Medicine, Health and Being Human Lesa Scholl, 2018-05-11 Medicine Health and Being Human begins a conversation to explore how the medical has defined us that is the ways in which perspectives of medicine and health have affected cultural understandings of what it means to be human With chapters that span from the early modern period through to the contemporary world and are drawn from a range of disciplines this volume holds that incremental historical and cultural influences have brought about an understanding of humanity in which the medical is ingrained consciously or unconsciously usually as a mode of legitimisation Divided into three parts the book follows a narrative path from the integrity of the human soul through to the integrity of the material human body then finally brought together through engaging with end of life responses Part 1 examines the move from spirituality to psychiatry in terms of the way medical science has influenced cultural understandings of the mind Part 2 interrogates the role that medicine has played in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in constructing and deconstructing the self and other including the fusion of visual objectivity and the scientific gaze in constructing perceptions of humanity Part 3 looks at the limits of medicine when the integrity of one body breaks down It contends with the ultimate question of the extent to which humanity is confined within the integrity of the human body and how medicine and the humanities work together toward responding to the finality of death This is a valuable contribution for all those interested in the medical humanities history of medicine history of ideas and the social approaches to health and illness

Indigenous Knowledge and the Environment in Africa and North America David M. Gordon, Shepard Krech III, 2012-03-01 Indigenous knowledge has become a catchphrase in global struggles for environmental justice Yet indigenous knowledges are often viewed incorrectly as pure and primordial cultural artifacts This collection draws from African and North American cases to argue that the forms of knowledge identified as indigenous resulted from strategies to control environmental resources during and after colonial encounters At times indigenous knowledges represented a middle ground of intellectual exchanges between colonizers and colonized elsewhere indigenous knowledges were defined through conflict and struggle The authors demonstrate how people claimed that their hybrid forms of knowledge were communal religious and traditional as opposed to individualist secular and scientific which they associated with European colonialism Indigenous Knowledge and the Environment offers comparative and transnational insights that disturb romantic views of unchanging indigenous knowledges in harmony with the environment The result is a book that informs and complicates how indigenous knowledges can and should relate to environmental policy making Contributors David Bernstein Derick Fay Andrew H Fisher Karen Flint David M Gordon Paul Kelton Shepard Krech III Joshua Reid Parker Shipton Lance van Sittert Jacob Tropp James L A Webb Jr Marsha Weisiger White Musical Mythologies Edmund Mendelssohn, 2023-09-12 In a narrative that extends from fin de siècle Paris to the 1960s Edmund Mendelssohn examines modernist thinkers and composers who engaged with non European and pre modern cultures as they developed new conceptions of pure sound Pairing Erik Satie with Bergson Edgard Varèse with Bataille Pierre Boulez with Artaud and John Cage with Derrida White Musical Mythologies offers an ambitious critical history of the ontology of sound suggesting that the avant garde ideal of pure sound was always an expression of western ethnocentrism Each of the musicians studied in this book re created or appropriated non European forms of expression as they conceived music ontologically often thinking music as something immediate and immersive from Satie's dabblings with mysticism and exoticism in bohemian Montmartre of the 1890s to Varèse's experience of ethnographic exhibitions and surrealist poetry in 1930s Paris and from Boulez's endeavor to theorize a kind of musical writing that would absorb the sounds of non European musical traditions to Cage who took inspiration from Eastern thought as he wrote about sound silence and chance These modernist artists believed that the presence effects of sound in their moment were more real and powerful than the outmoded norms of the European musical past By examining musicians who strove to produce sonic presence specifically by re thinking the concept of musical writing critique the book demonstrates that we cannot fully understand French theory in its novelty and complexity without music and sound Supported by the AMS 75 PAYS Fund of the American Musicological Society supported in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Andrew W Mellon Foundation The Smell of Slavery Andrew Kettler, 2020-05-28 In the Atlantic World different groups were aromatically classified in opposition to other ethnic gendered and class assemblies due to an economic necessity that needed certain bodies to be defined as excremental which culminated in the creation of a progressive tautology that linked Africa and waste through a conceptual hendiadys born of capitalist licentiousness The African subject was defined as a scented object appropriated as filthy to create levels of ownership through discourse that marked African peoples as unable to access spaces of Western modernity Embodied cultural knowledge was potent enough to alter the biological function of the five senses to create a European olfactory consciousness made to sense the African other as foul Fascinating informative and deeply researched The Smell of Slavery exposes that concerns with pungency within the Western self were emitted outward upon the freshly dug outhouse of the mass slave grave called the Atlantic World Women's Negotiations and Textual Agency in Latin America, 1500-1799 Mónica

Díaz, Rocío Quispe-Agnoli, 2016-12 Fidelity discourse and the pacification of tyrants and Indians Do a Mariana Osorio de Narvez Violence and Desire in Brazilian Lesbian Relationships Andrea Stevenson Allen, 2016-04-08 In Violence and

Desire in Brazilian Lesbian Relationships Allen examines the lives of Brazilian women in same sex relationships This examination contributes to interdisciplinary discussions of female same sex sexuality violence race and citizenship Using fifteen months of ethnographic fieldwork primarily with Afro Brazilian women in the city of Salvador da Bahia Allen argues that Brazilian lesbian women reject Brazilian cultural norms that encourage male domination and female submission through their engagement in romantic relationships with each other At the same time Allen claims lesbian women also reproduce Brazilian cultural ideals that associate passion intensity and power with physical dominance through their engagement in infidelity and intimate partner violence The book demonstrates that lesbian women are nonetheless marginalized as Brazilian citizens through widespread social and political invisibility despite these apparent displays of masculinized power
