Philosophy Gone Wild Essays In Environmental Ethics:

Philosophy gone wild, 1990 Philosophy Gone Wild Holmes Rolston, 2010-06-28 Here are fifteen essays written from the late 1960s to the mid 1980s by a pioneering environmental ethicist The collection is divided into four sections ethics and nature values in nature environmental philosophy in practice and nature in experience Rolston's writing often evokes the best of American philosophy of nature He writes with flair and grace The book is good reading because it is good literature Rolston raises unsettling questions and a formidable challenge The agenda is well set F E Bernard Ethics An important book that deserves a wide student readership Highly appropriate for ecology and philosophy courses as well as courses dealing with environmental law and policy making J C Kricher Choice Environmental Ethics Robert Elliot, 1995 This latest addition to the acclaimed Oxford Readings in Philosophy series offers a selection of some of the best articles on ethics and the environment written in the last twenty years Focusing on the philosophical issues underlying this key topic the contributions cover duties to future people resource conservation species and wilderness preservation the relevance of ecology to ethics ecofeminism and the tension between political liberalism and environmentalism Including writings by Baird Callicot Colleen D Clements Mary Midgley John Passmore Holmes Rolston III Mark Sagoff Elliott Sober Mary B Williams Andrew Brennan Freya Matthews Val Plumwood and Richard Routley this accessible and timely book makes a perfect introduction to the main debates in this area The Ethics of Environmental Concern Robin Attfield, 2011-03-15 First published in 1983 The Ethics of Environmental Concern has become a classic in the relatively new field of environmental ethics Examining traditional attitudes toward nature and the degree to which these attitudes enable us to cope with modern ecological problems Robin Attfield looks particularly at the Judeo Christian heritage of belief in humankind's dominion the tradition of stewardship and the more recent belief in progress to determine the extent to which these attitudes underlie ecological problems and how far they embody resources adequate for combating such problems He then examines concerns of applied ethics and considers our obligations to future generations the value of life and the moral standing and significance of nonhumans Simultaneously he offers and defends a theory of moral principles appropriate for dealing with such concerns as pollution scarce natural resources population growth and the conservation and preservation of the environment The second edition includes a new preface and introduction as well as a bibliographic essay and an updated list of references incorporating relevant scholarship since the publication of the first edition Education and Society Joseph I. Zajda, 2001 Education and Society third edition is a completely new edition of this popular text In fifteen wholly new chapters the authors outstanding educators writers and leaders in their particular fields focus on questions which have a highly current relevance for students of education in 2001 and beyond Future teachers for our twenty first century will read chapters which deal with such key issues as education for active citizenship democracy and education social identity conflict and education for peace social class in children's lives reconciliation and multiculturalism Asian values and human rights minority school settings marketing schools gender and ethnicity and achievement Information Technology education and new literacies and issues arising from emerging technology society relations in cyberspace and information technology dependence The new edition of Education and Society third edition complements the excellent selection of chapters in Education and Society and can be used in conjunction with the earlier edition in order to offer students a wide and stimulating introduction and overview to the major issues in the debate over the relationship between the school and the social and economic and political institutions which surround it inc

Minding Creation Joanna Leidenhag, 2020-12-10 Are humans the only creatures that can appreciate God's creation What if consciousness is spread more widely across all things This volume examines panpsychism through the lens of Christian doctrine Minding Creation is the first substantial examination of what a panpsychist theory of consciousness implies for key theological debates concerning God's presence and action evolution and the origin of the soul human uniqueness and the environmental crisis Joanna Leidenhag develops a theological panpsychism that is based on an exceptionally wide range of scholarship Minding Creation draws on the theologies of historical figures such as Augustine of Hippo Gottfried von Leibniz and others in order to create a critical and constructive conversation with contemporary analytic philosophers of mind such as Thomas Nagel Galen Strawson and David J Chalmers Leidenhag also discusses key concepts and issues such as emergence theory divine action and ecology She concludes that God created a universe from nothing which is filled with indwelling powers sacramental value and intrinsic experience This is a creation in which the Holy Spirit is internally present at every point a creation that worships God and a creation that human beings must protect and lead in praise

Critical Realism and the Objective Value of Sustainability Gabriela-Lucia Sabau, 2024-02-29 Critical Realism and the Objective Value of Sustainability contributes to the growing discussion surrounding the concept of sustainability using a critical realist approach within a transdisciplinary theoretical framework to examine how sustainability objectively occurs in the natural world and in society The book develops an ethical theory of sustainability as an objective value rooted not in humans subjective preferences but in the holistic web of relationships interdependencies and obligations existing among living things on Earth a web believed to have maintained life on Earth over the last 3.7 billion years It proposes three pillars of sustainability ethics contentment for the human existence given to us justice beyond distributive justice and meaningful freedom within ecological and moral limits Using abductive reasoning the book infers that there is an out of this world Sustainer behind the Earth's sustainability acting as a metaphysical source of all being and value It argues that sustainability value accepted as a shared understanding of the common good must guide individual decisions and socio-economic development efforts as a matter of deliberate choice as well as be built on the awareness that there are non-negotiable pre-established conditions for our planet's sustainability This book will be of interest to students and scholars across fields of inquiry including sustainability sustainable development environmental philosophy and ethics philosophy of science and ecological economics and to whoever may wonder why seasons exist and why humans have creative minds

