Salem Possessed The Social Origins Of Witchcraft Harvard Paperbacks:

SALEM POSSESSED Paul Boyer,1976-01-01 Tormented girls writhing in agony stern judges meting out harsh verdicts nineteen bodies swinging on Gallows Hill The stark immediacy of what happened in 1692 has obscured the complex web of human passion which climaxed in the Salem witch trials From rich and varied sources many neglected and unknown Paul Boyer and Stephen Nissenbaum give us a picture of the people and events more intricate and more fascinating than any other in the massive literature It is a story of powerful and deeply divided families and of a community determined to establish an independent identity beset by restraints and opposition from without and factional conflicts from within and a minister whose obsessions helped to bring this volatile mix to the flash point Not simply a dramatic and isolated event the Salem outbreak has wider implications for our understanding of developments central to the American experience the disintegration of Puritanism the pressures of land and population in New England towns the problems besetting farmer and householder the shifting role of the church and the powerful impact of commercial capitalism Salem Possessed Paul Boyer,Stephen Nissenbaum,1997 Salem Possessed Paul S. Boyer,Stephen Nissenbaum,1982 The Making of Salem Robin DeRosa,2009-10-21 The Salem Witch Trials of 1692 are a case study in hysteria and group psychology and the cultural effects still linger centuries later This critical study examines original trial transcripts historical accounts fiction and drama film and television shows and tourist sites in contemporary Salem challenging the process of how history is collected and recorded Drawing from literary and historical theory as well as from performance studies the book offers a new definition of history and uses Salem as a tool for rethinking the relationships between the truth and the stories people tell about the past

The History of the Book in the West: 1455-1700 Ian Gadd,2017-03-02 Beginning with one of the crucial technological breakthroughs of Western history the development of moveable type by Johann Gutenberg The History of the Book in the West 1455 1700 covers the period that saw the growth and consolidation of the printed book as a significant feature of Western European culture and society The volume collects together seventeen key articles written by leading scholars during the past five decades that together survey a wide range of topics such as typography economics regulation bookselling and reading practices Books whether printed or in manuscript played a major role in the religious political and intellectual upheavals of the period and understanding how books were made distributed and encountered provides valuable new insights into the history of Western Europe in the fifteenth sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Witches of the Atlantic World Elaine G. Breslaw,2000-09 Breslaw history U of Tennessee has created a fascinating reader for undergraduate classes in history anthropology religious studies or women s studies surveying the subject of witches witch hunts and the larger political context of both The sections which cover Christian perspectives non Christian beliefs diabolical possession issues of gender and a lengthy section on the Salem witch trials each include an introduction by Breslaw primary sources then secondary commentaries on the sources The latter are excerpts from books and articles Annotation copyrighted

Westerkamp,2005-08-04 Women in Early American Religion 1600 1850 explores the first two centuries of America s religious history examining the relationship between the socio political environment gender politics and religion Drawing its background from women s religious roles and experiences in England during the Reformation the book follows them through colonial settlement the rise of evangelicalism the American Revolution and the second flowering of popular religion in the nineteenth century Tracing the female spiritual tradition through the Puritans Baptists and Shakers Westerkamp argues that religious beliefs and structures were actually a strong empowering force for women Conspiracy Theories David Coady,2019-03-11 Conspiracy theories have a bad reputation In the past most philosophers have ignored the topic vaguely supposing that conspiracy theories are obviously irrational and that they can be easily dismissed The current philosophical interest in the subject results from a realisation that this is not so Some philosophers have taken up the challenge of identifying and explaining the flaws of conspiracy theories Other philosophers have argued that conspiracy theories do not deserve their bad reputation and that conspiracy theorists do not deserve their reputation for irrationality This book represents both sides of this important debate Aimed at a broad philosophical community including epistemologists political philosophers and philosophers of history It represents a significant contribution to the growing interdisciplinary debate about conspiracy theories George Palmer Putnam Ezra Greenspan,2010-11-01 George Palmer Putnam 1814 published many of the leading American antebellum writers male and female canonical and noncanonical indeed was responsible for the first act of American canonization was the leading publisher of art books in his time and launched Putnam's Monthly led efforts resulting in the institutionalization of the American publishing industry and was the most outspoken promoter of American authorship led the fight in the United States for international copyright was the first American publisher to open an overseas London branch office and for a decade was the leading American agent in the international book trade Putnam's achievements were not limited to his professional sphere he was also the founding Superintendent of the Metropolitan Museum of Art the official publisher to the New York World's Fair of 1853 the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue in New York City during the Civil War and the organizer of the greatest authors publishers dinner ever given in nineteenth century America Friend and confidant to many of the leading figures of his time he was not simply a centrally placed publisher but was one of the most centrally placed people of his entire society This study is based on meticulous archival research into not only Putnam's own papers but into the records of his business the papers of other family members and the archives of persons with whom Putnam had contact through business and social networks In a finely detailed narrative Greenspan weaves together the story of Putnam's life and that of the development of print culture in nineteenth century America to offer an ambitious comprehensive biography of this representative American publisher

Liberalism Undressed Jethro K. Lieberman, 2012-09-12 One of mankind's most enduring questions is the legitimate scope of state power how far and in what ways may the government meddle with people's lives Where lies the line that government ought not cross For more than three centuries the western world has answered these questions with institutions and practices that collectively have come to be known as liberal democracy Though deeply rooted liberalism has stirred critical attacks from both the left and the right and it has never wholly won the day During the past 40 years many of liberalism's most distinguished defenders have presented complex controversial abstruse and even impenetrable theories to justify liberal institutions and practices often relying on metaphysical constructs imaginary beings and fanciful events to fashion abstract liberal principles that rarely reach real world problems In Liberalism Undressed Jethro K Lieberman returns to liberalism's roots to explain in accessible and readable prose why liberalism retains its power and appeal He begins with the memorable thesis of John Stuart Mill who drew from earlier liberal writers that the only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any member of a civilised community against his will is to prevent harm to others Building on Mill's well known but rarely analyzed Harm Principle Liberalism Undressed undertakes to show that this widely accepted precept it's a free country I should be able to do what I want as long as I don't hurt anybody can justify a government robust enough to deal with pressing modern problems of human harm and suffering while restrained enough to provide people freedom to live life on their own terms A powerful reinterpretation of liberalism's foundations it forces us to rethink our understanding of the meaning of harm and the proper role of government in our individual and communal lives

Strange Histories Darren Oldridge, 2017-09-22 Strange Histories is an exploration of some of the most extraordinary beliefs that existed in the late

Middle Ages through to the end of the seventeenth century Presenting serious accounts of the appearance of angels and demons sea monsters and dragons within European and North American history this book moves away from present centred thinking and instead places such events firmly within their social and cultural context By doing so it offers a new way of understanding the world in which dragons and witches were fact rather than fiction and presents these riveting phenomena as part of an entirely rational thought process for the time in which they existed This new edition has been fully updated in light of recent research It contains a new guide to further reading as well as a selection of pictures that bring its themes to life From ghosts to witches to pigs on trial for murder the book uses a range of different case studies to provide fascinating insights into the world view of a vanished age It is essential reading for all students of early modern history
