Celluloid Symphonies Julie Hubbert,2011-03-02 Celluloid Symphonies is a unique sourcebook of writings on music for film bringing together fifty three critical documents many previously inaccessible It includes essays by those who created the music Max Steiner Erich Korngold Jerry Goldsmith Elmer Bernstein and Howard Shore and outlines the major trends aesthetic choices technological innovations and commercial pressures that have shaped the relationship between music and film from 1896 to the present Julie Hubbert s introductory essays offer a stimulating overview of film history as well as critical context for the close study of these primary documents In identifying documents that form a written and aesthetic history for film music Celluloid Symphonies provides an astonishing resource for both film and music scholars and for students

After the Silents Michael Slowik,2014-10-21 Many believe Max Steiner s score for King Kong 1933 was the first important attempt at integrating background music into sound film but a closer look at the industry's early sound era 1926-1934 reveals a more extended and fascinating story. Viewing more than two hundred films from the period, Michael Slowik launches the first comprehensive study of a long neglected phase in Hollywood's initial development, recasting the history of film sound and its relationship to the Golden Age of film music. 1935-1950: Slowik follows filmmakers shifting combinations of sound and image, recapturing the volatility of this era and the variety of film music strategies that were tested, abandoned, and kept. He explores early film music experiments and accompaniment practices in opera, melodrama, musicals, radio, and silent films, and discusses the impact of the advent of synchronized dialogue. He concludes with a reassessment of King Kong and its groundbreaking approach to film music, challenging the film's place and importance in the timeline of sound achievement.

Bataille Fred Botting, Scott Wilson, 2001-04-04 One of the most profound thinkers of the twentieth century, Georges Bataille has only recently come to prominence in the Anglophone academy, partly through the influence of post-structuralism. Once seen as no more than a philosopher of eroticism and a writer of avant-garde pornography, Bataille is emerging as an absolutely central figure to discussions of culture, economy, subjectivity, and difference. Bataille is the first volume of its kind to offer lucid, diverse, and relevant examples of the ways of reading literary and cultural texts in the light of Bataille's work. The essays explore the significance of Bataillean notions like heterology, general economy, transgression, and eroticism through detailed readings of Shakespearean, Elizabethan, and Jacobean literature; in analyses of Gothic and postmodern fiction; and in critiques of popular culture, rock music, and Hollywood movies. In order to make Bataillean notions more comprehensible to contemporary readers, his concepts are situated in relation to the ideas of renowned critical and cultural theorists like Baudrillard, Deleuze, Derrida, Kristeva, Lacan, as well as Hegel, Freud, Nietzsche, and Marx. Here, the influence of Bataille is outlined in intellectual and historical terms, and the significance of his work can be seen for both contemporary and future modes of cultural analysis.

Unsettled Scores Sally Bick, 2019-12-20 The Hollywood careers of Aaron Copland and Hanns Eisler brought the composers and their high-art sensibility into direct conflict with the premier producer of America's potent mass culture. Drawn by Hollywood's potential to reach and edify the public, Copland and Eisler expertly wove sophisticated musical ideas into Hollywood, and each in their own distinctive way left an indelible mark on movie history. Sally Bick's dual study of Copland and Eisler pairs interpretations of their writings on film composing with a close examination of their first Hollywood projects: Copland's music for Of Mice and Men and Eisler's score for Hangmen. Also, Bick illuminates the different ways the composers treated a film score as a means of expressing their political ideas on society, capitalism, and the human condition. She also delves into Copland's and Eisler's often conflicted attempts to adapt their music to fit Hollywood's commercial demands, an enterprise that took place even as they wrote hostile critiques of the film industry.