The Oxford Handbook of Environmental Ethics Stephen Mark Gardiner, Allen Thompson, 2017 We live during a crucial period of human history on Earth Anthropogenic environmental changes are occurring on global scales at unprecedented rates Despite a long history of environmental intervention never before has the collective impact of human behaviors threatened all of the major bio systems on the planet Decisions we make today will have significant consequences for the basic conditions of all life into the indefinite future What should we do How should we behave In what ways ought we organize and respond The future of the world as we know it depends on our actions today A cutting edge introduction to environmental ethics in a time of dramatic global environmental change this collection contains forty five newly commissioned articles with contributions from well established experts and emerging voices in the field Chapters are arranged in topical sections social contexts history science economics law and the Anthropocene who or what is of value humanity conscious animals living individuals and wild nature the nature of value truth and goodness practical reasons hermeneutics phenomenology and aesthetics how things ought to matter consequences duty and obligation character traits caring for others and the sacred essential concepts responsibility justice gender rights ecological space risk and precaution citizenship future generations and sustainability key issues pollution population energy food water mass extinction technology and ecosystem management climate change mitigation adaptation diplomacy and geoengineering and social change conflict pragmatism sacrifice and action Each chapter explains the role played by central theories ideas issues and concepts in contemporary environmental ethics and their relevance for the challenges of the future Empirical Realism

David K. Clark, 2004-01-01 In Empirical Realism David K Clark asks simply is there a moral structure to the universe His answer takes a rigorous detour through key questions raised by classical philosophy metaphysics epistemology and the philosophy of mind Although the argument favors the moral realist s position that the universe does have a moral structure integral to the quality and direction of human life it also serves to further complicate this issue for moral realism Spirit of the Environment David E Cooper, Joy A Palmer, 2004-06-02 Spirit of the Environment brings spiritual and religious concerns to environmental issues Providing a much needed alternative to exploring human beings relationship to the natural world through the restrictive lenses of science ecology or even morality this book offers a fresh perspective to the field Spirit of the Environment addresses the environmental attitudes of the major religions the relationship between art and nature the Gaia hypothesis the non instrumental values which have inspired environmental concern Contributors range from a variety of disciplines including philosophy comparative religion education and social anthropology providing students with an intriguing survey on the role that spirituality and religion play in nature This is a vital collection for those eager to examine the relationship between the spiritual and the environment The Human Difference Alan Wolfe, 2023-04-28 Are we losing touch with our humanity Yes contends Alan Wolfe in this provocative critique of modern American intellectual life From ecology sociobiology and artificial intelligence to post modernism and the social sciences Wolfe examines the antihumanism underlying many contemporary academic trends Animal rights theorists and ecological extremists too often downplay human capacities Computers are smarter than we are and will soon replace us as the laws of evolution continue to unfold Even the humanities held in sway by imported theories that are explicitly antihumanistic in intention have little place for human beings Against this backdrop Wolfe calls for a return to a moral and humanistic social science one in which the qualities that distinguish us as a species are given full play Tracing the development of modern social theory Wolfe explores the human centered critical thinking of eighteenth and nineteenth century scholars now eclipsed by post modern and scientific theorizing In the work of Durkheim Marx Weber and Mead human beings are placed on the center stage shaping and interpreting the world around them Sociology in particular emerged as a distinct science because the species it presumed to understand was distinct as well Recent intellectual trends in contrast allow little room for the human difference Sociobiology underlines the importance of genetics and mathematically governed evolutionary rules while downplaying the unique cognitive abilities of humans Artificial intelligence heralds the potential superiority of computers to the human mind Post modern theorizing focuses on the interpretation of texts in self referential modes rejecting humanism in any form And mainstream social science using positivist paradigms of human behavior based on the natural sciences develops narrow and arid models of social life Wolfe eloquently makes a case for a new commitment to humanistic social science based on a realistic and creative engagement with modern society A reconstituted social science acknowledging our ability to interpret the world will thrive on a recognition of human difference Nurturing a precious humanism social science can celebrate and further refine our unique capacity to create morality and meaning for ourselves This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1993 Are we losing touch with our humanity Yes contends Alan Wolfe in this provocative critique of modern American intellectual life From ecology sociobiology and artificial intelligence to post modernism and the social sciences Wolfe examines the antihu

