Racing Certainties:

From Aintree to York Stephen Cartmell, 2011-05-31 Writer and psychologist Stephen Cartmell set off to explore Britain using the cultural melting pot of the UK's 60 racecourses as his staging posts. During his travels the author observed the frequent absurdity of the British the peculiarities of their institutions and developed a satirical critique of one of the country's favourite pastimes. With his acute eye for observation an appreciation of the ridiculous and the ability to find humour even in the face of petty officialdom this acclaimed book is not simply a travelogue of racing but a key to understanding Britain and its curiously comical inhabitants. Racegoer traveller or first time visitor Stephen Cartmell's colourful stories are sure to entertain.

How can sprinter Usain Bolt break his world record without expending any additional effort? What dates of birth give rise to the best professional athletes? Is it better to have the inside or outside lane during a race? Drawing on vivid real life examples mathematician John D Barrow entertainingly explores the eye opening often counterintuitive insights into the world of sports that math and physics can give us.
