Nouvelle Revue De Psychanalyse 35 On James:

The Reception of Henry James in Europe Annick Duperray, 2006 This collection of essays prepared by an international team of scholars and translators examines the ways in which Henry James was translated published and reviewed in Europe

Like a Film Timothy Murray, 2005-08-02 In this stimulating collection of theoretical writings on film photography and art Timothy Murray examines relations between artistic practice sexual and racial politics theory and cultural studies Like a Film investigates how the cinematic apparatus has invaded the theory of culture suggesting that the many destabilising traumas of our culture remain accessible to us because they are structured so much like film The book analyses the impact of cinematic perceptions and productions on a wide array of cultural practices from the Renaissance works of Shakespeare and Caravaggio to modern sexual and political fantasy and the theoretical work of Lyotard Torok Barthes Ropars Willeumier Zizek

Silverman and Laplanche Like A Film responds to current multicultural debates over the value of theory and the aim of artistic practice Moral Language Mary Gore Forrester, 1982 Widespread disagreements about matters of right and wrong have led many philosophers and non philosophers to conclude that moral knowledge is impossible Nevertheless we all make moral pronouncement every day In this book Mary Gore Forrester considers the nature of the language we use in ordinary life to make those moral evaluations what that language indicates about the criteria we use for making such evaluations and the conditions for determining the truth or falsity of moral evaluations Specialists in ordinary language philosophy will enjoy Forrester's arguments to the effect that the descriptivist's position on moral language is correct and that non descriptivist positions on the matter can be disproved The Blind in French Society from the Middle Ages to the Century of Louis

Braille Zina Weygand, 2009-08-07 The integration of the blind into society has always meant taking on prejudices and inaccurate representations Weygand's highly accessible anthropological and cultural history introduces us to both real and imaginary figures from the past uncovering French attitudes towards the blind from the Middle Ages through the first half of the nineteenth century Much of the book however centers on the eighteenth century the enlightened age of Diderot's emblematic blind man and of the Institute for Blind Youth in Paris founded by Valentin Haüy the great benefactor of blind people Weygand paints a moving picture of the blind admitted to the institutions created for them and of the conditions under which they lived from the officially sanctioned beggars of the medieval Quinze Vingts to the cloth makers of the Institute for Blind Workers She has also uncovered their fictional counterparts in an impressive array of poems plays and novels The book concludes with Braille whose invention of writing with raised dots gave blind people around the world definitive access to silent reading and to written communication Figural Philology Adi Efal, 2016-10-20 Though inspired by a Panofskyan legacy this book diverges at certain points from Erwin Panofsky's declared objectives and calls attention to several of aspects that were until now less accentuated in his intellectual reception Insisting on the importance of iconology as a method for art history and the humanities in general it shows how examining this promotes a cooperation between the history of art and the history of philosophy It discusses whether Panofsky's method could be of use for general questions in the epistemology of the historical sciences that examine human works Figural Philology also shows that Panofsky shares affinities with twentieth century romance philology A reading of Panofsky's work alongside the philological enterprise of Erich Auerbach and several other authors demonstrates that a proper appropriation of the philological impulse can provide a way out of the methodological antimony still hanging between hyper formalist and hyper theoretical approaches to the history of art

Corps/décors: femmes, orgie, parodie / Bodyscape: Women, Orgy, Parody, 2023-07-10 This volume written in honor of Lucienne Frappier Mazur Professor Emerita of French at the University of Pennsylvania reflects her wide ranging contributions to the study of French literature especially the writings of Balzac Sade and Sand Organized into five sections it brings together 23 original essays in English and French by noted scholars of history and literature the majority of which explore various inscriptions of the body especially the female body in political and literary discourse Many of the issues engaged in these essays the body as a cultural product insofar as it forms the basis for constructions of the modern nation state as well as the exclusion of women from that social body the baroque setting of orgy and the performance of the erotic eroticized body on that scene the representation of poor and working class bodies women's autobiographical praxis parody testify to the influential scholarship of Frappier Mazur The broad spectrum of authors in this volume is noteworthy In addition to essays on Shakespeare Rousseau Sade Balzac Nerval Flaubert Lautréamont Mallarmé Zola there are also studies devoted to Restif de la Bretonne Olympe de Gouges Louise Michel Poictevin Rachilde Jean Lorrain Marthe Bibesco Nathalie Sarraute Michel Leiris Daniel Pennac and Ken Bugul

