The Portable Rabelais, 1966 The Portable Rabelais Francois Rabelais, 1955-03-10 The portable Rabelais François Rabelais, 1946 The Portable Rabelais François Rabelais, 1963 The Portable Rabelais. Selected, Translated and Edited by Samuel Putnam François Rabelais, Samuel Putnam, 1974 The portable Rabelais : the uninhibited adventures of Gargantua and Pantagruel Francois Rabelais, 1961 The Portable Rabelais, Sel., Tr., Ed François Rabelais, 1946 Rabelais's Carnival Samuel Kinser, 2024-03-29

How is it possible after four centuries that a major episode in Rabelais's novels remains systematically misread The episode which playfully and grotesquely treats the relation of Carnival to Lent occurs in Rabelais's Fourth Book his last and most artfully crafted novel Samuel Kinser argues that the text has been distorted because critics have not attended to the episode's performative as well as literary contexts overlooking the innovative use Rabelais made in his work of his immediate world In this original interpretation of the Fourth Book Kinser evokes the gestures games and visual oral bodily semantics of Carnival and Lent as they were performed in Rabelais's day He also underscores the importance to Rabelais of the invention of printing an innovation which revolutionized the relationships of author and reader Understanding this and fearing it Rabelais adopted an extraordinary set of disguises as an author disguises which in their bewildering interplay constitute the truest sense of his carnival This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 The Creators Daniel J. Boorstin, 1993-09-28 By piecing the lives of selected individuals into a grand mosaic Pulitzer Prize winning historian Daniel J Boorstin explores the development of artistic innovation over 3 000 years A hugely ambitious chronicle of the arts that Boorstin delivers with the scope that made his Discoverers a national bestseller Even as he tells the stories of such individual creators as Homer Joyce Giotto Picasso Handel Wagner and Virginia Woolf Boorstin assembles them into a grand mosaic of aesthetic and intellectual invention In the process he tells us not only how great art and great architecture and philosophy is created but where it comes from and how it has shaped and mirrored societies from Vedic India to the twentieth century United States The Company We Keep Wayne C. Booth, 1988 Bibliography of ethical criticism p 505 534 Presents arguments for the relocation of ethics to the center of literature examining periods genres and particular works Knowledge and Coordination Daniel B. Klein, 2012-01-27 In Knowledge and Coordination Daniel B Klein reexamines the elements of economic liberalism He interprets Hayek's notion of spontaneous order from the aestheticized perspective of a Smithian spectator and addresses issues economists have had surrounding the notion of coordination by distinguishing the ideas of Hayek Ronald Coase and Michael Polanyi from the mutual coordination of Thomas Schelling and game theory The Palgrave Handbook of Affect Studies and Textual Criticism Donald R. Wehrs, Thomas

Blake,2017-12-01 This volume provides a comprehensive account of how scholarship on affect and scholarship on texts have come to inform one another over the past few decades The result has been that explorations of how texts address elicited shape and dramatize affect have become central to contemporary work in literary film and art criticism as well as in critical theory rhetoric performance studies and aesthetics Guiding readers to the variety of topics themes interdisciplinary dialogues and sub disciplinary specialties that the study of interplay between affect and texts has either inaugurated or revitalized the handbook showcases and engages the diversity of scholarly topics approaches and projects that thinking of affect in relation to texts and related media open up or enable These include but are not limited to investigations of what attention to affect brings to established methods of studying texts in terms of period genre cultural contexts rhetoric and individual authorship

Men Writing the Feminine Thäis E. Morgan,1994-01-01 The introductory essay provides an overview of current issues and methodologies in gender theory while the 11 essays in the book discuss novels and poems from the seventeenth century to the present by British American and French male writers who speak as through or like the feminine The

