Portraits In Leadership:

Portraits in Leadership Arthur Padilla, 2005-01-01 Leading complex organizations is never easy or simple In this book Padilla uses the university as the organizational vehicle through which to examine the phenomenon of leadership and followership in complex entities The unique characteristics of universities as organizations are discussed and the leadership experiences of six well known university presidents are analyzed within an original framework of leadership Just as John Kennedy's Profiles in Courage considered the notion of political courage within the institutional setting of Congress this book explores leadership within the context of the modern American university The roles of persuasion and communication are highlighted as the author weaves the principal patterns from each of the six case studies to the situational conditions that faced these extraordinary individuals Padilla offers valuable suggestions on how to improve selection of leaders and increase organizational effectiveness The author's plan follows three circles that overlap to form its basic framework 1 The university as a complex organization 2 Leadership its patterns theories and commonalities and 3 Case studies of exemplary leaders which highlight their early experiences and actions The overlap of the three circles defines the conclusions and synthesis Each leader's story covers four areas Childhood background formal schooling education senior leadership roles and major defining events successes and failures and forecasts for higher education and its leadership The book includes an assortment of public and private universities which provides a diversity of leaders who face significant differences in terms of control financing and oversight This diversity allows for more useful comparisons and contrasts The author explains the enormous role that persuasion rather than domination or power plays in successful leadership It is clear that persuasion is effective in many settings and not just in the university environment but it is particularly effective

Njobati, Frederick Fondzenyuy, The study is concerned with the self understanding of Protestant secondary school principals about their school leadership in the context of Cameroon where education is rooted in missionary and colonial times The debate at international level on whether or not none state schools are widening inequality gaps and whether school leadership is contributing to enlightenment or to fundamentalism matter in researching about the Protestant school profile and leadership The study therefore seeks to answer the research question What are the perceptions of secondary school principals of Protestant schools about their school leadership The research was conceptualized as exploratory and hypothesis generating within the qualitative approach It used semi structured interviews to collect data from 26 theoretically sampled secondary school principals The data was analyzed by qualitative content analysis using the grounded theory in an iterative deductive inductive way Through the generalization process of abduction and by a deep analysis of the empirical data the criteria which constitute the categories of quality first emerged Thereafter six ideal types of leading understanding were generated and consists of 1 call for superiority leadership 2 state conformational leadership 3 ecclesiastical leadership 4 community participatory leadership 5 vocation to serve leadership and 6 diaconal leadership Further analysis revealed a multi dimensional self understanding by principals on the Protestant ethos of schools and their leadership function Thus not all the six ideal leadership types are contributing to quality education On the one hand there are fundamentalist leaders focusing on normative aspects of discipline while on the other hand there are leaders promoting democratic values or working in a diaconal way promoting social justice Furthermore principals show little awareness of belonging to the church as a global institution     Portraits of Leadership Diane Caton Desrosiers, Lesley College.