Playing the Martyr Christopher Semk, 2017-01-06 Playing the Martyr is a book about the interplay between theater and religion in early modern France Challenging the standard narrative of modernity as a process of increased secularization Christopher Semk demonstrates the centrality of religious thought and practices to the development of neoclassical poetics Engaging with a broad corpus of religious plays poetic treatises devotional literature and contemporary theory Semk shows that religion was a vital interlocutor in early modern discussions concerning the definition of verisimilitude the nature and purpose of spectacle the mechanics of acting and the position of the spectator Well researched and persuasively argued Playing the Martyr makes the case for a more complicated approach to the relationship between religion and literature namely one that does not treat religion as a theme deployed within literary works but as an active player in literary invention Indeed it makes the case for a serious reconsideration of the role that religion plays in the development of modern secular literary forms

Fra Angelico Georges Didi-Huberman, Angelico (fra), 1995-10-15 A Florentine painter who took Dominican vows Fra Angelico 1400-1455 approached his work as a largely theological project For him the problems of representing the unrepresentable of portraying the divine and the spiritual mitigated the more secular breakthroughs in imitative technique Didi-Huberman explores Fra Angelico's solutions to these problems his use of color to signal approaching visibility of marble to recall Christ's tomb of paint drippings to simulate or stimulate holy anointing He shows how the painter employed emptiness visual transformation and displacement to give form to the mystery of faith In the work of Fra Angelico an alternate strain of Renaissance painting emerges to challenge rather than reinforce verisimilitude Didi Huberman traces this disruptive impulse through theological writings and iconographic evidence and identifies a widespread tradition in Renaissance art that ranges from Giotto's break with Byzantine image making well into the sixteenth century He reveals how the techniques that served this ultimately religious impulse may have anticipated the more abstract characteristics of modern art such as color fields paint splatterings and the absence of color Part of Didi Huberman's large scale rethinking of art theory and history and the first of his books to appear in English translation Fra Angelico is a fitting introduction to one of the most original and celebrated writers in the world of art history and criticism

Cultural Theory and Psychoanalytic Tradition David James Fisher, 2009-01-01 The culture of psychoanalysis has many traditions and multiple schools of theory and thought This work presents informative and original investigations into three overlapping areas of psychoanalytic tradition the history of psychoanalysis psychoanalytic culture criticism and the application of psychoanalytic methods to the study of history In this carefully crafted evaluation of various authors and subjects Fisher's perceptions are informed by a deep and comprehensive knowledge of the psychoanalytic movement its interaction with the wider context of European cultural and political history and its philosophical and clinical origins In examining the history of the movement Fisher attempts to discover the fundamental inspiration of psychoanalysis by returning to the origins of the discipline Freud is the central figure here but Fisher also looks to the second generation of European analysts including such maverick figures as Lacan and Spielrein and mainstream figures as Fenichel to gain insight into the multidimensional and creative personalities who were drawn to Freud and his ideas In his discussion of psychoanalytic culture criticism Fisher analyzes symbolic meanings and psychological themes from a variety of written works In an analysis of Freud's Civilization and Its Discontents the author argues that the figure of Romain Rolland is pervasive throughout the text as symbol muse stimulus and adversary Reading analytic theory and applying it to personalities and situations from the past allowed historians to address issues of their own inner world and to develop breathtaking possibilities for understanding the past Brilliantly written and historical and critical in method Cultural Theory and Psychoanalytic Tradition offers valuable insights into significant themes and ambiguities in the diverse areas of psychoanalysis Intellectual historians and psychoanalysts will find reliable introductions and springboards for subsequent reflection and research David James Fisher is Clinical Instructor Department of Psychiatry UCLA School of Medicine Senior Faculty Member New Center for Psychoanalysis Los Angeles and Training and Supervising Analyst Institute of Contemporary Psychoanalysis He has published three books Bettelheim Living and Dying Romain Rolland and the Politics of Intellectual Engagement and this book He has published articles on the points of convergence of European cultural history and the history of psychoanalysis including essays on Lacan Foucault Sartre Camus Fenichel Spielrein and Bettelheim He is a former student of George L Mosse at the University of Wisconsin Madison and of Georges Haupt of the Sixieme Section of the Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes in Paris France

