Hackel,2017-01-15 Recovering lost voices and exploring issues intimate and institutional this sweeping examination of Spanish California illuminates Indian struggles against a confining colonial order and amidst harrowing depopulation To capture the enormous challenges Indians confronted Steven W Hackel integrates textual and quantitative sources and weaves together analyses of disease and depopulation marriage and sexuality crime and punishment and religious economic and political change As colonization reduced their numbers and remade California Indians congregated in missions where they forged communities under Franciscan oversight Yet missions proved disastrously unhealthful and coercive as Franciscans sought control over Indians beliefs and instituted unfamiliar systems of labor and punishment Even so remnants of Indian groups still survived when Mexican officials ended Franciscan rule in the 1830s Many regained land and found strength in ancestral cultures that predated the Spaniards arrival At this study s heart are the dynamic interactions in and around Mission San Carlos Borromeo between Monterey region Indians the Children of Coyote and Spanish missionaries soldiers and settlers Hackel places these local developments in the context of the California mission system and draws comparisons between California and other areas of the Spanish Borderlands and colonial America Concentrating on the experiences of the Costanoan and Esselen peoples during the colonial period Children of Coyote concludes with an epilogue that carries the story of their survival to the present day Journal of the ... Annual Convention, Diocese of New York Episcopal Church. Diocese of New York. Convention,1864 A Politics of Presence Peter Pels,2013-12-16 Christian missions in Africa are commonly viewed as a blatant example of ethnocentrism This stereotype partly exists because the day to day interaction between missionaries and Africans has so rarely been studied This book shows how Africans and missionaries co produced a Catholic Church in the Uluguru mountains of Eastern Tanzania in the late colonial period thereby adapting each others routines in the fields of initiation education magic and religion It explores how the presence of the mission resulted in a rift between spiritual and worldly magic and in the underdevelopment of the capacity of Waluguru to manage their own practices of revelation

A Coalition of Lineages Duane Champagne, Carole Goldberg, 2021-05-25 The experience of the Fernando Tataviam Band of Mission Indians is an instructive model for scholars and provides a model for multicultural tribal development that may be of interest to recognized and nonrecognized Indian nations in the United States and elsewhere

Unequal Lives Nicholas A. Bainton, Debra McDougall, Kalissa Alexeyeff, John Cox, 2021-01-18 As we move further into the twenty first century we are witnessing both the global extensification and local intensification of inequality Unequal Lives deals with the particular dilemmas of inequality in the Western Pacific The authors focus on four dimensions of inequality the familiar triad of gender race and class and the often neglected dimension of generation Grounded in meticulous long term ethnographic enquiry and deep awareness of the historical contingency of these configurations of inequality this volume illustrates the multidimensional multiscale and epistemic nature of contemporary inequality This collection is a major contribution to academic and political debates about the perverse effects of inequality which now ranks among the greatest challenges of our time The inspiration for this volume derives from the breadth and depth of Martha Macintyre's remarkable scholarship The contributors celebrate Macintyre's groundbreaking work which exemplifies the explanatory power ethical force and pragmatism that ensures the relevance of anthropological research to the lives of others and to understanding the global condition Unequal Lives is an impressive collection by Melanesianist anthropologists with reputations for theoretical sophistication ethnographic imagination and persuasive writing It brilliantly illuminates all aspects of the multifaceted scholarship of Martha Macintyre whose life and teaching are also highlighted in the commentaries tributes and interview included in the volume Robert J Foster Professor of Anthropology and Visual and Cultural Studies Richard L Turner Professor of Humanities University of Rochester Inspired by Martha Macintyre's work the contributors to Unequal Lives show that to theorise inequality is a measured project one that requires rescaling its exercise over several decades in order to recognise the reality of inequality as it is known in social relations and to document it critically unravelling their own readiness to misjudge what they see from the lives that are lived by the people with whom they have lived and studied This fine volume shows how the ordinariness of everyday work and care can be a chimera wherein the apparent reality of inequality might mislead less critical reports to obscure its very account From reading it we learn that such unrelenting questioning of what makes lives unequal becomes the very analytic for better understanding lives as they are lived Karen M Sykes Professor of Anthropology University of Manchester