Environmental Ethics and Forestry Peter C. List, 2000 Since the mid 1970s American forestry has come under increasingly vigorous scrutiny This reader brings together a variety of thinking in environmental ethics and philosophy as it applies to forestry Radical Ecology Carolyn Merchant, 1992 Examines the major philosophical ethical scientific and economic roots of environmental problems and identifies ways in which radical ecologists can transform science and society in order to sustain life Crisis and Critique: Philosophical Analysis and Current Events Anne Siegetsleitner, Andreas Oberprantacher, Marie-Luisa Frick, Ulrich Metschl, 2021-06-08 Contemporary deep reaching changes whether in financial or real economy in Europe s political conditions in the context of scientific theories in the field of global environmental security or gender relations are also a challenge to philosophy The volume comprises cutting edge scholarly articles from renowned philosophers with various geographical backgrounds and from different philosophical strands Next to investigating general questions as to the relation of philosophy and critique What is philosophical critique and which philosophical concepts of critique are of importance today Where do we need it most Where are its limits the articles focus on issues like theories of democracy and modes of election the roles of emotions in the political realm challenges from a widespread discontent in society to politics and science changes to social identities and different theoretical approaches to social identity formation The book is indispensable for all who are interested in what contemporary philosophy has to say on crucial issues of our time

Codes of Ethics in Tourism David A. Fennell, David Cruise Malloy, 2007-01-01 With ethics fast becoming a mainstay in tourism studies and the tourism industry in general this volume provides a timely and intensive look at the theory and practice of codes of ethics in tourism While the book includes a broad overview of what has been done to date in tourism studies in the area of code development and implementation it ranges much more widely to incorporate theoretical work from outside the tourism field This interdisciplinary approach serves two essential purposes First it furnishes the study of tourism codes of ethics with a theoretical foundation which up to the present has been lacking Second it affords tourism scholars the opportunity to investigate codes in tourism from a multiplicity of perspectives with direct relevance to the industry at many levels

Animal Rights Clare Palmer, 2017-05-15 Do animals have moral rights If so which ones How does this affect our thinking about agriculture and experimentation If animals have moral rights should they be protected by law These are some of the questions addressed in this collection which contains more than 30 papers spanning nearly 40 years of debates about animal rights It includes work by leading advocates of animal rights both in philosophy and law as well as contributions by those resolutely opposed to the very idea of animal rights A substantial Introduction surveys key arguments in the area and puts the papers in context

Between Heaven and Earth Fred Van Dyke, 2010-07-01 The first comprehensive survey of Christian environmental ethics and activism offers a Christian understanding of environmental conservation protection and stewardship that speaks directly to ongoing environmental issues There are many books on Christian environmental ethics but none provides a clear and thorough analysis of the history of the church's understanding of and practices toward the care of creation In addition to filling this important void Between Heaven and Earth Christian Perspectives on Environmental Protection is also unique in at least two ways First it frames Christian responses to ethical questions as they are understood by modern conservation ethicists Second it addresses issues of conservation management and policy as they really exist This captivating volume begins by framing the complex interaction between ethics environment and faith and the relation of that interaction to questions of environmental ethics Subsequent chapters illuminate a biblical understanding of the human relationship to nature and the church's teachings and practices regarding that relationship illustrated through the lives of scholars and saints The book concludes with an examination of the ways in which Christian practice and teaching can shape environmental policy today and the ways in which partnerships can be built between the church and the environmental community Nature, Value, Duty Christopher J. Preston, Wayne Ouderkirk, 2006-11-17 Gifford Lecturer and Templeton Prize winner Holmes Rolston III is widely known as the father of environmental ethics His writings range between natural philosophy and theology and include detailed presentations of an interlocking position that includes aesthetics value theory natural resource policy wilderness advocacy and sustainable development Nature Value and Duty Life on Earth with Holmes Rolston III is a collection of contemporary writings on the work of Holmes Rolston III The authors contributing to this volume are a mixture of senior scholars in environmental ethics and new voices in philosophy and in literature Together they provide an in depth evaluation of many of the topics discussed by Rolston They probe the strengths and weaknesses of his work and suggest valuable correctives Rolston himself in a detailed reply to each of his critics at the end of the volume reveals where some of these criticisms sting him the most and in the process provides one of the most detailed and articulate defenses of his position ever offered Defining Social Acceptability in Ecosystem Management, 1996 Defining Social Acceptability in Ecosystem Management Mark W. Brunson, Linda E. Kruger, Catherine B. Tyler, Susan A. Schroeder, 1997-08 This compendium of papers was developed in response to the assumption that implementing an ecological approach to forest management requires an understanding of socially acceptable forestry what it is and the implications of doing it Perspectives from a variety of social science disciplines are presented which attempt to define social acceptability and examine the question from a public philosophical and ethical standpoint to determine whether the focus on social acceptability is an appropriate and useful one Charts and tables Bibliography
