Somewhere and Other Stories is the author's second publication. This anticipated book will reveal more of his talent. It's a collection of short fictional stories that are imbued with Caribbean flare and with a wide range of topics: i.e. love and loss, the immigrant experience, sex, sexuality, oppression, nostalgia, racism, religion, spirituality, psychopathology, coming of age, and poverty. However, humor, pathos, parody, and most importantly, hope and inspiration are a reoccurring theme permeating throughout all of the relatively interconnected stories. In "3 am at the Caf," disparate lives intersect with a prostitute, two closeted gay men, a cheating married man, and a waitress who's seen it all. In "The Purloined Heart," the supernatural in the form of Haitian Voodoo renders a macabre dance of love. The semi-auto biographical "A Candle for Lina" shows a young boy remembering his Nanny from childhood in Haiti. Since all non-native Americans are descendants of immigrants here in the USA, you will most likely identify with the immigrant experience. In "The Reason Why Crickets Chirp," experience the pungent punch of racism. In "The Whistler's Song," or a controversial reimagining of a ubiquitous bible tale. In "Nemesis," a bildungsroman and coming out story. In "Sultry Boy," a tortured love story between a hefty middle-aged island gal and a married white businessman in the midst of a midlife crisis. In "Cri De Coeur," cry of the heart and hope, inspiration rises on the horizon. In the title piece, "It's Always Sunrise Somewhere,"

Naughty Girls and Gay Male Romance/Porn: Slash Fiction, Boys' Love Manga, and Other Works by Female "Cross-Voyeurs" in the U.S. Academic Discourses, Carola Katharina Bauer, 2013-05-17. Despite the fact that there actually exists a large number of pornographic and romantic texts about male homosexuality consumed and produced by American women since the 1970s, the abnormality of those female cross voyeurs is constantly underlined in U.S. popular and academic culture. As the astonished public reactions in the face of a largely female heterosexual audience of Brokeback Mountain (2005) and Queer as Folk (2000-2005) have shown, a woman's erotic romantic interest in male homosexuality is definitely not as accepted as its male counterpart: men consuming lesbian porn. In the academic publications on female cross voyeurs, the application of double standards with regard to male/female cross voyeurism is even more obvious. As Karen Hellekson and Kristina Busse note in their "Introduction to Fan Fiction and Fan Communities in the Internet" (2006), slash fiction (fan fiction about male homosexual relationships mainly produced and consumed by women) has stood in the center of fan fiction studies so far, despite being merely a subgenre of it. The reason for this seems to be an urge to explain the underlying motivations for the fascination of women with m/m romance or pornography within the academic discourse, a trend which differs completely from the extremely undertheorized complex of men interested in lesbians. It is this obvious influence of conventional gender stereotypes on the perception of these phenomena that provokes me to examine the way in which the works of female cross voyeurism and their consumers/producers are conceptualized in the U.S. scholarly accounts. In many ways, this thesis explores unknown territories and respectively tries to take a closer look at academic problems that have not been adequately addressed yet.
