Population Dilemmas In The Middle East:

Population Dilemmas in the Middle East Gad G. Gilbar, 1997 This study first offers a general outline of Palestinian population growth between 1948 and 1987 and then focuses on the town of Nablus in the early 1950s for a detailed analysis of the economic forces that instigated Palestinian migration to Jordan and the Gulf The author shows how the recession that struck the Arab oil economies in the early 1980s by slowing down the migratory movement shut off the valve that had afforded the Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza relief from economic pressures When during those same years the Israeli government instigated a policy of reducing investments in these territories the Palestinians found themselves in a no win situation with their economic plight forming one of the main factors for the eruption of the Intifada in December 1987 Finally following Iraq's invasion of Kuwait in July 1990 most of the 300 000 or so Palestinians who had been working there left or were forced to leave and made their way to Jordan The author analyses how Jordan in coping with the resulting demographic and economic pressures adopted an antinatalist policy despite powerful political and social forces working against such a programme

Gilbar, 2012-11-12 This study provides a general outline of Palestinian population growth between 1948 and 1987 and then focuses on the town of Nablus for a detailed analysis of the main aspects of Palestinian migration and high rates of natural increase The author shows how the recession that struck the Arab oil economies in the early 1980s by slowing down the migratory movement shut off the valve that had afforded the Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza relief from economic pressures

Essay Collection Advancing Future Generations-Population Issues in Indonesia and Korea Getar Hati,Abigail Trinita Solin,Hanifa Arneta Rahmah Rausyanfikri, Essay Collection Advancing Future Generations Population Issues in Indonesia and Korea It is with great pride that I introduce the Essay Collection Advancing Future Generations Population Issues in Indonesia and Korea a product of the World Population Day Conference hosted by the Korea Indonesia Connection KIC FISIP UI on 16-17 July 2024. This collection of 23 essays offers valuable insights into the pressing population challenges faced by both Indonesia and Korea, reflecting the collaborative efforts of scholars and experts dedicated to shaping a better future. Social scientists in particular can study population issues in Indonesia and Korea by examining various demographic factors such as birth rates, migration patterns, and aging populations. Research in Korea may concentrate on issues associated with an aging population and declining birth rates, whereas research in Indonesia may concentrate on urbanization and regional disparities. By contrasting these cases, we can gain understanding of how cultural and policy issues influence population patterns and the wider effects they have on society. This book is an important outcome of the cooperation between the Korea Foundation and FISIP UI. I am confident that this book will serve as an important resource for academics, policymakers, and the broader community, inspiring continued dialogue and action on these vital issues.

Human Capital Ismail Abdel-Hamid Sirageldin, 2002. Covers issues of demography and development in the Middle East: the capital value of rising populations, the workings of the labor market, and the impact of migration and urbanization on the region.
