Border security has been high on public policy agendas in Europe and North America since the September 11 2001 attacks on the World Trade Centre in New York City and on the headquarters of the American military in Washington DC

Governments are now confronted with managing secure borders a policy objective that in this era of increased free trade and globalization must compete with intense cross border flows of people and goods Border security policies must enable security personnel to identify or filter out dangerous individuals and substances from among the millions of travelers and tons of goods that cross borders daily particularly in large cross border urban regions This book addresses this gap between security needs and an understanding of borders and borderlands Specifically the chapters in this volume ask policy makers to recognize that two fundamental elements define borders and borderlands first human activities the agency and agent power of individual ties and forces spanning a border and second the broader social processes that frame individual action such as market forces government activities law regulations and policies and the regional culture and politics of a borderland Borders emerge as the historically and geographically variable expression of human ties exercised within social structures of varying force and influence and it is the interplay and interdependence between people's incentives to act and the surrounding structures i.e. constructed social processes that contain and constrain individual action that determine the effectiveness of border security policies This book argues that the nature of borders is to be porous which is a problem for security policy makers It shows that when for economic cultural or political reasons human activities increase across a border and borderland governments need to increase cooperation and collaboration with regard to security policies if only to avoid implementing mismatched security policies Published in English La Colombia del posacuerdo Varios Autores, 2018-12-04

En 2014 cuando la negociación entre el Estado colombiano con las Fuerzas Armadas Revolucionarias de Colombia FARC tomaba rumbos tan interesantes como problemáticos un grupo de investigadores lideró una alianza estratégica con docentes de distintas áreas disciplinares y de diversas universidades con el fin de iniciar un proyecto editorial de largo aliento que se concebía más como un programa de investigación y cuyo objetivo consistía en aportar estudios y reflexiones sobre los retos que como sociedad tenemos en la construcción de paz y en la tramitación no violenta de nuestros conflictos socioculturales políticos y económicos Desde esta dinámica el proyecto editorial en mención materializó sus resultados a través de tres insumos Teorías y tramas del conflicto armado en Colombia 2014 Perspectivas multidimensionales de la paz en Colombia 2015 y Esta guerra que se va territorio y violencias desigualdad y fragmentación social 2017 Un acumulado de 1200 páginas escritas distribuidas en 34 capítulos con aportes de 38 autores sobre las más diversas temáticas prácticas políticas y

Schweiss, 2017-11-30 Many of the US criticisms of Western European reluctance to engage in the 2004 war in Iraq stem from a perception that these governments are weak on defence or unwilling to pull their own weight in the international system Secretary Rumsfeld pejoratively designated traditional Atlantic Alliance allies as Old Europe to distinguish them from the freshly minted cooperative states of New Europe In doing so Rumsfeld accused Old Europe of yet again relying on the United States to solve shared security problems This volume critically evaluates the validity of this view of Western European choices and policies Rather than a primary reliance on military force as first line defence it proposes that Western European governments are expanding the set of tools they have to apply to the post Cold War array of security and defence problems The volume examines the emergent European security approach from multiple perspectives in multiple institutions and identities and in different geographic contexts SAIS Review ,2004
