Dissidence Marie Leduc, 2018-11-20 How the valorization of artistic and political dissidence has contributed to the rise of Chinese contemporary art in the West Interest in Chinese contemporary art increased dramatically in the West shortly after the 1989 Tiananmen Square protests Sparked by political sympathy and the mediatized response to the event Western curators critics and art historians were quick to view the new art as an expression of dissident resistance to the Chinese regime In this book Marie Leduc proposes that this attribution of political dissidence is not only the result of latent Cold War perceptions about China but also indicative of the art world s demand for artistically and politically provocative work a demand that mirrors the valorization of free expression in liberal democracies Focusing on nine Chinese artists Wang Du Wang Keping Huang Yong Ping Yang Jiechang Chen Zhen Yan Pei Ming Shen Yuan Ru Xiaofan and Du Zhenjun who migrated to Paris in and around 1989 Leduc explores how their work was recognized before and after the Tiananmen Square incident Drawing on personal interviews with the artists and curators and through an analysis of important exhibitions events reviews and curatorial texts she demonstrates how these and other Chinese artists have been celebrated both for their artistic dissidence their formal innovations and introduction of new media and concepts and for their political dissidence how their work challenges political values in both China and the West As Leduc concludes the rise of Chinese contemporary art in the West highlights the significance of artistic and political dissidence in the production of contemporary art and the often unrecognized relationship between contemporary art and liberal democracy The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research David Coghlan, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2014-08-11 Action research is a term used to describe a family of related approaches that integrate theory and action with a goal of addressing important organizational community and social issues together with those who experience them It focuses on the creation of areas for collaborative learning and the design enactment and evaluation of liberating actions through combining action and research reflection and action in an ongoing cycle of cogenerative knowledge While the roots of these methodologies go back to the 1940s there has been a dramatic increase in research output and adoption in university curricula over the past decade This is now an area of high popularity among academics and researchers from various fields especially business and organization studies education health care nursing development studies and social and community work The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research brings together the many strands of action research and addresses the interplay between these disciplines by presenting a state of the art overview and comprehensive breakdown of the key tenets and methods of action research as well as detailing the work of key theorists and contributors to action research Meaning Making in Early Childhood Research Jeanne Marie Iorio, Will Parnell, 2017-12-12 Meaning Making in Early Childhood Research asks readers to rethink research in early childhood education through qualitative research practices reflective of arts based pedagogies This collection explores how educators and researchers can move toward practices of meaning making in early childhood education The text s narrative style provides an intimate portrait of engaging in research that challenges assumptions and thinking in a variety of international contexts and each chapter offers a way to engage in meaning making based on the experiences of young children their families and educators Sophie Taeuber-Arp Melanie Baxter, 2020-09-15 A Gallery of Our Own Women of Art
