Colonial Continuities and Decoloniality in the French-Speaking World Sarah Arens, Nicola Frith, Jonathan Lewis, Rebekah Vince, 2024-02-06 This volume pays tribute to the work of Professor Kate Marsh 1974 2019 an outstanding scholar whose research covered an extraordinarily wide range of interests and approaches encompassing the history of empire literature politics and cultural production across the Francophone world from the eighteenth to the twenty first century Each of the chapters within engages with a different aspect of Marsh's interest in French colonialism and the entanglements of its complex afterlives whether it be her interest in the longevity of imperial rivalries loss and colonial nostalgia exoticism and the female body decolonization and the ends of empire the French colonial imagination the policing of racialized bodies or anti colonial activism and resistance As well as reflecting the geographical and intellectual breadth of Marsh's research the volume demonstrates how her work continues to resonate with emerging scholarship around decoloniality transcolonial mobilities and anti colonial resistance in the Francophone world From French India to Algeria and from the Caribbean to contemporary France this collection demonstrates the persistent relevance of Marsh's scholarship to the histories and legacies of empire while opening up conversations about its implications for decolonial approaches to imperial histories and the future of Francophone Postcolonial Studies

The Planetary Subaltern Somasree Sarkar, Agnibha Maity, 2025-09-30 This book initiates a dialogue between two discursive fields of study the Anthropocene and the Subaltern Studies It highlights communities that bear the brunt of climate precarity and planetary crises and examines critiques of the Anthropocene discourse for grossly overlooking the subaltern communities and failing to integrate their historiography The essays in the volume retrieve and amplify voices of subaltern communities amid planetary crises especially in India to set up new paradigms to engage and tackle the climate crises that confront our times This volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of South Asian studies literary criticism especially ecocriticism environmental studies and climate action A History of Virginia Literature Kevin J. Hayes, 2015-05-19 This History explores the development of literary culture in Virginia from the founding of Jamestown to the twenty first century Berserk

Violence, Racial Vengeance, and Settler Colonialism in American Writing from Franklin to Melville Edward Watts, 2025-06-30 Berserk Violence Racial Vengeance and Settler Colonialism in American Writing from Franklin to Melville studies the literary and cultural tradition of the Indian Hater in American writing from the decades between the Revolution and the Civil War In dozens of short stories novels poems plays and historical publications Indian Haters were white settlers on the western frontier who to kill all Indians to avenge the deaths of family members at the hands of a few As they engage their episodes in racial violence they attain transcendent racial powers based in traditions of historical white barbarism and the powers of the legendary berserker the crazed Nordic super warrior Indian Haters obsession with genocidal retribution reflected and participated in important conversations in the new nation about race violence nation and masculinity as well as the role of the emergent mass print culture in the distribution of propaganda disinformation and misrepresentation At the same time many authors used Indian Haters to represent the moral failure of the new nation profoundly critiquing its ambitions and assumptions Using theories and methods drawn from studies of settler colonialism nationalism media sociology trauma and literary history Edward Watts excavates dozens of long lost Indian Hater accounts as well as better known ones from Benjamin Franklin Charles Brockden Brown James Hall Robert Montgomery Bird and Herman Melville to tell the story of a story and how that story exposes the complex machinations of the role of print culture s interactions with the violence of settler colonialism Victorian Narratives of Failed Emigration Tamara S Wagner, 2016-05-26 In her study of the unsuccessful nineteenth century emigrant Tamara S Wagner argues that failed emigration and return drive nineteenth century writing in English in unexpected culturally revealing ways Wagner highlights the hitherto unexplored subgenre of anti emigration writing that emerged as an important counter current to a pervasive emigration propaganda machine that was pressing popular fiction into its service The exportation of characters at the end of a novel indisputably formed a convenient narrative solution that at once mirrored and exaggerated public policies about so called superfluous or redundant parts of society Yet the very convenience of such pat endings was increasingly called into question New starts overseas might not be so easily realizable emigration destinations failed to live up to the inflated promises of pro emigration rhetoric the unwanted might make a surprising reappearance Wagner