Poor Women And Their Families Hard Working Charity Cases 1900 193:

Poor Women and Their Families Beverly Ann Stadum, 1992-01-01 This book brings to life early century counterparts of urban women identified today as victims of the feminization of poverty and recipients of aid from assistance programs With new details and original interpretations this book moves beyond earlier studies that focus only on female employment or family life of this generation It shows what poor women tried to do in the midst of multiple roles The book integrates themes of child rearing and homemaking with those of women's relations to men their reliance on female kin and their involvement in the neighborhood in employment and with city agencies and institutions A History of Child Welfare Eve P.

Smith, Lisa A. Merkel-Holguán, As we approach the year 2000 infant mortality rates child placement dilemmas and appropriate socialization of children continue to challenge the field of child welfare It is thus especially significant to reflect on the history of child welfare The carefully selected topics explored in this volume underscore the importance of recovering past events and themes still relevant It is the aim of this volume to illumine current issues by a review of past struggles and problems A History of Child Welfare offers many examples of practices that have direct import for those who struggle to support children Who is not bothered by what seem to be increasing acts of violence by children against children The role of hidden cruelty to children in perpetuating violence is illuminated by studying the past Historians and social researchers have gone far in examining the family and by implication their revelations greatly increase society's complex responses to children over time from early assumptions that children were little more than miniature adults to the discovery of childhood as a special developmental period At the start of this century women still did not have universal suffrage and brutal child labor was not unusual Harsh legal codes separating the races were widespread and those bent on improving the lot of children knew that reform meant commitment to an uphill struggle By the end of the century much has changed child labor while still present has been outlawed in most industries women vote and hold many high offices and de jure racial segregation is largely a memory Yet the state of children remains precarious with poverty a persistent theme throughout the century The fifteen articles in this volume cover a wide range of social conditions public policies and approaches to problem solving Though history does not repeat itself precisely problems controversies about solutions and certain themes do A History of Child Welfare takes up social and economic conditions that correlate with increasing rates of child abuse and neglect and an increasing number of children in out of home care This volume distinguishes approaches that have been useful from those that have failed In this way these serious reflections help build on past successes and avoid previous errors Wisdom,

Justice and Charity Suzanne Morton, 2014-01-01 In Wisdom Justice and Charity historian Suzanne Morton uses Jane B Wisdom's professional life to explore how the welfare state was built from the ground up by thousands of pragmatic and action oriented social workers New Literature on Women, 1998 Maybe They Will Appreciate what I Done and Struggled Beverly Ann Stadum, 1987 Women, Work, and the French State Mary Lynn Stewart, 1989 In France during the 1880s and 1890s the protection of women and girls in the workplace was advocated by sociologists social economists union leaders enlightened industrialists and politicians of virtually every ideological hue In response laws were enacted restricting not only the number of hours and the time of day that women could work but also their access to dangerous trades Mary Lynn Stewart argues that these restrictions though initiated to protect women and girls were actually a method of exploiting women s dual role of short time wage worker and unpaid housewife and mother
