The Face Mask In COVID Times Deborah Lupton,Clare Southerton,Marianne Clark,Ash Watson,2021-04-19 The simple fabric face mask is a key agent in the fight against the global spread of COVID 19 However beyond its role as a protective covering against coronavirus infection the face mask is the bearer of powerful symbolic and political power and arouses intense emotions Adopting an international perspective informed by social theory The Face Mask in COVID Times A Sociomaterial Analysis offers an intriguing and original investigation of the social cultural and historical dimensions of face masking as a practice in the age of COVID Rather than Beck s risk society we are now living in a COVID society the long term effects of which have yet to be experienced or imagined Everything has changed The COVID crisis has generated novel forms of sociality and new ways of living and moving through space and time In this new world the face mask has become a significant object positioned as one of the key ways people can protect themselves and others from infection with the coronavirus The face mask is rich with symbolic meaning as well as practical value In the words of theorist Jane Bennett the face mask has acquired a new thing power as it is coming together with human bodies in these times of uncertainty illness and death The role of the face mask in COVID times has been the subject of debate and dissension arousing strong feelings The historical and cultural contexts in which face masks against COVID contagion are worn or not worn are important to consider In some countries such as Japan and other East Asian nations face mask wearing has a long tradition Full or partial facial coverings such as veiling is common practice in regions such as the Middle East In many other countries including most countries in the Global North most people beyond health care workers have little or no experience of face masks They have had to learn how to make sense of face masking as a protective practice and how to incorporate face masks into their everyday practices and routines Face masking practices have become highly political The USA has witnessed protests against face mask wearing that rest on sovereign individualism a notion which is highly specific to the contemporary political climate in that country Face masks have also been worn to make political statements bearing anti racist statements for example but also Trump campaign support Meanwhile celebrities and influencers have sought to advocate for face mask wearing as part of their branding while art makers museums designers and novelty fashion manufacturers have identified the opportunity to profit from this sudden new market Face masks have become a fashion item as well as a medical device both a way of signifying the wearer s individuality and beliefs and their ethical stance in relation to the need to protect their own and others health The Face Mask in COVID Times A Sociomaterial Analysis provides a short and accessible analysis of the sociomaterial dimensions of the face mask in the age of COVID 19 The book presents seven short chapters and an epilogue We bring together sociomaterial theoretical perspectives with compelling examples from public health advice and campaigns anti mask activism as well as popular culture news reports blog posts videos online shopping sites art works to illustrate our theoretical points and use Images to support our analysis Making Masks Vivian Frank,Vivien Frank,Deborah Jaffe,1997