Commodification of Textual Engagements in the English Renaissance Michael Saenger,2016-12-05 An investigation into the ways in which early modern books were advertised this study argues that those means of advertisement both record and help to shape social interactions between people and books These interactions are not only fascinating in themselves but also demonstrably linked to larger social phenomena such as human commodification the development of English nationalism the increasingly unruly proliferation of literacy and changing conceptions of literature Within the context of recent developments of new textualism and new economic criticism Saenger's approach makes use of formalist strategies of genre recognition as well as new historicist connections between social history and art In this study Saenger illustrates his general account of the formal properties of front matter titles and subtitles prefatory epistles and commendatory verses with engaging readings of specific examples including Feltham's Resolves A Myrrore for Magistrates and Sidney's Arcadia He explores the several ways in which paratextual authors sought to involve the reader in various active roles vis vis the main text whether those books were prose fiction or translated continental sermons Some particular attention is devoted to printed drama both because dramatic texts present printers with a unique set of challenges and because those texts have often been misread in recent criticism This book offers a much needed analysis of profound transformations not only to the book trade as an industry but also to the very concepts of reading and authorship in an age which saw the relatively brief coincidence of ancient marketing strategies and systems and the burgeoning market of the mechanically reproduced text Perilous

Chastity Laurinda S. Dixon,2019-01-24 Bearing such titles as The Doctor's Visit or The Lovesick Maiden certain seventeenth century Dutch paintings are familiar to museum browsers an attractive young woman well dressed but pale and listless reclines in a chair languishes in bed or falls to the floor in a faint Weathered crones or impish boys leer suggestively in the background These paintings traditionally have been viewed as commentary on quack doctors or unmarried pregnant women

The first book to examine images of women and illness in the light of medical history Perilous Chastity reveals a surprising new interpretation In an engaging analysis enhanced by abundant illustrations including eight pages of color plates Laurinda S Dixon shows how paintings reflect changing medical theories concerning women While she illuminates a tradition stretching from antiquity to the present she concentrates on art from the thirteenth through the eighteenth centuries and particularly on paintings from seventeenth century Leiden Dixon suggests how the assumptions of a predominantly male medical establishment have influenced prevailing notions of women s social place She traces the evolution of the belief that women s illnesses were caused by hysteria so named in ancient Greece after the notion that the uterus had a tendency to wander in the body All women were considered prone to hysteria strong emotions idleness intellectual activity or unladylike pursuits could cause it but it was most commonly diagnosed among celibates Analyzing paintings of women s sickrooms by Jan Steen Dirck Hals Gabriel Metsu Jacob Ochtervelt Godfried Schalcken Samuel van Hoogstraten and Franz van Mieris Dixon perceives metaphoric identifications of the womb as the source of illness She also documents changing fashions in cures for hysteria and discusses allusions to the debilitating effects of women s passions not only in paintings but also in madrigals by John Dowland and Henry Purcell In conclusion Dixon argues that her study has strong ramifications of attitudes towards women and illness today She takes up images in twentieth century culture as well and calls attention to a resurgence of female hysteria after World War II

War Diaries Jean-Paul Sartre, 2024-12-10 During the phony war that preceded the invasion of France between late 1939 and the summer of 1940 the young Jean Paul Sartre was stationed in his native Alsace as part of a meteorological unit He used his considerable periods of spare time between mundane duties like watching weather balloons to make a series of notes on philosophy literature politics history and autobiography that anticipate the themes of his later masterpieces and often surpass them in literary verve and directness These War Diaries form a portrait of Sartre in his most intense and brilliant phase With them the twentieth century s most remarkable and public philosopher has provided us with a fitting posthumous monument to his honest and creativity

