Tolba, 2012-12-06 To Die in Cuba Louis A. Pérez, 2005 In this illustrated social and cultural history of suicide in Cuba Louis A Perez Jr explores the way suicide passed from the unthinkable to the unremarkable in Cuban society In a study that spans the experiences of enslaved Africans and indentured Chinese in the colony nationalists of the twentieth century republic and emigrants from Cuba to Florida following the 1959 revolution Perez finds that the act of suicide was loaded with meanings that changed over time Connecting Lines Luis Cortés Bargalló, 2006 Since the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848 the United States and Mexico have been inextricably linked The blending of the American and Mexican cultures has enriched both nations Through a partnership to promote wider access to literary voices of Mexican artists in the U S and American writers in Mexico the National Endowment for the Arts the United States Embassy in Mexico and the National Autonomous University of Mexico have joined together to support a program of anthology publications and public outreach activities The two volume set Lineas conectadas nueva poesia de los Estados Unidos and Connecting Lines New Poetry from Mexico is the first installment in the series With definitive translations by leading writers and scholars these dual volumes offer a glimpse into the beauty of the Mexican and the American experience through the microscopic lens of poetry Whether read for personal pleasure or classroom study Lineas conectadas and Connecting Lines are a must read for anyone curious of our ever increasing multicultural identity Publisher s website

In Search of an Ecological Constitution Ezio Costa Cordella,2022-04-15 One of the differentiating factors of our present is the increased environmental awareness However this has not yet been converted into social economic and law systems that reveal the multiple challenges that are imposed on us The destructive impulse of the dominant ideologies in the twentieth century maintains the hegemony of their spaces barely trying to adapt itself into a new reality that surpasses them Meanwhile in 1972 we believed there was a marked environmental degradation in 2022 we recognize that we are in the middle of the sixth mass extinction of the species the earth temperature has already increased in more than one degree Celsius and a significant percent of the planet s sweet water is contaminated If the Constitution that Chile is planning to write and set in force in the years to come wants to capture the logic of our times it is essential that it sets as something basic the environmental conditions where the legal political communities constituted by the chileans communities are going to develop This book explores the details of the Ecological Constitution concept that refers to the provisions that have to be contained in a Constitution in a transversal way and that setting the environmental protection as a central axis of the social organization attempts to harmonize the social and nature activities The new Constitution of Chile won t change everything but it can constitute a first fundamental base on that change This book is an invitation to dream with that possibility and reflect on the different ways that the Constitution can take us in that direction The systematic changes are urgent and we are in the position to begin with them Ezio Costa Cordella

Conservation in Chilean Patagonia Juan Carlos Castilla, Juan J. Armesto Zamudio, María José Martínez-Harms, David Tecklin, 2024-01-03 Chilean Patagonia located at the southwestern tip of South America is one of the last regions on earth where highly intact environments predominate With a coastline that extends along some 100 000 km of fjords channels and islands it has one of the world's most extensive marine terrestrial interfaces Local place based and Indigenous cultures and management practices are a vital presence across the region while the long and rich history of conservation efforts have resulted in officially protected areas covering over 50% of the land and 41% of the coastal marine area However Chilean Patagonia is increasingly facing anthropogenic pressures associated with increased infrastructure and access salmon aquaculture extractive industries and the spread of invasive exotic species Despite widespread recognition that Chilean Patagonia represents a unique global reservoir of socio natural heritage to date there has been no region wide assessment of the scientific evidence of the conservation status of its ecosystems or the priorities for their effective conservation

Conservation in Chilean Patagonia Assessing the state of knowledge opportunities and challenges is the first book to gather and synthesize the available scientific and socio environmental information related to Patagonian conservation It presents the collaborative work of 68 researchers and local experts representing a range of specialties and perspectives including biology ecology socio ecology fisheries aquaculture anthropology economics geography tourism cryosphere oceanography climate and global change The book's 18 chapters focus on the status of key ecosystems and conservation tools and provide recommendations toward the construction of a renewed inclusive and integrated conservation agenda for the Chilean Patagonian region It provides an essential primer for anyone interested in the future of this ecologically vital region as well as lessons on interdisciplinary collaboration and integrated analysis of conservation issues useful for conservation practitioners and scholars This is an open access book This book is a translation of an original Spanish edition The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL.com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation
