Post Soviet Women From The Baltic To Central Asia:

Post-Soviet Women Mary Buckley, 1997-07-13 This volume is the first to take a systematic look at the position of women in the post Soviet states of the former USSR

Everyday Islam in Post-Soviet Central Asia Maria Elisabeth Louw, 2007-05-09 Providing a wealth of empirical research on the everyday practise of Islam in post Soviet Central Asia this book gives a detailed account of how Islam is understood and practised among ordinary Muslims in the region focusing in particular on Uzbekistan It shows how individuals negotiate understandings of Islam as an important marker for identity grounding for morality and as a tool for everyday problem solving in the economically harsh socially insecure and politically tense atmosphere of present day Uzbekistan Presenting a detailed case study of the city of Bukhara that focuses upon the local forms of Sufism and saint veneration the book shows how Islam facilitates the pursuit of more modest goals of agency and belonging as opposed to the utopian illusions of fundamentalist Muslim doctrines

Post-Soviet Women Ann-Mari Sätre, Yulia Gradszkova, Vladislava Vladimirova, 2023-10-26 This volume explores how different post Soviet countries have reinterpreted and diverged from the Soviet gender roles and values It synthesizes results from multiple empirical studies that attend to increasingly conservative features of political governance in the region particularly the authoritarian regime in Russia The authors consider diverse enactments of ideologies policies and practices of gender equality and women's rights in crucial areas such as legislative institutions media and social activism The volume contributes to understanding post Soviet societal dynamics relevant to United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 5 which emphasizes gender equality as part of fundamental human rights

The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline Jones Luong, 2018-08-06 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their task was complicated by the institutional and ideological legacy of the Soviet system as well as by a more actively engaged international community These nascent states inherited a set of institutions that included bloated bureaucracies centralized economic planning and patronage networks Some of these institutions survived others have mutated and new institutions have been created Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region Through the prism of local institutions the authors reassess both our understanding of Central Asia and of the state building process more broadly They scrutinize a wide array of institutional actors ranging from regional governments and neighborhood committees to transnational and non governmental organizations With original empirical research and theoretical insight the volume's contributors illuminate an obscure but resource rich and strategically significant region

The European Handbook of Central Asian Studies Jeroen Fauve, Adrien De Cordier, B. J. Van Den Bosch, 2021-10-19 This handbook is the first collection of comprehensive teaching materials for teachers and students of Central Asian Studies CAS with a strong pedagogic dimension It presents 22 chapters clustered around five themes with contributions from more than

19 scholars all leading experts in the field of CAS and Eurasian Studies This collection is not only a reference work for scholars branching out to different disciplines of CAS but also for scholars from other disciplines broadening their scope to CAS It addresses post colonial frameworks and also untangles topics from their Soviet reference frame It aims to de exoticize the region and draws parallels to European or to historically European occupied territories In each chapter the handbook provides a concise but nuanced overview of the topics covered in which way these have been approached by the mainstream literature and points out pitfalls myths and new insights providing background knowledge about Central Asia to readers and intertwine this with an advanced level of insight to leave the readers equipped with a strong foundation to approach more specialized sources either in classroom settings or by self study In addition the book offers a comprehensive glossary list of used abbreviations overview of intended learning outcomes and a smart index distinguishing between names locations concepts and events A list of recorded lectures to be found on YouTube will accompany the handbook either as instruction materials for teachers or visual aids for students Since the authors themselves recorded the lectures related to their own chapters this provides the opportunity to engage in a more personalized way with the authors This project is being developed in the framework of the EISCAS project www.eiscas.eu co funded by the Erasmus Program of the European Union

