,1832 What's the Least I Can Believe and Still be a Christian? Martin Thielen,2013-01-01 Pastor and author Martin

Thielen has compiled a list of ten things people need to believe and ten things they don't in order to be a Christian. This lively and engaging book will be a help to seekers as well as a comfort to believers who may find themselves questioning some of the assumptions they grew up with. With an accessible storytelling style that's grounded in solid biblical scholarship, Thielen shows how Christians don't need to believe that sinners will be left behind to burn in hell or that it's heresy to believe in evolution. And while we must always take the Bible seriously, we don't always have to take it literally. At the same time, Christians do need to believe in Jesus, his life, his teachings, his death and resurrection, and his vision for the world. A great benefit of those beliefs is that they provide promising answers to life's most profound questions, including: Where is God? What matters most? What brings fulfillment? What about suffering? Is there hope? Thielen articulates centrist mainline Christianity in a way that's fresh and easy to understand and offers authentic Christian insights that speak to our deepest needs. This new edition includes a leader's guide previously only available online and a new introduction from the author that reflects on the book's reception. The leader's guide features unique and easily implemented aids for carrying out a seven-week congregation-wide initiative that will help local churches reach out to their communities. If you ever wished to read through the Bible but hit a snag along the way, this book is for you. For it presents an ideal opportunity to become intimately acquainted with the biblical message and storyline while providing momentum for even the most skeptical and hesitant reader. If you can commit fifteen to twenty minutes a day and are willing to stick to the schedule presented in this book, in less than a year you can read through the Bible and know you have acquired a basic grasp of its individual and overall message. Aggressive readers can complete the task in half the time if they wish to double the time commitment or split their reading into two fifteen-minute blocks a day. Those who follow this method will find that the readings reduce the Old Testament by 44 percent and the New Testament by 32 percent for a total reduction of 41 percent of the biblical text. To counter immature, skewed, or harmful attitudes regarding scripture, A Bible for Today offers an approach to biblical reading and study that is valid, inspiring, and practical. It does so by eliminating not only repetitive passages but also blocks of material that modern readers wishing to build on a Christian foundation find ponderous, lengthy, and no longer applicable. In contrast to most abridgments and condensations of scripture, this volume provides a logical sequence of readings that students of scripture can follow in whatever version they select, acquainting themselves with essential biblical passages and teachings in less than a year's time. In addition, this book provides introductory overviews to each book of the Bible, succinct enough to be readable yet literarily, historically, and theologically reliable and informative. What is Christianity? Thomas Vowler, SHORT (successively Bishop of Sodor and Man and of St. Asaph.), 1843 The Hebrew Christian Alliance Quarterly, 1917 Questions on the four Gospels (Acts of the Apostles, Epistle to the Romans, First epistle to the Corinthians, Epistle to the Hebrews). Albert Barnes, 1852 Christian Existence Today Stanley Hauerwas, 2010-09-01 Stanley Hauerwas begins this volume with a vigorous response to the charge of sectarianism leveled against his work by James Gustafson among others Show me where I am wrong about God Jesus the limits of liberalism the nature of the virtues or the doctrine of the church Hauerwas replies to his critics but do not shortcut that task by calling me a sectarian The essays that follow explore in a lucid compelling firm and provocative way the church s nature message and ministry in the world Hauerwas writes on the church as God s new language on clerical character on the pastor as prophet on the ministry of the local congregation on grace and public virtue and on the relation of church and university Underlying Hauerwas s argument is his conviction that the most important knowledge Christian convictions involve and there is much worth knowing for which Christians have no special claim requires a transformation of the self Christianity is no world view not a form of primitive metaphysics that can be assessed in comparison to alternative world views Rather Christians are people who remain convinced that the truthfulness of their beliefs must be demonstrated in their lives There is a sense in which Christian convictions are self referential but the reference is not to propositions but to lives
