Portrait Of Egypt:

Portrait Painting from Roman Egypt Arthur Frank Shore, British Museum. Department of Egyptian Antiquities, 1972

Portrait of Egypt Lord Kinross, 1966      Mummy Portraits from Roman Egypt Paul Roberts, 2008 The mummy portraits of Roman Egypt are haunting images of ancient faces anonymous people painted by anonymous artists And yet they are historical and cultural documents of outstanding interest and importance and many are of superb artistic quality This type of portrait appeared in Egypt in the first century AD and remained popular for around 200 years Though the subjects believed in the traditional Egyptian cults which offered them a firm prospect of life after death they also wished to be commemorated in the Roman manner Portraits were commissioned that would serve as a realistic record of the deceased as he or she had appeared in life These were painted on a wooden board at a roughly lifelike scale which was then placed on the outside of the cartonnage coffin over the head of the individual or carefully placed into the mummy wrappings The images also reveal the adoption of Roman fashions in dress and personal adornment by persons remote from the centre of the empire but likely to have been actively engaged in its local administration By careful assessment of the hairstyles clothes and jewellery it is possible to date the portraits often within a decade or so Many of the finest and best known examples come from the Fayum and are a dazzling testament to the Greek painting tradition in particular the sophistication of the Alexandrian school from which they are derived It is not until some fifteen centuries later in the faces painted by Titian or Rembrandt's depiction of his own features as he saw them reflected in a mirror that the same artistry that characterizes many of the anonymous painters of the Fayum is witnessed again      A Portrait of Egypt Mary Anne Weaver, 1999 Explores the likelihood of Egypt's secular society being overthrown in favor of a militant Islamic regime and what effect that would have on the rest of the Arab world      Portrait of Egypt Patrick Balfour Baron Kinross, 1966      Portrait of Egypt.... John Patrick Douglas Balfour Kinross, 1966      Mysterious Fayum Portraits Euphrosyne Doxiadis, 1995-10-15 In the first three centuries AD in a fertile district of Roman Egypt called the Fayum a diverse community of Greeks Egyptians Romans Syrians Libyans Nubians and Jews flourished These people and many of their contemporaries throughout the Nile Valley embalmed the bodies of their dead and then placed over the faces portraits painted on wooden panels or linen These paintings today known as Fayum or mummy portraits were created to preserve the memory of each individual The Fayum portraits are by far the most important body of portraiture to have survived antiquity Reproduced in this arresting book are some 180 of the finest of the more than 1 000 extant images of men women and children young and old plain and beautiful all of whom seem uncannily alive A few of these faces have become familiar to scholars and museum goers but as a whole they have been neglected by art historians and will be new to most readers      Margo Veillon Margo Veillon, 2003 Margo Veillon one of Egypt's best loved artists here presents a sampling of her work from throughout her career as represented in a legacy bequeathed to the American University in Cairo The collection includes work from across the decades of her career as well as

across a variety of media Although Margo has lived part of her life in Europe it is clearly Egypt that has held her imagination in all these long years of artistic innovation One strand of her work is characterized by an ability to capture and depict the energy of a specific moment in time be it a toss of wheat in the air to separate the chaff the stoic bride in a wedding procession or a horse dancing in a tent at a mulid The stones sands and constantly changing light of the desert have been the inspiration for many years for another major line of artistic expression And a third strand has been her exploration of all that can be seen not seen and sensed in one place in her remarkable series of Global Perspectives These threads and others no less individual and innovative make up the extraordinarily rich tapestry of Margo Veillon s artistic career as brought together in the AUC Permanent Collection     Portrait of Egypt John Patrick Kinross Balfour,1966     Portrait of Egypt lord John Patrick Douglas Balfour Kinross,1966     Ancient Faces Susan Walker,2020-03-25 From the first major discoveries a century ago the painted portraits of Roman Egypt were a revelation to scholars and the public alike and the recent finding of a new cache of these gilded images which made national headlines have only heightened their mystery and appeal Published to coincide with a new major exhibition of these portraits Ancient Faces is the most comprehensive up to date survey of these astonishing works of art Dating from the later period of Roman rule in Egypt shortly before the birth of Christ the painted mummy portraits are among the most remarkable products of the ancient world a fusion of the traditions of pharonic Egypt and the Classical world They are historical and cultural objects of outstanding importance and beauty superb works of art that represent some of the earliest known examples of life like portraiture Though the subjects of the portraits believed in the traditional Egyptian cults which offered them a firm prospect of life after death they also wished to be commemorated in the Roman manner with their fashion of dress and adornment signaling their status in life Despite their ancient history these portraits speak to the modern eye with a beauty and intensity that would be lost to portraiture until the Renaissance

Egypt and Its Monuments Amelia Ann Blanford Edwards,1891     Herakleides Lorelei Hilda Corcoran,Marie Svoboda,2010 Herakleides was a young man who lived and died in Roman Egypt almost 2000 years ago This multidisciplinary study of his mummy highlights the funerary practices and religious beliefs of his world     Portraits and Masks M. L. Bierbrier,1997 The result of a major colloquium on burial customs in Roman Egypt these papers cover the reasons behind the development of mummy portraits and the society from which they emerged as well as the artistic techniques employed     The Beautiful Burial in Roman Egypt Christina Riggs,2006-01-06 This important new study looks at the intersection of Greek and Egyptian art forms in the funerary sphere of Roman Egypt A discussion of artistic change cultural identity and religious belief foregrounds the detailed analysis of more than 150 objects and tombs many of which are presented here for the first time In addition to the information it provides about individual works of art supported by catalogue entries the study explores fundamental questions such as how artists combine the iconographies and representational forms of different visual traditions and why two distinct visual traditions were employed in Roman Egypt

Portraits of the Ptolemies Paul Edmund Stanwick, 2010-07-22 As archaeologists recover the lost treasures of Alexandria the modern world is marveling at the latter day glory of ancient Egypt and the Greeks who ruled it from the ascension of Ptolemy I in 306 B C to the death of Cleopatra the Great in 30 B C The abundance and magnificence of royal sculptures from this period testify to the power of the Ptolemaic dynasty and its influence on Egyptian artistic traditions that even then were more than two thousand years old In this book Paul Edmund Stanwick undertakes the first complete study of Egyptian style portraits of the Ptolemies Examining one hundred and fifty sculptures from the vantage points of literary evidence archaeology history religion and stylistic development he fully explores how they meld Egyptian and Greek cultural traditions and evoke surrounding social developments and political events To do this he develops a visual vocabulary for reading royal portraiture and discusses how the portraits helped legitimate the Ptolemies and advance their ideology Stanwick also sheds new light on the chronology of the sculptures giving dates to many previously undated ones and showing that others belong outside the Ptolemaic period
