Violence is a central issue of contemporary society at all levels affecting human relationships from the most intimate to the most impersonal But what is violence Is violence justifiable What relevance does the fate of the victim of violence have to such questions To address these and similar questions this volume brings together thinkers from a wide range of philosophical backgrounds who employ a rich variety of methods ranging from the strictly analytic to the postmodern They explore issues such as responsibility provocation violation cruelty self determination and deception in attempting to understand violence in relation both to the suffering of its victims and the justifications offered by its perpetrators and their supporters In exploring these issues the essays collected in this volume explore terrorism rape genocide and state sponsored violence clarity and precision the invention and re invention of sexual meanings the question of what constitutes a true sex and the biological and social roots of sexual difference the challenges of diversity the re making of sexuality as a highly divisive political subject and the implications of the transformation of intimate life in the past few generations These are seen in the context of profound changes that are re fashioning the world especially globalisation cyber sex and the rise of new forms of agency including among women and LGBTQ people which have fed into new claims for sexual human rights This new edition of Sexuality will be an indispensable guide for students in the social sciences with an interest in the ever changing worlds of sexuality

Cotten, 2012 Transgender Migrations brings together a top notch collection of emerging and established scholars to examine the way that the term migration can be used not only to look at the way trans bodies migrate from one gender to the another but the way that trans people migrate in the larger geopolitical contexts of immigration reform the war on terror the war on drugs and the increased policing of national borders The book centers trans experiences identities and politics and treats these identities as inextricably intertwined with other social identities institutions and discourses of sexuality nationality race and ethnicity globalization colonialism and terrorism The chapter authors explore not only the movement of bodies in through and across spaces and borders but also chart the metamorphoses of these bodies in relation to migration and mobility Transgender Migrations takes the theory documented in The Transgender Studies Reader and blows it up to a global scale It is the logical next step for scholarship in this dynamic emerging field

Boundary Writing Lynette Russell, 2006-06-30 Have globalization and the emergence of virtual cultures reduced cultural diversity Will the world become homogenized or Americanized Boundary Writing sets out to demonstrate that this oversimplification denies the reality that today there is greater space for cultural diversity than ever before It explores the desire to categorize individuals and collectivities into racial ethnic gender and sexuality categories black and white men and women gay and straight which is a feature of most Western societies More specifically it analyzes the boundaries and edges of these categories and concepts Across nine chapters contributors reveal that such binaries are often too restrictive Through a series of case studies they consider how these various concepts overlap coincide and at times conflict They investigate the tension between these classifications that in turn produce individual speaking positions Many people indigenous native Anglo settler recent migrants of diverse ethnic backgrounds gay transgender queer occupy an in between position that is strategically shifting with the social political and economic circumstances of the individual In Boundary Writing the reader will journey through various complex permutations of identity and in particular the ways in which indigeneity race sex and gender interact and even counter act one another Contributors Erez Cohen Aaron Corn Bruno David Neparrna Gumbula Michele Grossman Myfanwy McDonald Clive Moore Stephen Pritchard Liz Reed Lynette Russell
