Water Scarcity and Conflict in African River Basins Mahlakeng Khosi Mahlakeng, 2023-03-31 The book presents a critical and comparative analysis of the hydropolitical landscape of African transboundary river basins which for much of the past century have been affected by water scarcity River and lake basins can become a source of tension and conflict due to a complicated mix of environmental demographic diplomatic historical and geopolitical factors This book however specifically focuses on the important and often under looked role played by scarcity in generating or exacerbating conflicts in shared river basins Asserting that transboundary river basins tie states into a web of interdependence this book raises awareness of how water scarcity or the depletion of water resources complicates this relationship as nations are forced to look beyond their own borders to meet the demand for water to satisfy multiple needs Taking a comparative approach it examines three shared basins the Orange Senqu the Nile and the Niger River basins While situated in different regions all three basins are marked by serious environmental challenges that are detrimental to combustible hydropolitics over such shared water resources and they provide fascinating insights into the links between climate variability and change water resources human security conflict adaptation and regime capacity Overall this book argues that conflict over transboundary resources can be prevented given the establishment of norms rules and the role of external actors that help regulate state behaviour and control their impacts This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of water resource management hydropolitics environmental conflict resource scarcity and international relations It will also be of interest to policymakers involved in transboundary water resource governance
