

The book cover features a bold geometric design. A vertical line divides the cover into two main color fields: a magenta field on the left and a blue field on the right. Diagonal lines intersect this vertical line, creating triangular sections. Two of these triangular sections, one in the top-left (magenta) and one in the bottom-right (blue), are filled with a fine, repeating wavy pattern. The title and subtitle are printed in white on the blue background, while the editors' names and series information are printed in white on the magenta background.
