

The background of the entire slide is a photograph of a vast, misty landscape. It features several layers of mountain ranges receding into the distance, creating a sense of depth. In the middle ground, there is a calm body of water, likely a lake or a wide river, which reflects the soft light from the sky. The sky is filled with light, wispy clouds, suggesting a dawn or dusk setting. The overall color palette is muted, with various shades of grey, blue, and white, giving it a serene and atmospheric feel.

Archaeology and History of Heretaunga, New Zealand Mark W. Allen, Ngahiwi Tomoana, Stella August, Wikitoria Moore, 2024-11-12 This book uses M ori Kaupapa a M ori approach practice to provide unique insights toward the anthropological understanding of power and place in Heretaunga New Zealand It examines the power of M ori leaders and ancient and modern archaeological and historical landscapes over the past six centuries It highlights M ori warfare characterized by impressive fortifications known as p Severe impacts of the colonial period are also discussed including demographic calamity changes in settlement pattern and the innovative ways that M ori leaders sought to navigate the last half of the nineteenth century Recent history and modern issues are examined as well particularly the rise of tribal self government Importantly the roles of female leaders are examined for each period This book will be of interest across many disciplines for those interested in conflict and warfare complex pre state level societies colonialism power and women and indigenous adoptions to globalization Oceania Alfred Reginald Radcliffe-Brown, Raymond Firth, Adolphus Peter Elkin, 2010

History of New Zealand George William Rusden, 1883 The History of New Zealand Tom Brooking, 2004-06-30 With its closest neighbor some 1 200 miles away New Zealand is one of the most geographically isolated countries in the world Its remoteness led to its relatively late settlement Brooking traces New Zealand from its earliest Maori settlers to issues in 2003 covering intertribal relations the effects of European contact the challenges of globalization and more The volume includes a timeline of historical events biographical entries of notable people in the history of New Zealand a glossary of Maori terms and a bibliographic essay With its closest neighbor some 1 200 miles away New Zealand is one of the most geographically isolated countries in the world Its remoteness led to its relatively late settlement Brooking traces New Zealand from its earliest Maori settlers to issues in 2003 covering intertribal relations the effects of European contact the challenges of globalization and more The volume includes a timeline of historical events biographical entries of notable people in the history of New Zealand a glossary of Maori terms and a bibliographic essay This concise engagingly written volume is ideal for students and general interest readers seeking information on New Zealand s history A Concise History of New Zealand Philippa Mein Smith, 2012-02-06 New Zealand was the last major landmass other than Antarctica to be settled by humans The story of this rugged and dynamic land is beautifully narrated from its origins in Gondwana some 80 million years ago to the twenty first century Philippa Mein Smith highlights the effects of the country s smallness and isolation from its late settlement by Polynesian voyagers and colonisation by Europeans and the exchanges that made these people Maori and Pakeha to the dramatic struggles over land and recent efforts to manage global forces A Concise History of New Zealand places New Zealand in its global and regional context It unravels key moments the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi the Anzac landing at Gallipoli the sinking of the Rainbow Warrior showing their role as nation building myths and connecting them with the less dramatic forces economic and social that have shaped contemporary New Zealand Settler Anxiety at the Outposts of Empire Kenton Storey, 2016-04-05 Following the Indian Rebellion of 1857 fear of Indigenous uprisings spread across the British Empire and nibbled at the edges of settler societies Publicly admitting to this anxiety however would have gone counter to Victorian notions of racial superiority In Settler Anxiety at the Outposts of Empire Kenton Storey opens a window on this time by comparing newspaper coverage in the 1850s and 1860s in the colonies of New Zealand and Vancouver Island Challenging the idea that there was a decline in the popularity of humanitarianism across the British Empire in the mid nineteenth century he demonstrates how government officials and newspaper editors appropriated humanitarian rhetoric as a flexible political language Whereas humanitarianism had previously been used by Christian evangelists to promote Indigenous rights during this period it became a popular means to justify the expansion of settlers access to land and to promote racial segregation all while insisting on the protection of Indigenous peoples

