Porcelain Figurines Nathaniel Harris, 1974 More Than Mere Playthings Julia C. Fischer, 2016-06-22 This book is inspired by the 2015 Italian Art Society sponsored conference sessions of the American Association of Italian Studies Its seven chapters span the art of ancient Etruria to twentieth century Italy and explore a variety of media including mirrors cameos treasury objects reliquaries ceramics and figurines Contributors approach the topic of the minor arts from a variety of interdisciplinary perspectives including reception use patronage gender issues propaganda and iconography The volume thus fills the lacuna in the scholarship of the minor arts and reveals that the minor arts are unique and worthy of study for their size preciousness patronage audience function portability and material Ultimately in revealing the importance of these objects the book shows that the division between the major and minor arts is no longer valid and that these objects of the minor arts hold as much significance as those of the major arts

Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 1997 Pottery and porcelain of all times and nations; with tables of factory and artists' marks for the use of collectors William Cowper Prime, 1879

Pottery and Porcelain of All Times and Nations William Cowper Prime, 1879 The Making of Goddess Durga in Bengal: Art, Heritage and the Public Samir Kumar Das, Bishnupriya Basak, 2021-05-21 This book examines the making of the Goddess Durga both as an art and as part of the intangible heritage of Bengal As the original site of production of unbaked clay idols of the Hindu Goddess Durga and other Gods and Goddesses Kumartuli remains at the centre of such art and heritage The art and heritage of Kumartuli have been facing challenges in a rapidly globalizing world that demands constant redefinition of art with the invasion of market forces and migration of idol makers As such the book includes chapters on the evolution of idols iconographic transformations popular culture and how the public is constituted by the production and consumption of the works of art and heritage and finally the continuous shaping and reshaping of urban imaginaries and contestations over public space It also investigates the caste group of Kumbhakars Kumars or the idol makers reflecting on the complex relation between inherited skill and artistry Further it explores how the social construction of art as art introduces a tangled web of power asymmetries between art and craft between an artist and an artisan and between appreciation and consumption along with their implications for the articulation of market in particular and social relations in general Since little has been written on this heritage hub beyond popular pamphlets documents on town planning and travelogues the book written by authors from various fields opens up cross disciplinary conversations situating itself at the interface between art history sociology of aesthetics politics and government social history cultural studies social anthropology and archaeology The book is aimed at a wide readership including students scholars town planners heritage preservationists lawmakers and readers interested in heritage in general and Kumartuli in particular

The Enlightened Eye, 2015-06-29 Poets painters philosophers and scientists alike debated new ways of thinking about visual culture in the long eighteenth century The essays in The Enlightened Eye Goethe and Visual Culture demonstrate the extent to which Goethe advanced this discourse in virtually all disciplines The concept of visibility becomes a constitutive moment in a productive relationship between the verbal and visual arts with far reaching implications for the formation of bourgeois identity pedagogy and culture From a variety of theoretical perspectives the contributors to this volume examine the interconnections between aesthetic and scientific fields of inquiry involved in Goethe's visual identity By locating Goethe's position in the examination of visual culture both established and emerging scholars analyze the degree to which visual aesthetics determined the cultural production of both the German speaking world and the broader European context The contributions analyze the production presentation and consumption of visual culture defined broadly as painting sculpture theater and scientific practice The Enlightened Eye promises to invest new energy and insight into the discussion among literary scholars art historians and cultural theorists about many aspects of visual culture in the Age of Goethe

Historical Archaeology in Wachovia Stanley South, 2005-12-27 Originally distributed with a different title as a very limited edition of twelve in 1975 Historical Archaeology in Wachovia presents a unique record of the 1753 Moravian town of Bethabara near Winston Salem North Carolina Stanley South who led the site's excavation in 1966 fully describes such discoveries as fortifications from the French and Indian War and twenty ruins of various shops and dwellings in the town He also illustrates methods of ruin excavation and stabilization including the replacement of palisade posts in the original fort ditch as part of the site's development as Historic Bethabara Park. Some of the most interesting of South's finds concern the confluence of two traditions of pottery and stoneware production. One of these is represented by forty pottery wheel thrown types and forms made by the master German potter Gottfried Aust between 1755 and 1771 excavated from the ruin of his shop and kiln waster dump. Additional work at both Bethabara and Salem recovered the waster dumps of Aust's journeyman potter Rudolph Christ who had also studied with the Staffordshire potter William Ellis. Christ's wares which demonstrate both German and English influences are discussed in detail. Extensively documented and heavily illustrated with over 320 photographs, drawings and maps, this volume is a classic example of the process of historical archaeology as demonstrated by one of its foremost practitioners in America. It is a valuable resource for avocational archaeologists, particularly those living in the Southeast, as well as historical archaeologists, historians, ceramicists, ceramics collectors, students of colonial culture and museologists.

