Making Connections Mary Kennedy, Cathy Lubelska, Val Walsh, 1993 Fifteen papers from women in the UK some academics some not are grouped in sections on identities redefining knowledge feminist research and education and feminists in and out of the Academy A recurrent theme is how to work with diversities and to make connections which do not recreate hierarchies or oppressive practices Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Mature Women Students Rosalind Edwards, 2017-09-29 First Published in 1993 At a time when more mature women are encouraged to enter higher education this book investigates the effects that being a student has on women s family and social relationships Taking a multidisciplinary approach Mature Women Students draws on in depth interviews with women of different ethnic backgrounds and social classes all mothers and in long term relationships with a man The result is a comprehensive picture of the shifting patterns of the women s lives at various stages of social science degree level study This picture reveals amongst other things that the public and private spheres of education and family are not separate entities they interact and impinge with particular implications for the position of women within each sphere This accessible and challenging book illuminates an important and growing issue in women s lives and in society Difference In View: Women And Modernism Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 This collection of essays challenges conceptions of high modernism its preoccupation with style at the expense of issues such as race class and gender and its exclusive focus both on predominately male writers poetry and prose fiction by highlighting the diversity of cultural production in the modernist period This book focusses specifically on women s cultural production covering a wide range of arts and genres including chapters on painting theatre and magazines The book investigates how women usually constructed as others themselves construct others in their work in a period prominently concerned with the construction of self as an issue This diversity offers a new format of reading modernism in a cross disciplinary context Gender, Teaching and Research in Higher Education Gillian Howie, Ashley Tauchert, 2019-04-09 Gender Teaching and Research in Higher Education presents new insights and research into contemporary problems practical solutions and the complex roles of teaching and learning in the international academy Drawing together new research from contributors spanning a range of international and interdisciplinary perspectives this book discusses topics of particular importance in the UK USA Australasia and South Africa including curriculum boundary disciplines and research assessments the Higher Education institution educational practice authority and authorization teaching and counselling Discussion of quality audits curriculum modifications teaching certificates and other key topics add to this book s value in informing current debate and providing valuable research aids for education into the 21st Century The Illusions Of Post-Feminism Vicki Coppock, Deena Haydon, Ingrid Richter, 2014-09-03 First Published in 1995 As feminists reflect on the impact of the second wave of feminism and assess the gains of the last thirty years invariably they have questioned whether claims that women have achieved equality are justified In the late 1980s there was a proliferation of popular imagery of new men and post feminist women with the concept of post feminism reinforcing and emphasizing the differences between independent upwardly mobile career orientated women and those women who choose the more natural role of wife and mother The Illusions of Post Feminism New Women Old Myths maintains that post feminism is a myth Through in depth interviews with women about four major areas of their lives education work the media and the family the authors challenge and expose the myths implicit in the concept of post feminism The research illustrates that women s discontent continues despite the assumption that gender equality would result from equal opportunities legislation The chapters highlight the ineffective nature of liberal reformism and demonstrate how power relations still lie at the root of the oppression of women With its provoking and challenging analysis this revealing book breaks the silence of women s real experiences by showing the actuality of women s lives today

Friendly Relations? Pamela Cotterill, 2005-08-16 Power relationships between men and women have been discussed extensively in feminist literature but power relationships between women the significance of in law relationships between women has largely been overlooked There is very little positive imagery surrounding the role of the mother in law Why do myths about interfering mothers in law predominate Why are mother in law relationships seen as fraught with conflict and not expected to go well What gives rise to these ideas how are they maintained and how do they effect family life Friendly Relations examines the popular imagery expressed in mother in law jokes and demonstrates how daughters in law come to hold the balance of power in the relationship and are able to control it in ways not available to mothers in law The book explores how these relationships are supported and maintained within the context of private and public Notions Family Life It Traces The Development Of The Relationship through the life course demonstrating the influence of significant events such as divorce cohabitation grandparenting ageing and widowhood The book tackles areas of private life which are often Difficult To Talk About And Negative Emotions Such As Jealousy And possessiveness However the author refutes the idea that the relationship is always fraught with tension and conflict and examines opportunities for friendship and support in affinal women

Feminist Perspectives on Politics Chris Corrin, 2014-07-10 Feminist Perspectives on Politics considers how feminist perspectives have considerably broadened the scope of what is considered political Themes and issues covered range from nineteenth century debates around women s equality and liberation to twentieth century arguments and activities towards gaining a more nuanced understanding of women s differences and diversity Difference remains a key term in contemporary feminisms and the author examines debates engendered from women s liberation politics to open up discussion of Black feminisms lesbian politics and disabled feminist agendas Formal political participation and the impact of women s movement politics are assessed in global comparisons as are the debates surrounding discourses on development and transnational politics and the influence of women at local national and international levels The book will be essential reading for students at all levels across the fields of Politics Women s Studies Sociology History Cultural Studies Political Economy and Development Studies more generally

Feminist Activism in the 1990s Gabriele Griffin,2005-11-01 Feminist activism is often taught as an historical phenomenon and many students entering courses on women's studies are not familiar with current feminist work in the field. This book documents a wide variety of different forms of feminist activism in the 1990s from organisations such as Rights for Women and Southall Black Sisters to Asian Women's Work in Refuges. It raises questions about the meaning of feminist activism and its interpretation within women's studies and other academic disciplines. The chapters suggest against much current representation within women's studies and elsewhere that feminism is still alive. With a comprehensive introduction providing an historical overview of the development of feminist activism from second wave feminism onwards, this text is intended to be of use as a resource for all students of women's studies and related courses.

The New Politics of Fatherhood Ana Jordan, 2019-07-05. This book makes a unique contribution to contemporary research into masculinities, men's movements and fathers' rights groups. It examines the role of changing masculinities in creating equality and/or reinforcing inequality by analysing diverse men's movements, their politics and the identities they re-construct. Jordan advances a typology for categorising men's movements: feminist, postfeminist and backlash movements, and addresses debates over the construction of masculinity in crisis, arguing that crisis is frequently invoked in problematic ways. These themes are further explored through original analyses of material produced by feminist, postfeminist and backlash men's groups. The main empirical contribution of the book draws on interviews with fathers' rights activists to explore the gendered implications of the new politics of fatherhood. The nuanced examination of fathers' rights perspectives reveals multiple complex narratives of masculinity, fatherhood and gender politics. The cumulative effect of these is at best postfeminist and depoliticising and at worst another vitriolic backlash. The New Politics of Fatherhood expands scholarly understandings of gender, masculinities and social movements in the under-researched UK context and will appeal to readers with interests in these areas.