Women of Asia Mehrangiz Najafizadeh,Linda Lindsey,2018-07-11 With thirty two original chapters reflecting cutting edge content throughout developed and developing Asia Women of Asia Globalization Development and Gender Equity is a comprehensive anthology that contributes significantly to understanding globalization s transformative process and the resulting detrimental and beneficial consequences for women in the four major geographic regions of Asia East Asia Southeast Asia South Asia and Eurasia Central Asia as it gives voice to women and provides innovative ways through which salient understudied issues pertaining to Asian women s situation are brought to the forefront , Social and Cultural Change in Central Asia Sevket Akyildiz,Richard Carlson,2013-10-15 Focusing on Soviet culture and its social ramifications both during the Soviet period and in the post Soviet era this book addresses important themes associated with Sovietisation and socialisation in the Central Asian states of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan The book contains contributions from scholars in a variety of disciplines and looks at topics that have been somewhat marginalised in contemporary studies of Central Asia including education anthropology music literature and poetry film history and state identity construction and social transformation It examines how the Soviet legacy affected the development of the republics in Central Asia and how it continues to affect the society culture and polity of the region Although each state in Central Asia has increasingly developed its own way the book shows that the states have in varying degrees retained the influence of the Soviet past or else are busily establishing new political identities in reaction to their Soviet legacy and in doing so laying claim to re defining and reinventing pre Soviet and Soviet images and narratives Throwing new light and presenting alternate points of view on the question of the Soviet legacy in the Soviet Central Asian successor states the book is of interest to academics in the field of Russian and Central Asian Studies Sacrificing Women to Save the Family? ,2001

Innovation and Market Globalization Carlo Corsi, Ali Akhunov, 2000 Fourteen papers presented at a NATO sponsored workshop held in September 1998 in Samarkand address development trends in the transition countries of Central Asia Workshop goals were to stimulate industry RandD for small medium enterprises and foster cooperation between East and West participants included researchers from the science technology and business sectors in Europe Georgia Kazakhstan Turkey Ukraine the US and Uzbekistan The papers are in English sometimes to their detriment as a result of inexperienced translation c Book News Inc Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia Judith Beyer, Peter Finke, 2020-05-21 Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia focuses on how tradition is everyday ified in contemporary Central Asia including Tatarstan and Tibet and what people seek to achieve in its name The case studies range from political demonstrations and industrial workers gatherings to institutions of religious education minority communities weddings and the Internet In this volume we regard tradition as a practice that needs to be explored in its institutional and interactional context at a particular time rather than as a reliable guide to the past tradition can only be judged from the present it is an interpretative concept not a descriptive one While the scholarly debate has so far centered on what tradition entails and what it does not including the question of invention and ownership less attention has been devoted to investigating how tradition is enacted enforced or motivated in short how it gets done In Central Asia practices of traditionalization are closely related to the transformation of the socialist order and the emergence of highly stratified societies This volume asks When does tradition emerge as a line of argumentation who are the actors invoking it and how is it being materially manifested Practices of Traditionalization in Central Asia will be of great interest to scholars of Central Asia Anthropology History Political Science and Sociology The chapters were originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey Adapting to Russia's New Labour Market Sarah Ashwin, 2004-08-02 This book examines the new labour market in Russia looking especially at how changes in the market are affecting men and women differently and how coping strategies are being developed by both men and women

Conflict, Cleavage, and Change in Central Asia and the Caucasus Karen Dawisha, Bruce Parrott, 1997-06-13 This volume examines the former Soviet states of Central Asia and the Caucasus The Palgrave Handbook of Women's Political Rights Susan Franceschet, Mona Lena Krook, Netina Tan, 2018-10-26 This Palgrave Handbook provides a definitive account of women s political rights across all major regions of the world focusing both on women s right to vote and women s right to run for political office This dual focus makes this the first book to combine historical overviews of debates about enfranchising women alongside analyses of more contemporary efforts to increase women s political representation around the globe Chapter authors map and assess the impact of these groundbreaking reforms providing insight into these dynamics in a wide array of countries where women s suffrage and representation have taken different paths and led to varying degrees of transformation On the eve of many countries celebrating a century of women s suffrage as well as record numbers of women elected and appointed to political office this timely volume offers an important introduction to ongoing developments related to women's political empowerment worldwide. It will be of interest to students and scholars across the fields of gender and politics, women's studies, history and sociology.

