One Poem in Search of a Translator Eugenia Loffredo, Manuela Perteghella, 2009 Translation is a journey a journey undertaken by the text hopping around the world and mischievously border crossing from one language to another from one culture to another For a translator this journey can become a truly creative engagement with the otherness of the source text an experience of self discovery leading to understanding and enrichment and ultimately towards a new text This singular literary experiment intends to magnify the idiosyncrasy of this translational journey In the process translation reveals itself as an increasingly creative activity rather than simply a linguistic transfer This volume consists of twelve translations of one poem Les Fen tres by the French poet Apollinaire The translators embarking on this project all from different backgrounds and working contexts poets professional translators academics visual artists were asked to engage with the inherent multimodality of this poem inspired by Robert Delaunay's Les Fen tres series of paintings The result is a kaleidoscopic diversity of approaches and final products Each translation is accompanied by self reflective commentary which provides insight into the complex process and experience of translation enticing the reader to join this journey too

The Long Public Life of a Short Private Poem Peter Murphy, 2019-08-27 Meticulously maps the eddies and currents that have defined this vexing poem's vexed history of neglect rediscovery and canonization grippingly unusual Renaissance Quarterly Thomas Wyatt didn't publish They Flee from Me It was written in a notebook maybe abroad maybe even in prison Today it is in countless poetry anthologies How did it survive That is the story Peter Murphy tells in vivid and compelling detail of the accidents of fate that kept a great poem alive across five hundred turbulent years Wyatt's poem becomes an occasion to ask and answer numerous questions about literature culture and history Itself about the passage of time it allows us to consider why anyone would write such a thing in the first place and why anyone would care to read or remember the person who wrote it From the deadly fascinating circles of Henry VIII's court to the contemporary classroom The Long Public Life of a Short Private Poem also introduces us to a series of worlds We meet antiquaries editors publishers anthologizers and critics whose own life stories beckon And we learn how the poem came to be considered after many centuries of neglect a model of the best English has to offer and an ideal object of literary study The result is an exploration of literature in the fine grain of the everyday and its needs in the classroom in society and in the life of nations

Poem-making Myra Cohn Livingston, 1991 Introduces the different kinds of poetry and the mechanics of writing poetry providing an opportunity for the reader to experience the joy of making a poem

To Make a Poem Alberta Turner, 1992-04 A poem comes from the same human need as a prayer a curse a lullaby and a keen How can emotion use language to satisfy its most urgent need and how can it share and prolong that satisfaction by putting it into poems that will satisfy the same need in others The answer can be learned and the skill taught Unlike many other textbooks this one has no teaching manual and Alberta Turner does not expect those who use it to agree with her interpretations Each principle is illustrated with detailed analysis of several poems but it is up to the teachers and students to decide whether it has succeeded or failed Poetic tastes can't be legislated they have to creep by underground runners Although a poem never illustrates only one poetic principle at a time this book has focused on each separately Since the book is intended to be used by beginning poets the principles are sequenced from simpler to more complex As courses in writing