Abject Eroticism in Northern Renaissance Art Yvonne Owens, 2020-10-29 Hans Baldung Grien the most famous apprentice and close friend of German artist Albrecht Dürer was known for his unique and highly eroticised images of witches In paintings and woodcut prints he gave powerful visual expression to late medieval tropes and stereotypes such as the poison maiden venomous virgin the Fall of Man death and the maiden and other motifs and eschatological themes which mingled abject and erotic qualities in the female body Yvonne Owens reads these images against the humanist intellectual milieu of Renaissance Germany showing how classical and medieval medicine and natural philosophy interpreted female anatomy as toxic defective and dangerously beguiling She reveals how Hans Baldung exploited this radical polarity to create moralising and titillating portrayals of how monstrous female sexuality victimised men and brought them low Furthermore these images issued from and contributed to the contemporary understanding of witchcraft as a heresy that stemmed from natural feminine defect a concept derived from Aristotle Offering new and provocative interpretations of Hans Baldung's iconic witchcraft imagery this book is essential reading for historians of art culture and gender relations in the late medieval and early modern periods

Romantic Interactions Susan J. Wolfson, 2010-10-18 In Romantic Interactions Susan J. Wolfson examines how interaction with other authors whether on the bookshelf in the embodied company of someone else writing or in relation to literary celebrity shaped the work of some of the best known and less well known writers in the English language Working across the arc of Long Romanticism from the 1780s to the 1840s this lively study involves writing by women and men in poetry and prose Combining careful readings with sophisticated literary historical and cultural criticism Wolfson reveals how various writers came to define themselves as author The story unfolds not only in deft textual analyses but also by provocatively placing writers in dialogue with what they were reading with one another and with the community of readers and writers their writings helped bring into being Mary Wollstonecraft and Charlotte Smith in the Revolution roiled 1790s William Wordsworth and Dorothy Wordsworth in the society of the Lake District Lord Byron a magnet for writers everywhere inspired troubled but always arrested by what he and his scandal ridden celebrity represented This fresh informative account of key writers important texts and complex cultural currents promises keen interest for students and scholars literary critics and cultural historians

Jesting Angels Ken Bazyn, 2015-06-22 All of us ought to be ready to laugh at ourselves wrote theologian Reinhold Niebuhr because all of us are a little funny in our foibles conceits and pretensions Yes to a greater or lesser extent we all belong to Hypocrites Anonymous Laughter helps us to preserve sanity in a crazed world provides the lubrication we so desperately need to deal with irritating people and situations Furthermore it accents our need for humility by pricking the balloons of vain pretension These vivid poems are thick with allusions to literature theology spirituality history and legend They range from sentimental impressions of the Iowa State Fair to a fantasy visit to All Saint's Night in Dublin from musings on the extinct dodo to a whimsical take on the pranks mischievous angels play from a litany of the likely suspects in a murder mystery to a beatnik's view of the ascension In life no doubt we will become the butt of many well deserved jokes As Don Quixote's sidekick Sancho Panza once acknowledged Master I confess that all I need to be a complete ass is a tail Laughter then becomes in the words of Niebuhr a vestibule to the temple of confession

Names as Metaphors in Shakespeare's Comedies Grant W. Smith, 2021-09-07 Names as Metaphors in Shakespeare's Comedies presents a comprehensive study of names in Shakespeare's comedies Although names are used in daily speech as simple designators often with minimal regard for semantic or phonological suggestiveness their coinage is always based on analogy They are words i.e. signs borrowed from previous referents and contexts and applied to new referents Thus in the literary use of language names are figurative inventions and have measurable thematic significance they evoke an association of attributes between two or more referents contextualize each work of literature within its time and reflect the artistic development of the writer In the introduction Smith describes the literary use of names as creative choices that show the indebtedness of authors to previous literature as well as their imaginative descriptions etymologically and phonologically of memorable character types and their references to cultural phenomena that make their names meaningful to their contemporary readers and audience This book presents fourteen essays demonstrating the analytical models explained in the introduction These essays focus on Shakespeare's comedies as presented in the First Folio They do not follow the chronological order of their composition instead the individual essays give special attention to differences between the plays that suggest Shakespeare's artistic development including the varied sources of his borrowings the differences between his etymological and phonological coinages the frequency and types of his topical references and his use of epithets and generics This book will appeal to Shakespeare students and scholars at all levels particularly those who are keen on studying his comedies This study will also be relevant for researchers and graduate students interested in onomastics He can be reached at gsmith@ewu.edu
