Guernsey,2017-07-05 The Artist and the State 1777 1855 The Politics of Universal History in British French Painting is the first book length study to examine political uses of universal history or the philosophy of history in European art from 1777 to 1855 Daniel R Guernsey discusses a range of mural paintings and sculptural works produced in England and France between the American Revolution and the Universal Exposition of 1855 comparing the ways artists such as James Barry Eug Delacroix Paul Chenavard David d Angers and Gustave Courbet expressed linear or cyclical histories of progress and decline By considering the work of these important European artists together he reveals not only the rich artistic interaction that took place between England and France as well as Germany at this time but also how the notion of universal history was to become a major preoccupation in the work of these individual artists each one participating in shaping a highly significant mode of eighteenth and nineteenth century political art

Transculturation ,2016-08-01 Transculturation Cities Spaces and Architectures in Latin America explores the critical potential inherent in the notion of transculturation in order to understand contemporary architectural practices and their cultural realities in Latin America Despite its enormous theoretical potential and its importance within Latin American cultural theory the term transculturation had never permeated into architectural debates In fact none of the main architectural theories produced in and about Latin America during the second half of the twentieth century engaged seriously with this notion as a way to analyze the complex social cultural and political circumstances that affect the development of the continent's cities its urban spaces and its architectures Therefore this book demonstrates for the first time that the term transculturation is an invaluable tool in dismantling the essentialist genealogical and hierarchical perspectives from which Latin American architectural practices have been viewed Transculturation Cities Spaces and Architectures in Latin America introduces new readings and interpretations of the work of well known architects new analyses regarding the use of architectural materials and languages new questions to do with minority architectures gender and travel and from beginning to end it engages with important political and theoretical debates that have rarely been broached within Latin American architectural circles

A Companion to Mexican Studies Peter Standish, 2006 This most recent of the Tamesis Companion series traces the evolution of the major creative aspects of Mexican culture from pre Columbian times to the present Dealing in turn with the cultures of Mesoamerica the colonial period the onset of independence and the modern era the author explores Aztec arts the role of the performing arts in the process of evangelisation manifestations of cultural dependence of the search for national identity and the struggle for modernity drawing examples from such diverse activities as architecture painting music dance literature film and media There is also a brief account of the distinctive characteristics of Mexican Spanish Maps a chronology a bibliographical essay and a lengthy bibliography round off this comprehensive guide making it an indispensable research tool for those seriously interested in Mexican culture Peter Standish is Professor of Spanish at East Carolina University a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina

Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01 In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910-40 in Cuba 1959-89 and in Nicaragua 1979-90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement's artistic project by whom how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution's attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were In addition the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art ideology and class within a revolutionary process