A History of Global Anglicanism Kevin Ward, 2006-11-23 Anglicanism can be seen as irredeemably English In this book Kevin Ward questions that assumption He explores the character of the African Asian Oceanic Caribbean and Latin American churches which are now a majority in the world wide communion and shows how they are decisively shaping what it means to be Anglican While emphasising the importance of colonialism and neo colonialism for explaining the globalisation of Anglicanism Ward does not focus predominantly on the Churches of Britain and N America nor does he privilege the idea of Anglicanism as an expansion of English Christianity At a time when Anglicanism faces the danger of dissolution Ward explores the historically deep roots of non Western forms of Anglicanism and the importance of the diversity and flexibility which has so far enabled Anglicanism to develop cohesive yet multiform identities around the world

The Shaping of History Judith Binney, 2021-05-07 The writing of history will only flourish if there is a vehicle for its publication such was Sir Keith Sinclair's vision when he founded The New Zealand Journal of History in 1967 Since then the journal has been the conduit for a flow of remarkable history writing The Shaping of History brings together a selection of essays from its first 30 years by some of the nation's best known historians including Judith Binney Tipene O Regan Claudia Orange Barbara Brookes Alan Ward Jock Phillips and Jamie Belich Their sharp analysis and great storytelling make the collection an essential resource for understanding how New Zealand history is shaped

Making Peoples: A History of the New Zealanders From Polynesian James Belich, 2007-05-07 A new paperback reprint of this best selling and ground breaking history When first published in 1996 Making Peoples was hailed as redefining New Zealand history It was undoubtedly the most important work of New Zealand history since Keith Sinclair's classic A History of New Zealand Making Peoples covers the period from first settlement to the end of the nineteenth century Part one covers Polynesian background Maori settlement and pre contact history Part two looks at Maori European relations to 1900 Part three discusses Pakeha colonisation and settlement James Belich's Making Peoples is a major work which reshapes our understanding of New Zealand history challenges traditional views and debunks many myths while also recognising the value of myths as historical forces Many of its assertions are new and controversial and humor as well as scholarship is a watershed in the writing of New Zealand history. In making many new assertions and challenging many historical myths it seeks to reinterpret our approach to the past. Given New Zealand's small population, short history and great isolation, the history of the archipelago has been saddled with a reputation for mundanity. According to James Belich, however, it is just these characteristics that make New Zealand a historian's paradise, a laboratory whose isolation, size and recency is an advantage in which the grand themes of world history are often played out more rapidly, more separately and therefore more discernably than elsewhere. The first of two planned volumes, Making Peoples, begins with the Polynesian settlement and its development into the Maori tribes in the eleventh century. It traces the great encounter between independent Maoridom and expanding Europe from 1642 to 1916, including the foundation of the Pakeha, the neo-Europeans of New Zealand, between the 1830s and the 1880s. It describes the forging of a neo-Polynesia and a neo-Britain and the traumatic interaction between them. The author carefully examines the myths and realities that drove the colonialization process and suggests a new living version of one of the most critical and controversial documents in New Zealand's history, the Treaty of Waitangi, frequently described as New Zealand's Magna Carta. The construction of peoples, Maori and Pakeha, is a recurring theme, the response of each to the great shift from extractive to sustainable economics, their relationship with their Hawaiki ancestors with each other and with myth. Essential reading for anyone interested in New Zealand history and in the history of new societies in general.

The Palgrave Handbook of Global Mormonism R. Gordon Shepherd, A. Gary Shepherd, Ryan T. Cragun, 2020-11-12. This handbook explores contemporary Mormonism within a global context. The authors provide a nuanced picture of a historically American religion in the throes of the same kinds of global change that virtually every conservative faith tradition faces today. They explain where and how the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has penetrated national and cultural boundaries in Latin America, Oceania, Europe, Asia and Africa, as well as in North America beyond the borders of Mormon Utah. They also address numerous concerns within a multinational, multicultural church: What does it mean to be a Latter-day Saint in different world regions? What is the faith's appeal to converts in these places? What are the peculiar problems for members who must manage Mormon identities in conjunction with their different national, cultural and ethnic identities? How are leaders dealing with such issues as the status of women in a patriarchal church, the treatment of LGBTQ members, increasing disaffiliation of young people and decreasing growth rates in North and Latin America while sustaining increasing growth in parts of Asia and Africa?

History of Maori of Nelson and Marlborough Hilary Mitchell, John Mitchell, 2007. Te Ara Hou: The New Society is the second volume in the history of Maori in Nelson and Marlborough. This history details Maori participation in the European settlement society from commitment to Christianity to enthusiasm for commerce and relationships with Europeans. It shows how Maori fared under European institutions, struggled to survive and how Maori culture and language were swamped by assimilation and Anglicisation.