Sisters in Spirit Andreana C. Prichard, 2017-05-01 In this pioneering study historian Andreana Prichard presents an intimate history of a single mission organization the Universities Mission to Central Africa UMCA told through the rich personal stories of a group of female African lay evangelists Founded by British Anglican missionaries in the 1860s the UMCA worked among refugees from the Indian Ocean slave trade on Zanzibar and among disparate communities on the adjacent Tanzanian mainland Prichard illustrates how the mission's unique theology and the demographics of its adherents produced cohorts of African Christian women who in the face of linguistic and cultural dissimilarity used the daily performance of a certain set of civilized Christian values and affective relationships to evangelize to new inquirers. The UMCA's sisters in spirit ultimately forged a united spiritual community that spanned discontinuous mission stations across Tanzania and Zanzibar, incorporated diverse ethnolinguistic communities and transcended generations. Focusing on the emotional and personal dimensions of their lives and on the relationships of affective spirituality that grew up among them, Prichard tells stories that are vital to our understanding of Tanzanian history, the history of religion and Christian missions in Africa, the development of cultural nationalisms and the intellectual histories of African women.

Mormonism: The Basics John Charles Duffy, David J Howlett, 2016-10-26 Although often regarded as marginal or obscure, Mormonism is a significant American religious minority, numerically and politically. The successes and struggles of this U.S.-born religion reveal much about how religion operates in U.S. society. Mormonism: The Basics introduces the teachings, practices, evolution, and internal diversity of this movement, whose cultural icons range from Mitt Romney to the Twilight saga, from young male missionaries in white shirts and ties to polygamous women in pastel prairie dresses. This is the first introductory text on Mormonism that tracks not only the mainstream LDS but also two other streams within the movement: the liberalized RLDS and the polygamous Fundamentalists, thus showing how Mormons have pursued different approaches to defining their identity and their place in society. The book addresses these questions: Are Mormons Christian and why does it matter? How have Mormons worked out their relationship to the state? How have Mormons diverged in their thinking about gender and sexuality? How do rituals and regulations shape Mormon lives? What types of sacred spaces have Mormons created? What strategies have Mormons pursued to establish a global presence? Mormonism: The Basics is an ideal introduction for anyone wanting to understand this religion within its primarily American but increasingly globalized contexts. The Missionary Herald at Home and Abroad, 1886 The Missionary Herald, 1900 Vols for 1828-1934 contain the Proceedings at large of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Home Mission Monthly, 1916 Lists and Indexes Great Britain. Watt, Michael Mann, 2011-03-15 Civilizing Missions in Colonial and Postcolonial South Asia offers a series of analyses that highlights the complexities of British and Indian civilizing missions in original ways and through various historiographical approaches. In Birth Politics, Ogechukwu E. Williams examines the cultural, political, and medical connections that have shaped childbirth in Nigeria from the colonial era to the present Offering a unique perspective on competing frameworks and their influence on Nigerian maternal health care this book calls attention to the complex relationships between traditional midwives biomedical maternities and faith based birthing homes With a focus on Nigeria s colonial and post colonial history Williams explores how childbirth became a battleground for control legitimacy and societal transformation Through critical examination the work reveals how international organizations and local actors ranging from traditional healers to missionary nurses and Aladura faith leaders negotiated their roles within an evolving health care landscape By underscoring the intersections that emerged among these players it also addresses the urgent relevance of medical pluralism in tackling contemporary health inequities and Nigeria s ongoing challenges with maternal mortality Highlighting the influences of international organizations colonial administrators and indigenous practitioners Williams provides a comprehensive and nuanced history that redefines our understanding of reproductive health care and its deeply rooted connections to state power gender dynamics religious sentiments and cultural identity Panoplist, and Missionary Magazine ,1916
