English Version by Delia Goetz and Sylvanus G. Morley From the Translation by Adrian Recinos* Popol Vuh, 1965      Popol - Vuh, 1991      Popol Vuh Popol vuh, 1951      Popol vuh: the sacred book of the ancient Quiche Maya, 1950      Decolonizing Indigeneity Thomas Ward, 2016-12-20 While there are differences between cultures in different places and times colonial representations of indigenous peoples generally suggest they are not capable of literature nor are they worthy of being represented as nations Colonial representations of indigenous people continue on into the independence era and can still be detected in our time The thesis of this book is that there are various ways to decolonize the representation of Amerindian peoples Each chapter has its own decolonial thesis which it then resolves Chapter 1 proves that there is coloniality in contemporary scholarship and argues that word choices can be improved to decolonize the way we describe the first Americans Chapter 2 argues that literature in Latin American begins before 1492 and shows the long arc of Mayan expression taking the Popol Wuj as a case study Chapter 3 demonstrates how colonialist discourse is reinforced by a dualist rhetorical ploy of ignorance and arrogance in a Renaissance historical chronicle Agustín de Zárate's Historia del descubrimiento y conquista del Per Chapter 4 shows how by inverting the Renaissance dualist configuration of civilization and barbarian the Nahua Aztecs who were formerly considered barbarian can be civilized within Spanish norms This is done by modeling the categories of civilization discussed at length by the Friar Bartolomé de las Casas as a template that can serve to evaluate Nahua civil society as encapsulated by the historiography of Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl a possibility that would have been available to Spaniards during that time Chapter 5 maintains that the colonialities of the pre Independence era survive but that Criollo indigenous dialogue is capable of excavating their roots to extirpate them By comparing the discussions of the hacienda system by the Peruvian essayist Manuel González Prada and by the Mayan Quiché eye witness to history Rigoberta Menchú this book shows that there is common ground between their viewpoints despite the different genres in which their work appears and despite the different countries and the eight decades that separated them suggesting a universality to the problem of the hacienda which can be dissected This book models five different decolonizing methods to extricate from the continuities of coloniality both indigenous writing and the representation of indigenous peoples by learned elites      *Popol Vuh.
