others engage in secular contexts The multiple perspectives featured represent multiple faiths Muslim Christian Hindu Buddhist Jewish diverse scopes of practice different geographic regions Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one's faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike

Military Chaplains in Afghanistan, Iraq, and Beyond Eric Patterson, 2014-08-07 The role of military chaplains has changed over the past decade as Western militaries have deployed to highly religious environments such as East Africa Afghanistan and Iraq U S military chaplains who are by definition non combatants have been called upon by their war fighting commanders to take on new roles beyond providing religious services to the troops Chaplains are now also required to engage the local citizenry and provide their commanders with assessments of the religious and cultural landscape outside the base and reach out to local civilian clerics in hostile territory in pursuit of peace and understanding In this edited volume practitioners and scholars chronicle the changes that have happened in the field in the twenty first century Using concrete examples this volume takes a critical look at the rapidly changing role of the military chaplain and raises issues critical to U S foreign and national security policy and diplomacy

Living on the Edge of the Edge Ruth Elizabeth Krall, Lisa Schirch, PhD, 2017-06-19 There are several divisive issues that separate Christian from Christian in the current century One issue is the church's management of clergy sexual abuses of children teens and adults A second is the issue of sexual gender orientation and church membership Contemporary Christian denominations often intermingle the divisive issue of clergy and religious leader sexual abusiveness with the equally divisive issue of sexual gender orientation In this book Professors Krall and Schirch disentangle and discuss these two issues They discuss their personal and their professional opinions about ways in which religious and spiritual teaching communities can avoid the institutional perils of abusive clericalism and divisive denominational management practices Throughout the book they apply Anabaptist Mennonite principles of peace making in situations of sexual violation Case studies are provided A feminist hermeneutic is applied Each letter essay is auto ethnographic in style the professional and the personal are deliberately blurred inside a framework of narrative and story Each essay is deeply rooted in its author's academic interests and in her personal life history This book can be a text in graduate and undergraduate classrooms It can also be used in denominational self study programs
