine if they are where God wants them serves to teach everyone including upper level management and senior church leaders of the roles actual or potential that chaplains can fill in response to the growing needs of people
