New Media, Development and Globalization: Making Connections in the Global South Don Slater, 2014-01-15

New media development and globalization are the key terms through which the future is being imagined and performed in governance development initiatives and public and political discourse Yet these authoritative terms have arisen within particular cultural and ideological contexts In using them we risk promoting over generalized and seemingly unchallengeable frameworks for action and knowledge production which can blind us to the complex global patterns and promise of social reality This compelling book forces us to look at these terms afresh Drawing on more than ten years of ethnographic fieldwork in Latin America West Africa and South Asia Don Slater seeks to challenge these terms as voicing specific northern narratives rather than universal truths and to see them from the perspective of southern people and communities who are equally concerned to understand new machines for communication new models of social change and new maps of social connection The central question the book poses is how we can democratize the ways we think and practise new media development and globalization opening these terms to dialogue and challenge within North South relations Rooted in sociological debates New Media Development and Globalization will also be a provocative contribution to media and cultural studies studies of digital culture development studies geography and anthropology

Interpersonal Relationships

Martha Peaslee Levine, 2022-07-27 Relationships are a necessary part of life This has always been true community helped keep us safe as dangerous animals prowled outside our caves We are now even more interconnected with each other What do we know about interpersonal relationships How do we develop the skills to connect with each other Relationships can bring value and meaning to our lives but sometimes they can have negative effects and impair our view of ourselves and others We need to find ways to keep hope even if some relationships have scarred us We need to recognize skills that we can use to form closer relationships in both our professional and personal lives This book examines interpersonal relationships from many different angles It will allow the reader to look at relationships in new ways and perhaps find tools to enhance and deepen connections within their lives

Effective Family Engagement Policies Teresa S. McKay, 2021-09-28. Aligned with the National Association for the Education of Young Children's Principles of Effective Family Engagement, this book helps early childhood administrators create effective family engagement policies that work. For each of the six key principles, this accessible guide walks leaders through the process of creating effective policy to engage families in their program. Filled with workable documents and templates to thoroughly scaffold the entire process, administrators will finish the work ready to implement the policies created or build a plan tailored to their specific program. Designed for schools discouraged by the lack of engagement with all families, this book helps leaders strengthen the bond among home, school, and community.

Media, Technology and Everyday Life in Europe Roger Silverstone, 2017-03-02. The importance of the daily experience of new information and communication technologies is highlighted by this timely volume. The book is based on work carried out in the European Media Technology and Everyday Life Network and is structured around a series of seven empirical case studies drawn from research within Europe. The application of this perspective draws attention not just to the significance of information and communication technologies for a mature understanding of the conduct of everyday life in contemporary Europe but also for the significance of that understanding for the development of communication and information policy. The research makes a significant contribution to our understanding of the dynamics and evolution of a core dimension of European society as well as informing on-going and important debates on the nature of the relationship