juxtaposes representations of emigration in the works of Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Frances Trollope and Charlotte Yonge with Australian New Zealand and Canadian settler fiction by Elizabeth Murray Clara Cheeseman and Susanna Moodie offering a new literary history not just of nineteenth century migration but also of transoceanic exchanges and genre formation Edinburgh Companion to Fin de Siecle Literature, Culture and the Arts Josephine M. Guy, 2017-10-23 The late nineteenth century fin de si cle has proved an enduringly fascinating moment in literary and cultural history It is associated with the emergence of intriguing figures such as the new woman and uranian with contradictory impulses of decadence and decay on the one hand and of experiment and renewal on the other as well as with unprecedented intercultural exchange especially between Britain and France The 22 newly commissioned essays collected here re examine some of the key concepts taken to define the fin de si cle while also introducing hitherto overlooked cultural phenomena into the frame such as the importance of humanitarianism The impact of recent research in material culture is explored particularly how the history of the book and the history of performance culture is changing our understanding of this period A wide range of cultural activities is discussed from participation in avant garde theatre to interior decoration and from the writing of poetry to political and religious activism Together the essays provide new scholarly insights into British fin de si cle and enrich our understanding of this complex period while paying particular attention to the importance of regionalism Media, Place and Tourism Stijn Reijnders, Emiel Martens, Deborah Castro, Débora Póvoa, Apoorva Nanjangud, Rosa Schiavone, 2024-04-04 Accessible and interdisciplinary in nature this volume highlights the connections between media tourism and place bringing together the diverse perspectives approaches and actors involved in critical issues relating to media tourism worldwide This book explores new avenues adopting a global and transnational perspective and placing emphasis on the exploration analysis and comparison of cases from around the world Encompassing chapters from a plethora of experts the volume discusses processes and relationships of power involved in the development and experience of media tourism This book seeks to broaden the horizons of both the reader and existing academic research into media tourism by including research into among other topics Bollywood and Nollywood films Brazilian telenovelas and South Korean K pop culture Illustrated with tables and figures throughout the volume presents insights from a variety of strands of cutting edge and empirically rich research which are collated compared and contrasted to demonstrate the connections between media tourism and place around the world International in scope this book is an ideal companion for academics and scholars within a wide array of disciplines such as media studies tourism studies fan studies cultural geography and sociology as well as those with an interest in media tourism more specifically The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Ecospectrality Laura A. White, 2020-05-14 Along with humans and animals ghosts populate the pages of contemporary Anglophone novels Analysing novels from across the world including Australia Nigeria South Africa India and Jamaica this book explores how these ghosts can help readers to perceive difficult to visualise environmental threats and access marginalised environmental knowledge. Instead of prompting fear, these hauntings foster understanding across species and generations to enable inclusive formulations of environmental justice. Drawing on the latest work in postcolonial ecocriticism, hauntology and environmental philosophy, and such literary texts as GraceLand, No Telephone to Heaven, The Rock Alphabet and The Ministry of Utmost Happiness, Ecospectrality is an essential read for anyone working in the environmental humanities today. Settlers Vilhelm Moberg, 2001 Frontier Justice in the Novels of James Fenimore Cooper and Cormac McCarthy Daniel Davis Wood, 2016-06-22 James Fenimore Cooper and Cormac McCarthy are two of the most celebrated and influential writers of the American West. Both have written powerful narratives that focus on the disappearance of the nineteenth-century frontier and both show an interest in the dramatic ways in which the frontier gave shape to American culture. But is it possible that the kinship between these two writers extends beyond simply sharing an interest in this subject? Teasing out the implications of the recurrent allusions to Cooper's Leatherstocking Tales in the pages of McCarthy's Southwestern novels, this book finds Cooper and McCarthy engaged in a complex legal and ethical dialogue despite the centuries that separate their lives and their work. The result of their dialogue is a provocative, nuanced analysis of the effects of the frontier on the American justice system and, for both writers, an expression of alarm at the violation of the principles upon which the system was established.