Cosmopolitan Intimacies Adil Johan, 2018-05-31 The golden age of Malay film in the 1950s and 1960s was the product of a musical and cultural cosmopolitanism in the service of a nation-making process based on ideas of Malay ethnonationalism, initially fluid increasingly homogenised over time The commercial films of the period and in particular their film music from national cultural icons P Ramlee and Zubir Said remain important reference points for Malaysia and Singapore to this day This is the first in depth study of the film music of the period It brings together ethnomusicological and cultural studies perspectives Written in an engaging manner thoroughly illustrated and incorporating musical scores the book will appeal to dedicated film fans musicians composers and film makers interested in Southeast Asia and the Malay world But equally the conceptual framework will be of interest to a broad range of scholars of Southeast Asia as it brings together ideas of cosmopolitanism and cultural intimacy to narrate a history of nation making in the region Journey of a Believer Bob Reinsch,2023-12-05 A map almost ruined our honeymoon It was our second day of marriage and as we were driving up the Olympic Peninsula to Port Angeles I found it difficult to read the map and drive at the same time So I handed the map to my Debbie and asked her to tell me where to turn As a new believer I felt like Debbie Someone hands you a Bible and expects you to know how to read it Jesus had transformed me into a new creation but I was a baby who did childish things and needed a parent to nurture me along and stimulate my spiritual development I hope that in a way I can be that for you as you read the lessons I learned in my pursuit to be a follower of Christ such as learning to effectively tell people how Jesus changed my life becoming consistent in spending time alone with God letting prayer be a vital part of my life discovering what helps grow my faith finding an easy way to study the Bible and mastering sin in my life I thank my heavenly Father and Lord Jesus for my journey because with each lesson I have grown closer to Them As that intimacy deepens so does the longing to be with Them in heaven My prayer is that this will happen to you as I share my journey with you Film Music Peter Larsen,2007 Peter Larsen traces the history of music in film and discusses central theoretical questions concerning its narrative and psychological functions He looks in depth at film classics such as Howard Hawks s The Big Sleep and Hitchcock s North by Northwest as well as later blockbusters such as Star Wars and Bladerunner Magical Musical Tour Kevin J. pour l'chafaud A cinematic harbinger of the French New Wave Ascenseur challenged mainstream filmmaking conventions emphasizing experimentation and creative collaboration It was in this environment during the late 1950s to 1960s a brief golden age for jazz in film that many independent filmmakers valued improvisational techniques featuring soundtracks from such seminal figures as John Lewis Thelonious Monk and Duke Ellington But what of jazz in film today Improvising the Score Rethinking Modern Film Music through Jazz provides an original vivid investigation of innovative collaborations between renowned contemporary jazz artists and prominent independent filmmakers The book explores how these integrative jazz film productions challenge us to rethink the possibilities of cinematic music production In depth case studies include collaborations between Terence Blanchard and Spike Lee Malcolm X When the Levees Broke Dick Hyman and Woody Allen Hannah and Her Sisters Antonio Sanchez and Alejandro Gonzalez Iñárritu Birdman and Mark Isham and Alan Rudolph Afterglow The first book of its kind this study examines jazz artists work in film from a sociological perspective offering rich behind the scenes analyses of their unique collaborative relationships with filmmakers It investigates how jazz artists negotiate their own creative labor examining the tensions between improvisation and the conventionally highly regulated structures hierarchies and expectations of filmmaking Grounded in personal interviews and detailed film production analysis Improvising the Score illustrates the dynamic possibilities of integrative artistic collaborations between jazz film and other contemporary media exemplifying its ripeness for shaping and invigorating twenty first century arts media and culture

Sounding American Jennifer Fleeger, 2014-05-01 Sounding American Hollywood Opera and Jazz tells the story of the interaction between musical form film technology and ideas about race ethnicity and the nation during the American cinema's conversion to sound Contrary to most accepted narratives about the conversion which tend to explain the competition between the Hollywood studios film sound technologies in qualitative and economic terms this book argues that the battle between disc and film sound was waged primarily in an aesthetic realm Opera and jazz in particular though long neglected in studies of the film score were extremely important in defining the scope of the American soundtrack not only during the conversion but also once sound had been standardized Examining studio advertisements screenplays scores and the films themselves author Jennifer Fleeger concentrates on the interactions between musical form and film technology arguing that each of the major studios appropriated opera and jazz in a unique way in order to construct its own version of an ideal American voice Traditional histories of Hollywood film music have tended to concentrate on the unity of the score a model that assumes a passive spectator Sounding American claims that the classical Hollywood film is essentially an illustrated jazz opera with a musical structure that encourages an active form of listening and viewing in order to make sense of what is ultimately a fragmentary text

John Williams's Film Music Emilio Audissino, 2014-06-12 John Williams is one of the most renowned film composers in history He has penned unforgettable scores for Star Wars the Indiana Jones series E.T. the Extra Terrestrial Jaws Superman and countless other films Fans flock to his many concerts and with forty nine Academy Award nominations as of 2014 he is the second most Oscar nominated person after Walt Disney Yet despite such critical acclaim and prestige this is the first book in English on Williams s work and career Combining accessible writing with thorough scholarship and rigorous historical accounts with insightful readings John Williams s Film Music explores why Williams is so important to the history of film music Beginning with an overview of music from Hollywood s Golden Age 1933 58 Emilio Audissino traces the turning points of Williams s career and articulates how he revived the classical Hollywood musical style This book charts each landmark of this musical restoration with special attention to the scores for Jaws and Star Wars Williams s work as conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra and a full film music analysis of Raiders of the Lost Ark The result is a precise enlightening definition of Williams s neoclassicism and a grounded demonstration of his lasting importance for both his compositions and his historical role in restoring part of the Hollywood tradition Best Special Interest Books selected by the American Association of School Librarians Best Books for General Audiences selected by the Public Library Reviewers