Writing the History of the Mind Cristina Chimisso, 2016-02-11 For much of the twentieth century French intellectual life was dominated by theoreticians and historians of mentalit Traditionally the study of the mind and of its limits and capabilities was the domain of philosophy however in the first decades of the twentieth century practitioners of the emergent human and social sciences were increasingly competing with philosophers in this field ethnologists sociologists psychologists and historians of science were all claiming to study how people think Scholars including Gaston Bachelard Georges Canguilhem L on Brunschvicg Lucien L vy Bruhl Lucien Febvre Abel Rey Alexandre Koyr and H l ne Metzger were all investigating the mind historically and participating in shared research projects Yet as they have since been appropriated by the different disciplines literature on their findings has so far failed to recognise the connections between their research and their importance in intellectual history In this exemplary book Cristina Chimisso reconstructs the world of these intellectuals and the key debates in the philosophy of mind particularly between those who studied specific mentalities by employing prevalently historical and philological methods and those who thought it possible to write a history of the mind outlining the evolution of ways of thinking that had produced the modern mentality Dr Chimisso situates the key French scholars in their historical context and shows how their ideas and agendas were indissolubly linked with their social and institutional positions such as their political and religious allegiances their status in academia and their familial situation The author employs a vast range of original research using philosophical and scientific texts as well as archive documents correspondence and seminar minutes from the period covered to recreate the milieu in which these relatively neglected scholars made advances in the history of philosophy and science and produced

Library Editions: Feminist Theory Various, 2021-08-07 Routledge Library Editions Feminist Theory brings together as one set or individual volumes a series of previously out of print classics from a variety of academic imprints With titles ranging from The Liberation of Women to Feminists and State Welfare from Married to the Job to Julia Kristeva this set provides in one place a wealth of important reference sources from the diverse field of gender studies Sex for Structuralists Shanna de la Torre, 2018-08-03 This book argues that structuralism makes itself useful when it engages with the non Oedipal logics of femininity and psychosis Building from the psychoanalytic belief that norms repress unconscious desire while structures open onto the creative resources of the symbolic Sex for Structuralists looks to key texts in myth trauma and unconscious fantasy by Sigmund Freud Jacques Lacan and Claude Lévi Strauss It also examines innovative writings by contemporary Lacanian thinkers in order to discover what becomes of structuralism when the ground upon which it ostensibly stands namely that of the zero symbol or the incest prohibition drops out from under it National Library of Medicine Current Catalog

National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1974 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy in Institutional Settings Serge Frisch, R. D. Hinshelwood, Didier Houzel, Julia Pestalozzi, 2019-07-09 This book deals with psychotherapeutic life and work at the interface between psychoanalytic theory and institutional reality It focuses on the set of constraints and pressures which arise as a result of working in institution and how to deal with them

Potential Images Dario Gamboni, 2002 In Potential Images Dario Gamboni explores ambiguity in modern art considering images that rely to a great degree on a projected or imaginative response from viewers to achieve their effect Ambiguity became increasingly important in late 19th and early 20th century aesthetics as is evidenced in works by such artists as Redon Cezanne Gauguin Ensor and the Nabis Similarly the Cubists subverted traditional representational conventions requiring their viewers to decipher images to extract their full meanings The same device was taken up in the various experiments leading to abstraction For example it was Kandinsky's intention that his work could be interpreted in both figurative and non figurative ways and Duchamp's Readymades suggested the radical conclusion that it is the beholder who makes the picture These invitations to viewers to participate in the process of artistic communication had social and political implications as they accorded artist and beholder symmetrical almost interchangeable roles Ceremonial spirit possession in Africa and Afro-America Sheila S. Walker, 2023-11-27 Psychopathologies of the Living Patrick ffrench, Nigel Saint, 2025-09-17 Psychopathologies of the Living makes the work of the French psychoanalyst Pierre F. Dida 1934 2002 available in English for the first time Patrick ffrench and Nigel Saint present key essays selected from F. Dida's extensive oeuvre The book directs attention to two salient dimensions of F. Dida's writing his attention to the pathologies of the body considered as both a psychic and somatic entity and his insistence on the relevance of psychoanalytic thought to the sciences of life The chapters included in this collection detail F. Dida's creative use of aesthetic sources in his psychoanalytic work his distinctive and creative manipulation and revision of central psychoanalytic concepts and his precise attention to the texts of

Freud Ferenczi and Winnicott among others This selection of F dida s essays also shows his avoidance of thematisation or explicit theorisation for F dida the theory of psychoanalysis must arise out of the specific interplay of language and the space of the session Psychopathologies of the Living will be of great interest to psychoanalysts in practice and in training and to academics and scholars of philosophy aesthetics and literary studies

The Meaning of Irony Frank Stringfellow Jr.,1994-07-01 Genuinely interdisciplinary in approach The Meaning of Irony brings together literary analysis and from psychoanalysis both theory and case studies Its investigation ranges from everyday examples of verbal irony conscious and unconscious to the complex irony of literature This book provides the first full account of verbal irony from a psychoanalytic point of view Stringfellow shows how the rhetorical tradition by viewing the literal level of irony as something the speaker doesn t really mean flattens out the rich ambiguities of irony and misses the unconscious meanings that are hidden behind ironic statement He argues that only psychoanalysis can recover these unconscious meanings and reveal the origins of irony