The Throne of the Great Mogul in Dresden Dror Wahrman, 2023-04-25. A masterful deciphering of an extraordinary art object illuminating some of the biggest questions of the eighteenth century. The Throne of the Great Mogul 1701-8 is a unique work of European decorative art, an intricate miniature of the court of the Mughal emperor Aurangzeb depicted during the emperor's birthday celebrations. It was created by the jeweler Johann Melchior Dinglinger in Dresden and purchased by the Saxon prince Augustus the Strong for an enormous sum. Constructed like a theatrical set made of gold, silver, thousands of gemstones and amazing enamel work, it consists of 164 pieces that together tell a detailed story. Why did Dinglinger invest so much time and effort in making this piece? Why did Augustus, in the midst of a political and financial crisis, purchase it? And why did the jeweler secrete in it messages wholly unrelated to the prince or to the Great Mogul? In answering these questions, Dror Wahrman, while shifting scales from microhistory to global history, opens a window onto major historical themes of the period: the nature of European absolutism, the princely politics of the Holy Roman Empire, the changing meaning of art in the West, the surprising emergence of a cross-continental lexicon of rulership shared across the Eastern Hemisphere, and the enactment in jewels and gold of quirky contemporary theories about the global history of religion.

California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., General Human Psychology Jaan Valsiner, 2022-01-01. The book includes a new theoretical synthesis of William Stern's classic personology published in the 1930s with contemporary cultural psychology of semiotic mediation developed by the author over the last two decades. It looks at the human mind as it operates in its full complexity, starting from the most complex general levels of aesthetic and political participation in society and ending with individual willful actions in everyday life contexts.

Congregational Communion Francis J. Bremer, 1994. Puritan studies is one of the most heavily researched areas of scholarship in both England and the United States. In this in-depth exploration of the relationship between Puritans in England and New England, Francis J. Bremer challenges the view that the colonists turned away from English Puritans in the 1640s Rather he convincingly demonstrates that the two communities retained a complex symbiotic connection a communion throughout the seventeenth century and that the clergy on both sides of the Atlantic saw themselves as closely linked in their spiritual mission Focusing on the interaction between social experience and the shaping of belief Bremer thoroughly analyzes how Puritan clergymen of a congregational persuasion came together in a godly communion and examines how that communion sustained them in times of trouble and physical dispersal He explains the social forces that led to the articulation of early Congregationalism and details the significance of trans Atlantic religious exchanges through correspondence associations publications and other devices Bremer traces the first generation Puritans from their formative years at Cambridge University through the creation of a network of clerical friendships through the flight to Holland and to New England to the death of Oliver Cromwell and the beginnings of division within Congregationalism This thought provoking volume makes a solid contribution to Puritan studies and offers a basis for further discussions of the trans Atlantic aspects of the Congregational community

Oceans Odyssey Sean Kingsley, 2010-02-05 In ten papers Odyssey Marine Exploration presents the technology methodology and archaeological results from four deep sea shipwrecks and one major survey conducted between 2003 and 2008 The sites lie beyond territorial waters in depths of up to 820 metres off southeastern America and in the Straits of Gibraltar and the English Channel Exclusively recorded using robotic technology in the form of a Remotely Operated Vehicle the wrecks range from the major Royal Navy warships HMS Sussex 1694 and the unique 100 gun first rate HMS Victory 1744 to the steamship SS Republic 1865 and a mid 19th century merchant vessel with a cargo of British porcelain Their study reveals that the future of deep sea wreck research has arrived but also that many sites are at severe risk from destruction from the offshore fishing industry
