PHOTOGRAPHY AND ARCHITECTURE ~1839-1939œ (EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINE TO NINETEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINE). Richard Pare, 1982 Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Photographs Micheline Nilsen, 2017-07-05 Revealing that nineteenth century photography goes beyond the functional to reflect the aesthetic intellectual and cultural concerns of the time this study proposes that each photographic image of architecture be studied both as a primary visual document and an object of aesthetic inquiry This multi faceted approach drives Architecture in Nineteenth Century Photographs Essays on Reading a Collection Despite three decades of post colonial post structuralist and gender conscious criticism the study of architectural photography continues to privilege technical virtuosity This volume offers a thematic exploration of the material and a socio historical examination that allows consideration of questions that have not been addressed comprehensively before in a single publication Themes include exoticism and armchair tourism the absence of women from architectural photography the role of photographs as commodities vernacular architecture and the picturesque and historic preservation urban renewal and nationalism Micheline Nilsen analyzes photographs from France and England the two countries where photography was invented and from around the world representing a corpus of over 10 000 photographs from the Janos Scholz Collection of Nineteenth Century Photographs of the Snite Museum of Art at the University of Notre Dame Nineteenth-Century Photographs and Architecture Micheline Nilsen, 2017-07-05 Eschewing the limiting idea that nineteenth century architecture photography merely reflects functionality the objective of this collection is to reflect the aesthetic intellectual and cultural concerns of the time The essays hold appeal for social and cultural historians as well as those with an interest in the fields of art history urban geography history of travel and tourism Nineteenth century photographers captured what could be seen and what they wanted to be seen Their images informed of exploration progress heritage and destruction Architecture was a staple subject for the first generation of photographers as it patiently tolerated the long exposures of the early processes During its formative decades photography responded to evolutionary cultural forces of market and artistic production Photographs of architecture reflected a specific political or social context modulated through individual points of view For this reason the examination of each photographic image as a primary visual document and an aesthetic object rather than a technical milestone on a chronological trajectory affords a richer multi faceted approach to the extensive and complex corpus of photographs taken by photographers all over the world This project acknowledges the importance of technique in the early decades of photography but focuses on the thematic content of the material It places the photography of architecture in an international context under the contemporary critical lens sharpened by theoretical and cultural examinations of the topic Photography, Modern Architecture, and Design Vitra Design Museum, 2005-01-01 Examining the photographic collection that Alberto Sartoris donated to the Swiss federal government this text throws light on a poorly understood aspect of 20th century architecture namely the mechanisms behind the creation and diffusion of the image of modern architecture Photography and Architecture Richard Pare, Catherine Evans Inbusch, Marjorie Munsterberg, 1982 Photographic Architecture in the Twentieth Century Claire Zimmerman, 2014-05-01 One hundred years ago architects found in the medium of photography so good at representing a building s lines and planes a necessary way to promote their practices It soon became apparent however that photography did more than reproduce what it depicted It altered both subject and reception as architecture in the twentieth century was enlisted as a form of mass communication Claire Zimmerman reveals how photography profoundly influenced architectural design in the past century playing an instrumental role in the evolution of modern architecture Her picture anthropology demonstrates how buildings changed irrevocably and substantially through their interaction with photography beginning with the emergence of mass printed photographically illustrated texts in Germany before World War II and concluding with the postwar age of commercial advertising In taking up photographic architecture Zimmerman considers two interconnected topics first architectural photography and its circulation and second the impact of photography on architectural design She describes how architectural photographic protocols developed in Germany in the early twentieth century expanded significantly in the wartime and postwar diaspora and accelerated dramatically with the advent of postmodernism In modern architecture she argues how buildings looked and how photographs made them look overlapped in consequential ways In architecture and photography the modernist concepts that were visible to the largest number over the widest terrain with the greatest clarity carried the day This richly illustrated work shows for the first time how new ideas and new buildings arose from the interplay of photography and architecture transforming how we see the world and how we act on it Industrial Cities Clemens Zimmermann, 2013-09-10 Ob Birmingham Rotterdam oder Wolfsburg Industriest dte haben nicht nur v llig unterschiedliche Gesichter sie unterliegen auch einem bemerkenswerten zeitlichen Wandel Die Autoren behandeln die Vergangenheit Gegenwart und Zukunft der Industriestadt als europ isches Ph nomen Aus soziologischer historischer geografischer und medialer Perspektive er rtern sie unterschiedliche historische Modelle und Typen von Industriest dten im 19 und 20

Jahrhundert diskutieren die Frage nach der Zukunft von monostrukturellen Industriestädten sowie mediale Repräsentationsformen industrialisierter Städte. Mit Beiträgen von Christoph Bernhardt, Hans Peter Drenth, Simon Gunn, Christine Hannemann, Martina Heller, Martin Jemelka, Henry Keazor, Robert Lewis, Timo Luks, Rebecca Magdin, Jörg Plöger, Richard Rodger, Rolf Sachsse, Adelheid von Saldern, Ondrej Sevecek, Judith Thissen und Clemens Zimmermann. The Le Corbusier Galaxy Martina Hrabová, 2025-03-31. Drawing on the author's discovery of an unknown long forgotten collection of photographs in an Indian ashram, this book offers an exciting new view of the international community of young architects who served as Le Corbusier's assistants in the inter-war years. A collection of some 500 snapshots assembled by the Czech architect František Sammer between 1931 and 1939 had been stored unnoticed for more than 70 years in an unlikely location: the Sri Aurobindo Ashram in Pondicherry, India. Sammer was one of Le Corbusier's closest assistants from the early 1930s. Later, Sammer worked in the Soviet Union, Japan and India. During and after his time in Paris, he personally took or collected these photographs, which he then deposited at the ashram when he left to fight in World War II. The images offer a remarkable view of the international community of people who worked in Le Corbusier's atelier in the 1930s. Among those featured in the photographs are Charlotte Perriand, Pierre Jeanneret, Jane West, the first American woman to work for Le Corbusier, Gordon Stephenson, Antonin Raymond, Junzo Sakakura and Josep Lluís Sert. Given the travels and international background of these individuals, the photographs are from different countries around the world, including the USSR, England, France, Czech Republic, Greece, USA, Tennessee, Montana, California and New Mexico, Japan and India. The Le Corbusier Galaxy successfully brings together serious archival research with a fascinating narrative and it captures the human dimension of modern architecture, which is all too often neglected in today's accounts. Archiv 57/58, RACAR, Revue D'art Canadienne, 1989. This is Not Architecture Kester Rattenbury, 2005-08-04. This is Not Architecture assembles architectural writers of different kinds, historians, theorists, journalists, computer game designers, technologists, film makers and architects to discuss the characteristics, cultures, limitations and bias of the different kinds of media and to build up an argument as to how this complex culture of representations is constructed. The J. Paul Getty Museum Journal The J. Paul Getty Museum, 1987-01-01. The J. Paul Getty Museum Journal 15 is a compendium of articles and notes pertaining to the Museum's permanent collections of antiquities, decorative arts, illuminated manuscripts, paintings, photographs and sculpture and works of art. This volume includes a supplement introduced by John Walsh with a fully illustrated checklist of the Getty's recent acquisitions. Volume 15 includes articles written by Jeffery Spier, Michael Pfrommer, Cornelius C. Vermeule, Maureen Cassidy Geiger, Robert S. Nelson, Carl Brandon Stehlke, Peter Sutton, John T. Spike, Victor Carlson, Andrew Szegedy-Maszak and Herbert Keutner. The Parthenon Jenifer Neils, 2005-09-05. Provides an overview of a classical monument interjected with the discoveries of modern scholarship.
