Seven Years Of My Life:

My Life Howard Anglin Palmer, 2021-12-06 For a boy growing up in Jamaica in the 1940s going to school was not a given Colonialism colourism and classism created educational barriers for anyone who wasn't rich or white But from these early struggles Howard Palmer devoted his career to education even earning a PhD This memoir covers the challenges and joys of Dr Palmer's life from his family and Jamaican upbringing his immigration to Canada in the 1960s his lifelong educational pursuits and raising his daughters after the tragic death of his wife He also shares his insightful research into how Ontario's educational system was failing Black boys findings that are sadly still relevant today By sharing his story Dr Palmer hopes to encourage readers to examine their own personal journeys and gain a deeper understanding of persisting against the odds My Life is a thorough honest and inspirational story of a Jamaican Canadian man overcoming obstacles through faith and determination

Reminiscences of My Life In Camp Suzie King Taylor, 2014-11-20 Suzie King Taylor made a remarkable journey from slavery to freedom through service with the first Black Civil War regiment to fight for freedom in America's history Written toward the end of her life her memories are not those of a battle veteran though she helped care for plenty of shattered bodies heard the guns and saw rebel soldiers at close range At risk to her life and freedom she served throughout the war as a teenaged nurse Assigned as a laundress she actually did very little laundering but instead played an important role in the care and spirits of Black soldiers and their white commanders Her depth of feeling about the past and her passionate hopes for the future bring her writing to life This is an important contribution to American history that is made available in this volume for the first time for e-readers Susie King Taylor 1848-1912 was an African American army nurse with the first Black Union troops during the Civil War She wrote the only memoir of an African American woman who had experience with combat troops She was also the first African American to teach in a school for former slaves in Georgia There is great beauty in some of the small details of Suzie King's recollections She briefly ponders in amazement her ability to acclimate to the horrors of war It seems strange how our aversion to seeing suffering is overcome in war how we are able to see the most sickening sights such as men with their limbs blown off and mangled by the deadly shells without a shudder and instead of turning away how we hurry to assist in alleviating their pain bind up their wounds and press the cool water to their parched lips with feelings only of sympathy and pity She also writes of her delight in becoming proficient at field stripping cleaning and shooting a musket Her final chapter is an eloquent plea for civil rights and a recognition that emancipation's promise was still a distant goal Every memoir of the American Civil War provides us with another view of the catastrophe that changed the country forever For the first time this long out of print volume is available as an affordable well formatted book for e-readers and smartphones Be sure to LOOK INSIDE by clicking the cover above or download a sample