Masculinities of Tajik Labor Migrants Rustam Samadov, 2025-01-10 This book explores masculinities of Tajik men and offers insights on how migrant and non-migrant men maintain their gender identity and adjust their gender practices in the context of transnational labor migration from Tajikistan to Russia. Being in the state of transnational in-betweenness, Tajik non-migrant men and often their spouses need to adapt to gender norms of both Russian and Tajik gender orders despite the orders very different and at times contradicting gender requirements. Therefore, the book provides the first comprehensive analysis of Tajik non-migrant men's masculinities and their navigation between various forms of masculinity: hegemonic, complicit, marginalized, protest, and dominant, thereby performing flexible and strategic masculinity. While focusing on migrant men, this research also highlights the role of women in sustaining their partners' masculine image and the ways how Russian women adjust their gender practices in response to the requirements of Tajik society.

Women, Ethnicity and Nationalism Robert E. Miller, Rick Wilford, 2004-01-14 Women, Ethnicity and Nationalism asks whether societies caught in political or social transition provide new opportunities for women or instead create new burdens and obstacles for them. Using contemporary case studies, each author looks at the interaction of gender, ethnicity, and class in a divided society. The varying experiences of women are discussed in the following countries: Northern Ireland, South Africa, the former Soviet Union, and Yugoslavia, Yemen, Lebanon, and Malaysia.

Gender Politics in Turkey and Russia Gökten Huriye Dogangün, 2019-12-26 Both Russia and Turkey were pioneering examples of feminism in the early 20th Century when the Bolshevik and Republican states embraced an ideology of women's equality. Yet now these countries have drifted towards authoritarianism and the concept of gender is being invoked to reinforce tradition, nationalism, and to oppose Western culture. Gökten Dogangün's book explores the relationship between the state and gender equality in Russia and Turkey, covering the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917 and the Republican Revolution of 1923 and highlighting the very different gender climates that have emerged under the leaderships of Putin and Erdogan. The research is based on analysis of legal documents, statistical data, and reports as well as in-depth interviews with experts, activists, and public officials. Dogangün identifies a climate of neo-traditionalism in contemporary Russia and neo-conservatism in contemporary Turkey and examines how Putin and Erdogan's ambitions to ensure political stability, security, and legitimacy are achieved by promoting commonly held family values grounded in religion and tradition. The book reveals what it means to be a woman in Turkey and Russia today and covers key topics such as hostility towards feminism, women's employment, domestic violence, motherhood, and abortion. Dogangün provides the first comparative study that seeks to understand the escalation of patriarchy and the decline of democracy, which is being witnessed across the world.

Postsocialism C.M. Hann, 2003-09 Social scientist did not predict the collapse of the socialist system in 1989-91. Their attempts to explain postsocialism have not been comprehensive This book examines why for the first time from an anthropological standpoint Globalisation, Religion & Development Mike O'Donnell, Hoshang Noraiee, Dorrie Chetty, Elizabeth Waters, Samane Salimi-Tari, Şevket Alper Koç, Hakkı Cenk, Sermin Sarıca, Alexandra Kelbert, Horacio Gago Priale, Arzu Culhaci, Sibel Fettahoğlu, 2011 Globalisation religion and development have sparked much interest and debates in the last two decades The analysis of religion and especially Islam has been presented in a simplistic notion of linear development and the supposed inability to adapt to modernity and capitalism This journal will consider such views and assess their validity by focusing on Part 1 introducing the theoretical issues and debates surrounding globalisation religion and development illustrating the often contested nature of the concepts and considering the implications for modernity and development Part 2 continuing with the same theme but focusing on gender and development representation of women the effect of modernisation on the increasing consumption of alcohol in Kazakhstan women's access to higher education in revolutionary Iran and finally women and domestic violence Part 3 focusing on case studies to explore the implications of globalisation regionalisation and development in Iran Turkey Sudan Peru and Senegal Gender in Russian History and Culture L. Edmondson, 2001-07-11 This volume charts the changing aspects of gender in Russia's cultural and social history from the late seventeenth century to the Stalinist era and the collapse of the Soviet Union The works while focusing on women as a primary subject highlight in particular gender difference the construction of both femininity and masculinity in a culture that has undergone major transformation and disruptions over the period of three centuries
